SHOULD AMEND LABOR ACT IN JUSTICE TO EMPLOYES

Unequal Conditions Imposed n the C. P.R. Mechanics in Recent Strike Should Be Improved.

ottawa, Feb. 5.—(Special).—In committee of supply this afternoon, there was a lively discussion on the Lemieux Compulsory Investigation Act. F. D. Monk (Jacques Cartier) reterred to some complaints by labor bodies, and asked if it was the intention of the government to make any amendments to the act this year. Mr. Lemieux said the C.P.R. employes had made application to have the act amended, but it was not the intertion to make any change. intention to make any change. He thought the act was quite satisfactory time that labor men would apwas that if the company desired a reduction of wages, it would have to call for an arbitration w. F. Maclean (C.

F. Maclean (South York) put the view as he had learned it from enstituency, where there are a large had said that if they are dissatisfied with their conditions before they could trike they must ask for a board and the they must ask for a soard and them, if they refused to accept the idecision of the board, they were charged with bad faith. They still had the right to strike and it might have been their intention from the first to strike, yet they were misrepresented by the public as men first asking for an arbipublic as men first asking for an arbitration and then refusing to abide by the Some way must be found to better their position, for, while the minister bad said that the act must be tried out and receive further consideration, he was convinced that the railway employes all over the country were enployes all over the country were dissatisfied with the act in this respect and contended that it was unjust to them. Especially severe was the criticism of The Montreal Gazette that they had asked for a board and then refused to abide by its decision, and refused to abide by its decision, and the minister should find a way to im-

The men also urged that if an employer proposed to change the rate of wages or other conditions he ought to be compelled to ask for a board like. That perhaps would be putting the toot on the other foot. The men had a substantial grievance and the minister had not heard the last of it. Some protection must be given against the unfair insinuation recently made that when they asked for a board they were not willing to abide by its decision. They could not help asking for a board and they did not want their a board and they did not want their right to strike to be taken away.

Martin Burrell (Yale-Cariboo)strongly endorsed the view expressed by Mr.
Maclean. The men were at a decided disadvantage, as the act took the edge

PLAYGROUNDS ASSOCIATION. Moss Park is Wanted for Supervised Recreation Purposes.

Despite the opposition advanced by the civic parks committee to converting Moss Park into a supervised playground, the Toronto Playgrounds As-sociation decided at the annual meet-ing yesterday to hold out for this site. The association first gave careful consideration to the alternative suggestions that the northern part of Stanley Park, Jesse Ketchum Park or St. Andrew's Market be selected.

School Inspector Hughes said that play was essential to the proper formaas essential to the proper forma-children's character; that they should also be given opportunities to create things, and should also be en-couraged in gardening. In all these repects, country children had advan-The secretary reported an expendi
