Many of the best writers that Canada has produced are now contributing to MACLEAN'S MAGAZINE. As a result of the efforts made to secure the best work of the biggest writers, the September Maclean's now on sale. contains a number of outstanding features, including:

The Lot of the Schoolmaster.

by Professor Leacock, at his best -which is high praise indeed. The first of a new series by STEPHEN LEACOCK, the modern master of smiles.

"Is the End of the War in Sight?"

a powerful article on the financial phases of the war situation by Agnes C. Laut, the greatest of Canadian business writers and a "head-liner" with leading American publications.

Where a Man Can Hold Up His Head.

by ALAN SULLIVAN, the best war story yet written. This is a classic in sheer power of description, a story that will live. It perhaps derives some of its etrength from the fact that it is based on actual fact.

A new love story by L. M. MONT-GOMERY, and a breezy sketch by H. F. GADSBY, are two more features out of thirty. In fact, the very best Canadian writers all in one issue.
