

Motion agreed to, bill read the first and second times, and the house went into committee thereon, Mr. Faulkner in the chair.

On clause 2—

Mr. MacInnis (Cape Breton-East Richmond): Mr. Chairman, might we have an explanation of this from the President of the Privy Council.

The Chairman: It is my understanding that there is no debate allowed at this point.

Mr. MacInnis: On a point of order, Mr. Chairman; I fully understand that the Prime Minister refuses to allow ministers to come into the house, but I now see a minister refused the opportunity to speak when he rises to his feet.

Clause agreed to.

Clauses 3 to 6 inclusive agreed to.

Clause 1 agreed to.

Schedules A and B agreed to.

Mr. Bell: Mr. Chairman, while you are contemplating, I should just like to ask whether this is not a new record of western democracy so far as billions of dollars being spent?

An hon. Member: A million a minute.

Bill reported.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: When shall the said bill be read a third time?

Some hon. Members: Now.

Mr. Drury moved the third reading of the bill.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: Is it the pleasure of the house to adopt the motion?

Mr. Baldwin: On division.

Motion agreed to and bill read the third time and passed.

BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE

Mr. Baldwin: Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the President of the Privy Council what business we will be conducting tomorrow, and when he proposes to introduce the bill dealing with the anti-dumping legislation?

Mr. Macdonald (Rosedale): Yes, Mr. Speaker. We will be dealing with the first two items under the name of the hon. member for Grenville-Carleton, firstly the motion for concurrence in the fourth report of the special committee on procedure of the house. I expect that the bill on anti-dumping will be considered during the course of this week and that the government will be ready for final approval. We will have to consider the matters under the ways and means resolution preceding it. The exact time in that regard will depend on the time it takes to conclude the procedure committee report.

Mr. Speaker, I move that the house do now adjourn.

Motion agreed to and the house adjourned at 10.40 p.m.
