

Assistant Deputy Minister
Economic and Trade Policy

Ms. Louise Fréchette

- General responsibility for promoting an international framework of trade and economic policies and rules responsive to Canada's political and economic objectives and for coordinating Canada's international economic relations.
- Activities include:
 - designing and implementing policies aimed at protecting and advancing Canada's international economic, trade and aid interests;
 - contributing to the formulation of Canada's domestic economic and trade policies;
 - ensuring that international economic, trade and payment systems remain responsive to Canadian interests, and in this regard, coordinating Canada's involvement in international trade and economic institutions and multilateral organizations;
 - acting to ensure that Canada's aid policy is consistent with other dimensions of Canadian foreign policy;
 - developing and implementing Canada's policies on strategic and military export controls, nuclear export and non-proliferation policies, and safeguard measures with respect to imports of sensitive products such as textiles and footwear; and
 - administering the Export and Import Permits Act.

Assistant Deputy Minister
Political and International Security Affairs

Mr. Jeremy K. B. Kinsman

- General responsibility for the development of Canadian foreign policy in the areas of defence relations and international security issues, arms control and disarmament, détente, democratic development, human rights, social affairs, women's equality, terrorism, drugs, and other related issues, and for the coordination of Canada's international political and security relations.
