TRAINED TEACHER FOR EVERY SCHOOL

What New Education
Faculty May Accomplish—Toronto's Aid Appreciated.

"The University of Toronto should be in the very closest touch with the schools of the province," declared Dr. Falconer at the formal inauguration of the new faculty of education in convocation hall yesterday afternoon. "And one cannot help regarding as one of the most important new developments of this university, the establishment of this new faculty, in which teachers will be trained in the practice of their profession. In the university itself, we look forward to this connection as being of the utmost value, not only for the university, but also for the schools, and we trust and believe, that the schools of the province will hail with satisfaction this intimate relationship, which is being inaugurated here this afternoon."

"We are seeking to do what we can towards the upbuilding of this province, and until the public recognizes the primary importance of the teacher, our civilization, and our educational progress cannot be at all what it ought to be."
"We have over and over again treated the teacher shamefully, and I do not think that in the country, or even in the city itself, the great importance of the teacher to this country at large has been very properly recognized, which is proven by the measure of respect we show to those who are entering into the daily training of our children, and our children are certainly our greatest treasures."

Aid for University.
Hon. J. P. Whitney said that the occasion which particularly drew his attention to the needs of the university was the fire (in 1910), which, as had been already remarked, had perhaps proved to be a blessing in disguise. He was then a member of the legislature and upon leaving carried into the subject, he found that the university was an asset of the province, which, like their other assets, ought either to be utilized, or set aside. This was the keynote of their action out of office, as well as in office, from that day down to the present. (Applause.)

Some six years ago he had taken up this subject a definite position, which was placed in the house, and this policy they had since endeavored to carry into effect. In 1904 the amount voted by the legislature for public aid to the university was $510,000; in 1907 it was $900,000. (Applause.) In 1904 the University of Toronto was voted $148,700; in 1907 it was voted $35,000. He was not claiming any particular credit to himself in this connection, except this, that he and his colleagues had correctly gauged the true feeling of the Province of Ontario in regard to this important question.

Toronto Has Helped.
The premier said he further desired publicly to acknowledge the sympathetic generous showing by the Toronto Board of Education, in the use of the city's public school plant, and for practice. (Applause.) He also looked forward to still closer relations with the board of education of this city. (Applause.)
"When the time comes," concluded Premier Whitney, "for me to retire to private life I can by no possibility will afford me any recollection that I have not the same satisfaction and the same honor as the small part which I have been permitted to take in improving the condition and prospects of the university of the people of Ontario." (Loud applause.)
Hon. Dr. Payne said that the policy of the government, in so far as education was concerned, was not to revolutionize but to build up; and not to down, but to strengthen in every possible the educational system of the province. (Applause.) He hoped

WINNIPEG, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Following the arbitrary action of the C. F. R. in raising rates from the lakes to the coast on ten hours' notice, two hundred per cent. in order to forestall The Canadian Daily Newspaper Publishers, who have organized an Associated Press. The Free Press today publishes a two-column editorial demanding that the railway commission be given authority to deal with this, the meanest and most powerful monopoly in Canada.

WHAT'S THE COST OF COAL?
WE ALL WOULD LIKE TO KNOW

Coal is one of the real necessities of life. The price of coal affects every household in Toronto, and an increase of even half a dollar a ton is a serious item in purchasing the winter's supply. Within the last five years coal has advanced in price fully 33 1-3 per cent. It is now selling at $7.25 a ton CASH.

THE BISHOP'S CONCEPTION OF THE CHURCH

Above All, Must Be Un-worldly in Itself--He Scores New Theology--Message of Salvation.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 2.—In a sermon in Holy Trinity Church during the celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of Anglican Christianity in America, the Right Rev. Arthur Foley Winnington-Ingram, Lord Bishop of London, gave his idea of the characteristics which the church that shall dominate the future must possess. He said, in part:
"First, undoubtedly, the future can only belong to a church which believes not only in the forth-coming, energizing and active love of God, but which forbids that I should deny the difficulties which surround a belief in the love of God, or ignore the stern side of the New Testament, but no church will save the world, and especially these thousand millions who have not yet had a chance of making up their minds as to the truth of the Christianity, except a church that believes in great claims and lives out the love of God to every child that he has made."
"Message of Salvation."
"And with God's help, the love of God must go what we call in England the message of a free salvation. It may be that in the past we may have allowed a legalising spirit to creep over the church, but to-day high church and low church vie in England to preach a gospel of a free salvation that the eternal Son of God came into this world and give Himself for his brethren, that the Christian religion does not consist in a belief in a good man named Jesus Christ, dying on the cross, but consists in a belief in the sacrifice of God Himself."
"Scores the New Theology."
"I have no means of knowing the trend of religious thought in the United States, but from my experience of it, I believe that the new theology, which lies with no church which sinks to what is called the new theology. "God forbid we should say a word against any individual man who believes as much as he can of the Christian creed, but what we must beware of on both sides of the Atlantic is losing the power of our message by trying to make it easier to be believed."
"The church of the future must undoubtedly possess a new vitality, and the historic sacraments which you possess in the church of America to-day: 'Hold fast that thou hast, that no man take thy crown.'"
"But, after all is said and done, the most evangelical, the most catholic, the most orthodox church on earth, will produce no effect upon the world if it has not still one further characteristic. It must clearly and unmistakably, and before all the world, be unworshipful itself."
"Bear with me, then, when I say, as my last word, that the greatest danger to the church on both sides of the Atlantic is worldliness."
"In one sense, it is impossible for the church to mix too freely with the world. In the slums of East London, into the business of Wall-street, into the mining camps at Klondyke, the church must go, and no human interest in the world is outside the interest of the church."
"Kingdom Not of This World."
"But on the other hand, to run a church as a man runs a successful business, to depend upon cleverness and management, rather than the grace of God to enlighten and to inter-cession in favor of influence with the press, to lower the teaching of the church or its moral standard in order to suit a self-indulgent age, is to spell ruin and failure, and shame for the most orthodox church in the world. In a voice which still rings down the centuries, Jesus Christ Himself proclaimed: 'My kingdom is not of this world.'"

"TOUCHED" U.S. CONSUL
Someone Knew the Combination; Got Two Hundred Dollars.
OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—A mysterious affair occurred Monday night last at the residence of Hon. John G. Foster, the American consul-general, who lives at 297 O'Connor-street.
A safe was opened by someone who managed to work the combination successfully, and it is said $200 in cash is missing. There is no clue.
COMMISSION IS BUSY.
OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—It is not expected that the railway commission will may-out any program this week or set any cases down for hearing, as there is a great deal of work to dispose of before new cases can be very well heard.

THEATRES ON SHIPBOARD.
Cunard Steamship Company Considering Frohman Offer.
LIVERPOOL, Oct. 2.—It was announced to-day that the Cunard S.S. Co. had accepted the offer of Charles Frohman to give theatrical performances on the big liners, by regular players who for the time being may be travelling to and from the United States and England. The company is now planning specially designed halls for plays and concerts on board three of the ships of the line.
Other trans-Atlantic line companies are considering Mr. Frohman's proposition.

SILK HAT ASSOCIATIONS.
There is an undoubted suggestion of stability associated with the silk hat, and it re-appears on the many occasions when it is proper for a man to wear a silk hat would be out of place entirely in any other headwear. Every little helps the business man, and his personal appearance is something he will always be careful about. Dineen's, the hatters, at Yonge and Temperance-streets, are headquarters for silk hats, and they have the newest styles of the most famous makers. The prices range from $5 to $8, and it is always safest to get your silk hat at Dineen's.
