NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The official report upon the case of the King of Bavaria leaves no foom to doubt that he was insane.

is seriously ill but authenlic reports from Rome deny the truth of the rumors.

The clergy of the Archdiocese of Que bec have presented $11,000 to Cardinal pers of a crown. The nation at large is Tascheseau, and the laity of Quebec city $6,500, to enable him to bear the ex pences attached to the dignity conferred royalist-imperialists that the accession to upon him.

Late weather reports are somewhat more favorable than those of the past week. The wheat yield will probably be less than estimated in some sections, but the total will be a magnificent one unless some unusal meteorological disarrangement occurs just before harvest.

It has been said that if the Home Rule Bill had passed the Queen would veto it, or, that her influence would kill it in the Lords. Well, her influence does not seem to be very great. A Bill for legalizing marriage with Deceased Wife's Sister has been frequently introduced backed by the Queen, voted for by the Prince of Wales, yet it has always been rejected: Lately, the Duke of Argyle, whom one would suppose to be under Royal influence through his daughterin law so actively opposed the bill as to call forth enlogies of the Archbishop of Canterbury. The bill was rejected by a large majority.

A Tory member, Mr. Fisher, opposed the Home Rule bill on the grounds that if it passed, the ministers in the new Irish Parliament would be the Sheridans and O'Donovan Rossas. "He would remind the House that the county Tipperary had returned John Mitchell as a member of Parliament, he would ask the govern. ment what guarantee they had that ha would not be elected again." Mr. Fisher was surprised to learn that John Mitchell was dead.

Monsignor Renier, whose 'conversion to the 'Catholic Italian National Church' vict, being sentenced for six months by ald, who undaunted by the ignoble the Civil Tribunal for fraud; there was failure of his predecessors a woman in the question also. This is no Government to even make the Catholic Church. On the other hand ex Monsignor Savarese, who some time ago founded the Catholic Italian National Church' has again returned to the fold of the Catholic Church and made his retraction and humble submission.

Mr. Gladstone, in his Liverpool speech the other day, spoke these noble words:

"It was here that I first drew breath I have drawn it now 76 years, and the time is not distant when I shall pay my debt to nature, and these possibly are the last words I shall speak in Liverpool. I entreat you to resolve that the civilized world shall no longer assert that Ireland is England's Poland, and to determine that England shall no longer have a Poland. She has had it long enough. Listen to Providence, courage and honor. Ring out the old. ring in the new, ring out the notes of memory and discord, ring in the blessed reign of a time of peace.'

M. Brousse's scheme for the expulsion of the Comte de Paris, his son; Prince Napoleon, and Princ Victor, has been adopted and carried into effect by the French Chambers, one more proof of the hollowness of the professions of French Radicals when they pose as the friends of freedom. There has been no overt act on the part of the doomed Royalists to afford even a pretence for this persecution; but the extrems French taction are never satisfied until they crush all who dare to differ from them in opinion. M. de Freycinet, an ambitious and truckling politician, is at present swimming with tide. He will find that the hold on the poplar favour which is obtained by acceding to unjust measures is extremely feeble precarious.

Our readers will find in another col tive of the many advantages to be derived from the Catholic Men's Mutual Ben efit Association, a branch of which it is proposed to establish in this city. Its system of insurance is simple and com. prehensive and especially serviceable year. The reading matter of the to that class who find it inconvenient if NORTHWEST REVIEW is selected not impossible to patronize ordinary in surance companies; who charge more than double that of the C. M. B. A. and demand the annual installment in one payment. Those favorable to the formation of a branch of this excellent Cath trust our friends will help to increase the olic institution in this city, should give the article in question their serious attention. We are indebted to our esteemed friend Mr. F. Dorsey for this very timely article to which we refer

T. P. O'Connor in a letter to the New York Star, says: The London papers be gin to bristle with comments on the Queen's jubilee. She succeeded to the throne on June 20, 1737. The metro-The cable will have it that the Pope politan press are inclined to gush and slush over the matter, and despair of printing anything half strong, enough on a topic so delicious to the worship somewhat apathetic in the matter. It is unfort mate for the ultra-jingo-loyalut the throne did not occur anyear later. gratification of celebrating a double event—the accession of the Queen to the crown of England, and the resump tion by Ireland of the right of self-government.

> The first of July with Canadian is becoming more and more to be felt as a national teast, and rightly so. It is our natal day and all other celebrations should pale before it. The way in which it has been celebrated this year testity to that fact. The eloborate programme prepared by the citizens of Winnipeg was entered into with infinite zest and enjoyment by the multitudes who came to our city from the United States and surrounding country to participate in the celebration. To Ald. Campbell is due unqualified praise for the satisfactory and business like manner he brought the very extensive arrangements to so gratifying a result. He was the alpha and the omega of all the plans for the success of the affair and deserves well of the citizens. Those who supplemented Ald. Campbell's efforts are also deserving of praise.

FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

The Canadian Pacific Railway is com pleted and the world stands amazed. The gloomy prediction that ten years would not witness the completion of the road has been set at naught for the gigantic work has been accomplished in six and will ever stand as a monument testifying to the great genius and wondrous foresight of the Dominion Prewas recently announced, was first a con- mier, the Right Hon, Sir John McDonmerous advantages to the Dominion of a is it necessary to go into details of manthrough Canadian line, undertook the work which to day is crowned with success and accomplished more in the limited space of six years than could have is need for one and that it would be an been effected by hundreds of years of Departmental government. This affair tion. We hope the clergy and laity has naturally created the greatest interest in England. The London Standard, speaking of the route, says:-

"The Conadian Pacific Railway is political triumph and achievement, the possibilities of which no one can forsee. and the military advantage of which may yet be the saving of the Empire. It is the contribution of our Canadian brethren to the organization for the defence of the Empire. It is our duty to show the world that we fully understand its importance."

It is surely safe to say that no sane man, to day will condemn the present government for the aid given to the com pany which has won the lasting gratitude not only of the people of the North west but of the whole Dominion for the prompt completion of the road.

The Company has also promised to relieve the people from telegraph monopoly that now oppresses the country; a boon which will be fully appreciated by the people at large.

THE ANGLICAN SYNOD AND CARDI NAL TASCHEREAU. The letter of our Montreal correspon.

dent which will be found on page 5, will prove very interesting reading in view of the sweet scented phrases so copiously used by the press in alluding to the recent visit of the Anglican bishop to Cardinal Taschereau, The illustrious prelate of Quebec, being a true follower of the Divine founder of His Holy Church cares not for the empty, ostentatious praise of men but surely such fisgrant umn in this number an article discrip insincerity and hypocrisy on the part of these 'high church' as distinguished' from 'low dhurch' apostles as our correspondent brings to light must cause thinking Christians to blush. Indeed we would be sorry to think that all our separated friends were of the same mind It may be a matter of consolation to Bishop Bond that he is true to Anglican traditions but we doubt very much if his recent and unchristian behaviour will be commended except by the little coterie of Anglican "dignitaries" who accompanied him to Quetec in the hope of railroading through the legislature a bill. which would disgrace the sect in the eyes of the world and against which a very large portion of the convention protested. But the legislature did not take the bate, the bill was thrown out and of course no congratulations for Cardinal Tuschereau. So much for the broad, diberal and telerant spirit of our Anglican friends," as some of the daily papers put it.

INDECENT PICTURES

It would seem that some tradesmen are not content to attract public attention to their wares by the skillful arrangement of their wares in their store windows as most merchants are. The tobacconnist, for instance, makes a greater display of pictures, more or less indecent, than he does of tobacco, cigars, pipes or other smokers' paraphe. nalia

What connection there is between smoking and indecency it is difficult to see, but certain it is that immodest pictures have become as characteristic of the cigar vendor as the striped pole is of the barber shop. The dry goods merchant is satisfied to expose his dry goods, the boot maker his shoes, but the tobacco dealer exposes pictures of women more remarkable for their indelicacy than for any artistic merit

Those that we see exhibited in our shop windows every day, we feel certain come within the limits of the by law against this sort of thing and common decency demands that the law should be adhered to. The influence of these suggestive daubs on immature minds especially, cannot be otherwise than permicious. Chief Murray's duty in this matter must be plain.

A CATHOLIC SOCIETY.

The subject of forming an organiza tion for the better cohesion of Catholics which is being seriously discussed in this city comes before us at a very opportune time when so many matters are under notice requiring practical solution. The fact that we are in the minority is an additional reason why we should unite and plead from one common platform.

It has been seen that when we have organized in the past that our unity has invariably ceased in a very short time, But now is the time for the whole Catholic body to organize iu one society and make an impression on the public mind. The work that could be done by a thor oughly representative society is not tar aging such a society or of enumerating the many purposes it could be made to answer, but suffice it to say that there intellectual as well as a business institualike will turn their attention to this subject that an end may be put to that spirit of bigotry that worked so cruelly against many of our poor people last and preceding winters.

THE SCHOOLS.

