ANGLIN-CARMAN.

Holme Oak, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Eaton, was the scene of a wedding on Wednesday evening, when their sister, Miss Helen Cecelia Car-man, was marired to Mr. Sidney E. Anglin, C.E.F. Rev. Dr. James Henderson, assisted by Rev. R. W. Anglin, Windassisted by Rev. R. W. Angin, Windson, N.S., brother of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony. The event took place in the drawing-room, which was a bower of Ward roses and ferns. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Geo. F. Carman, to the strains of the orchestra stationed in the music-room above. She looked lovely in her wedding gown of ivory faille with court train of satin failing from the shoulders. The skirt was draped over a petticoat of Limerick face, and she wore a tulle veil with crange blossoms. The bridesmaids were tiss Evelyn Carman and Miss Irene Lloyd, in gowns of maize chiffon, taf-feta and lace. Little Misses Mildred Eaton and Georgina Carman acted as flower girls. The bridegroom was supported by Dr. H. K. Detweiler, Toronto University, and during the signing of the register, Miss Isobel McGee sang "All Mine Alone," most effectively. Mrs. Eaton wearing a gown of green crepe veiled with black Chantilly lace, afterwards received the guests in the billiard-room, which was artistically decorated with roses, daffodils and The bride's mother, Mrs. Carman, received with her, wearing black charmeuse with Maltese lace. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Anglin left for Montreal and New York. The

The engagement of Miss Marjorie Smith, Moncton, N.B., to Mr. Cowe, New York, recently announced, is of interest to people in Toronto. In her school days Miss Smith attended Havergal College, and since then has paid occasional visit in town, staying with Mrs. Vandersmissen, Mrs. Jephcott, and Miss Ridout.

Mrs. McCordick is in town for a few days from St. Catharines.

DANCING ACADEMY Ladies and gentlemen who imagine that a few attempts made in private and under the supervision of par-ents or friends will enable them to ents or friends will enable them to appear with success in society, great-ly deceive themselves, and we are not prompted solely by professional in-terest in saying that the instruction and advice of a master are not only useful, but absolutely necessary. It is a master's duty to point out to his pupils the steps and attitudes they should acquire, to remark such steps as may be imperfect, when the lady's as may be imperfect, when the lady's unduly upon her partner's arm, throws herself back too much, or any other defect which, if not amended at the outset may subsequently become remediable.

There are many things to learn in order to become a good dancer. Things that can be gained only by constant practice—practice in the dancing school

THOMSON-MADILL.

A very quiet marriage was solemnized in St. Alban's Cathedral on New Rear's Day, when Miss Fern Madill, only daughter of Mr. R. J. Madill, South Haven, Mich., was married to Mr. Arthur George Thomson, son of Mr. David Thomson, Toronto. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon McNab, and the bride was given away by her uncle, the Rev. A. S. Madill, assistant, St. John's Church, Norway. The bride wore a blue traveling dress and black velvet hat, with white osprey. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Thomson left guests present numbered about eighty. to spend their honeymoon in New York and other eastern cities.

EAYRS-SHIPSIDES.

The marriage took place on Saturday, the 8th inst., of Nora Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Shipsides, 27 Kenilworth crescent, to Mr. Hugh S. Eayrs, eldest son of Rev. George Eayrs, F.R. Hist. S., and Mrs. Eayrs, Downham, Norfolk, England. The Rev. J. W. Pedley officiated at the wedding, which took place at the home of the bride, who wore a white satin gown, veiled with ninon, and carried a bouquet of lillies and roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Shipsides, wore a blue crepe gown, trimmed with old point lace. The groom was attended by Mr. S. H. Bleakley, and Mr. Reginald Frost played Grieg's "Wedding March." After the ceremony, Mrs. Shipsides, who had her house decorated with Killarney roses, held a re-ception for about twenty-five intimate friends and relations. Later Mr. and Mrs. Eayrs left for Cleveland. The ridegroom is well known among the younger writers of Canada.

The wedding celebrated at Folkestone between Capt. Lawrence V. M. Costrave, adjutant of the 6th Howitzer Brigade, and Miss Beatrice Humter Jones, both of Toronto, was marked by unique features. Escorted by the brigade officers, the bridegroom rode to the church on a gun carriage, handcuffed to Lieut, Kilgour, his best man. During the ceremony the six black horses attached to the gun carriage were replaced by grays, and the couple, after leaving the church under an arch of swords, drove away on the gun carriage. The marriage proposal was made in a letter written from a dug-out at Festubert, and the affirmative answer was received by Capt. Cosgrave in a dug-out in "Plug street." Gen. Morrison gave away the bride, who had just arrived from Canada. Capt. Cosgrave is the son of Mr. Lawrence Cosgrave of Toronto.

DON'T FORGET

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Troyer and their family, who have been visiting their parents in Toronto, have returned to their home in Cleveland.

The marriage of Miss Mary L. Gunther to Mr. Eugene A. Georger, Buffalo, took place quietly in Trinity Church, New York, on Monday, Jan. 10. The bride was given away by her brother, Mrs. Reinhold E. Gunther. Mrs. Duncan Anderson and Dr. Wishart were present.

At the house of the bride's parents, 39 First avenue, a large party of relations and friends gathered to welcome Mr. G. Sparks and Mrs. Sparks (formerly Miss I korence Mae Brown) home from their honeymoon trip to Buffalo and Syracuse. Mrs. Sparks looked charming, wearing a green brocaded silk dress; trimmed with sold lace and mink. Among the friends who welcomed her were: Miss Bertika-Pickering, her bridesmadd; Mr. B. Hartley, Buffalo, the groomsman, was also present. After supper was served the bride and bridegroom departed for their new home. The rest of the evening was spent in music and dancing.

Mrs. Tom Anderson, formerly Miss Marjorie Horrocks, received on Monday afternoon with her mother Mrs. Cecil Horrocks, for the first time since her marriage, when she was looking very pretty in a frock of tillied silk, with coreage and sleeves of white chiffon, embroidered with the green of the silk, and a corsage bouquet of lilies and violets. Mrs. Horrocks wore a very smart gown of steel taffeta with lace and diamonds, Mrs. Anderson, who also received, wore a handsome black gown trimmed with jet. The large old fashioned rooms in Winchester street looked very comfortable with a bright fire and lots of flowers. Tea was served in the room opening off the drawing-room, where the table was centred with a cut glass and gold bowl of daffodils, surrounded with tulle, Mrs. P. Horrocks and Mrs. George Ball pouring out the tea and coffee, assisted by Miss Audrey Horrocks, in a blue taffeta gown, Mrs. Bragg, Miss Mary Logie, Miss Alloe Burritt.
