IT TAKES TIME

to make selections in a bookstore. You can buy groceries and other necessities off-hand, but when you go to buy a book it is not so easy to decide upon what you want. It is not pleasant either to have a clerk follow you around pressing you to buy. We know it is not possible to sell goods unless you know what we have to offer, so it is at all times a pleasure to us to have any who are interested in books come into our store to look through the stock. Whether they wish to buy or not they may possibly see something to interest. We have lots of room and it is no trouble to show goods.
