The 1992-93 Main Menu

The 1992-93 Main Menu is a comprehensive document that outlines the government's plans for the coming year. It covers a wide range of issues, including agriculture, industry, and social services. The document is organized into several sections, each focusing on a different area of the economy. The first section discusses the government's overall economic strategy, while the second section focuses on agriculture. The third section discusses industry, and the fourth section discusses social services. The document is a key resource for anyone interested in the government's economic plans.