The close of the school year in St. Mary's and the Immaculate Conception parishes was very satisfactory indeed to all concerned. Mr. Bernier Superintendent of Education spoke to the young pupils after a very servere examination and expressed himself as highly pleased with the work of the past year, which showed a marked improvement in every branch of study and hoped that the same evident desire on the part of the scholars to master their studies would be conspicuous in the future. After paying a high tribute to the sisters in charge of the school whom he said excelled in teaching, the Rev. Father Cherrier followed in the same congratulatory strain and testified to the close atttention of the pupils to study during the year, which he had witnesse i. He gave the scholars some very good suggestions for their behavior during vacation. The leading pupils were the Misses McCon. nell, McAllister, Leary, Livingstone, and Tobin, also Masters Shaw, McNamara,

. The closing exercises and distribution of prizes at St. Joseph's and St. Mary's schools took place respectively on Mon. day and Tuesday before a large attendance of parents and friends of the pu. pils. Fathers, Ouillette, Cabill. McCar. thy, and Messrs Bawlf, O'Connor, Quigley were also present as school trustees. Continued indisposition on the part of His Grace the Archbishop prevented him from being present which he very much regretted, as the Rev. Father Mc-Carthy explained. All who spoke expressed themselves as highly pleased with the progress made by the pupils and highly eulogized the Brothers in charge of the schools for the excellent moral and scholastic training imparted to the boys. We find it impossible to to give in full the prize list of both schools owing to pressure upon our spaces and the occurence of the national holiday. but hope to be in a position to give the list in detail in our next.

FARAZZI ELEGTED

Signor Achilla Farazzi, the bosom friend of Garibaldi, who sought election to the Italian Chamber of Deputies on a platform reconciliation with the Papacy, has been successful in one of the districts of Catanzaro, in Calabria, His opponent was a ministerial candidate, But his triumph was made sure by 6,500 votes.

Three constituencies invited h im to stand for their representative, and five hundred electors of Nicastro telegraphed to him that they accepted his program with anthusiasm.

All through Italy the idea of effecting peace with the Holy See is gaining adherents, and even the staunchest friends of the monarchy look longingly to ElDorado when Pope and King, each within his own territory; shall co operate for the prosperity of their common country.-Catholic Columbian

HOIST WITH HIS OWN PETARD

The 'Freeman's Journal' relates as follows how a Tory attempt to hoax an Irish member met with a ridiculous collapse: Our readers are aware that from time to time very unpleasant consequen ces follow from putting one's letlers into the wrong envelopes. We do not re. member to have heard a more amusing care than the following- Last week a Dublin Orangeman hit upon the brilliant idea of laying a trap for Sir Thomas Es. monde the representative of the South. ern Division of the county. The manner in which he intended to execute this achievement is best described in his own words, which we give underneath. As will be seen, it was to get Sir Thomas to ask a bogus question in Parliament. Part of his plot was to write to Major Saunderson, apprising him of what he had done, and asking him to be on the lookout for the question when Sir Thomas Esmonde asked it so as to be able to annihiliate him with the ridicule of the house. Untortunately for himself he put Sir Thomas' letter into the envelope intended for Major Saunderson, and Major Saunderson's letter into the one selves for Examination, No fee charge intended for Sir Thomas, with the result | able for the same that the popular young member for South Dublin was highly amused a few uncommon character of 'converts' from beginning and seeing the great and nu- to seek, it easily suggests itself. Nor days ago at the receipt of the following St. Boniface June 15, 1836, communication, which we give verbatim; 22 Longs Place, Dublin W. June 8.

Major Saunderson.

Dear Sir,—I have by this post written to Sir Thomas Esmonde giving him, particulars as to the case of great nardship in which a landlard named Aylward, of 149 Rathgar road set the house No 2 Homeville, Rathmines, to a tennant named Davis-terms, rent payable quarterly in advance: the quarter expired on a certain night at 12 o'clock, and the baliffs were in the next morning a few minutes after eight to demand the next quarters rent and if not paid to hurl Davis out. I gave him all the facts ex. actly as they happened. I saw the re ceipt for the rent signed by the head bailiff, etc, etc Davis had not sufficient cash in the house to meet the demand, and was obliged to borrow of a visitor to prevent his furniture being removed; floats being at the door etc.

I forgot, however, to inform him that Alyward is a Nationalist and Roman Catholic, and that Davis is a Conservative but not a Protestant, he is a Jew-

If Sir Thomas or any one for him asks a question relative to the matter in the House of Commons you might ask a supplemental question asking if the landlord is a 'pronounced Nationalist" and the tenant's pronounced Conservative. I am, dear sir, yours faithfully,

J. M. Jones, (1,004).

P. S.—Fearing Sir Thomas might "smell a rat" I spelt Aylward's name Aylard and Davis Davies, dated my letter from Fathgar avenue, and signed it D. Keegan. J. M. J.
