Russian Drive Continues

Gaining momentum as it moves westward the great Russian drive along the Dniester in Galicia continues successfully. The fighting is progressing on a fifty mile front from Hailas to the foothills of the Carpathians and all along the line the Russians are advancing.

Northwest of Hailas on Thursday the Russians enlarged their gains north of the Dniester, capturing important heights between the river and Bukowina, and occupied two villages. This advance is in the direction of Lemberg.

In the centre and on the southern end of the line the Russians have been victorious in heavy battles for the possession of the crossings of the river Lomna. They have made progress on the road to Dolina and have captured the crossings of the Lomna at Perekhino, about fifteen miles south of Kalus, and four miles west of Bohorodany.

A probable resumption of heavy fighting on the western front north of the Pripyet marshes and in Rumania is indicated. On the Drina and Sava rivers and near Smorgon, north of Pinsk, there has been more active infantry fighting. No determined attack, however, has yet developed.

The Russian advance west of Stanislas besides endangering the Austro-German line immediately south in Galicia, also is a threat against the line in Rumania. The Russian and Rumanian artillery has been hammering the Teutonic positions there in the past few days and already advance parties have been thrown forward to test the enemy's strength. No attack in force has been reported.

Italian Guns Find Mark.

London, July 13.—The official statement issued today by the Italian war office reads:

"There was considerable artillery activity yesterday. Our guns dispersed infantry columns on the march from Pizzato Pedrazzo in the Terragnolo Valley and wagon movement in the Idria Valley. At Specchiello, in the Valais, one of our hospitals, though bearing the Geneva Cross, was shelled repeatedly by the enemy.

"One of our patrols on Montefiore, in the Upper Cordovado district, raided an enemy post and put the garrison to flight. Another patrol, reconnoitering south of Castagnolezza, brought back two enemy trench mortars.

Claim Gain at Verdun.

Berlin, July 13.—The official statement issued today by the German war office reads:

"Western front: Artillery duel was intense in several sectors of the Flanders and Artois fronts. Enemy thrusts east of Neuport, southeast of Ypres, near Hulluch and south of the Yser were repulsed.

"Front of the German Crown Prince: The fighting activity of the artillery in the western Champagne increased considerably and in the evening the firing on the left bank of the Meuse reached great intensity. At Hill No. 804 storming troops in a dash charge captured the trenches which the enemy had recaptured on July 8. Some of the occupants were killed and the remainder made prisoners. The positions won by us on July 10 over a width of four kilometres, including their forward line, thereby is again completely in our hands.

"Eastern front: On the Drina, near Smorgon, and on the Sava, there was spirited fighting, and also west of Lutsk there was a temporary revival of activity in consequence of our reconnoitering thrusts. Russian attacks south of the Dniester at several places on the Lomna line were repulsed.

"Rumanian front: Enemy reconnoitering detachments pressed forward toward our positions at several places after heavy artillery preparations. They were repulsed everywhere.

"Macedonian front: East of the Nidze Planina a successful Bulgarian thrust dispersed local counter-attacks, which failed, with heavy losses."

German Reichstag on Strike

Copenhagen, July 13.—Serious news came from Berlin late today. The Reichstag has gone on strike and the members have decided to suspend the labors of the full house and the main committee until the political situation is cleared up. This leaves ten war criminals in the hands of the government.

Emperor Wilhelm has summoned Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, chief of the general staff, and General Ludendorff, the chief quartermaster general, for a conference.

This news should be interpreted in connection with intimations that the German government has decided to refuse to parliamentarize the cabinet and the difficulties reported in connection with the adoption of a peace resolution.

Swears To The Similarity Of Hoof Prints

The case against Joseph O'Brien and John Hughes, being tried on suspicion of setting fire to the summer house of William J. Crawford, in the Loch Lomond road, was continued yesterday before Chief Justice McKenna. The chief matter of interest during the session had to do with the marks of horse shoes found at the scene of the fire. The evidence, according to the evidence of County Policeman Saunders, tallied exactly with the shoes of the mare Kitty, which had been hired at Frank Donnelly's stable on the night of the fire, by the defendants.

At the afternoon session Mrs. McAleer of the Three Mile House, was called, but was not present. Mrs. McAleer was in court on the previous day. The attorney-general asked that a bench warrant be issued.

James Convey was also called and did not respond.

The first witness of the afternoon was Frank Donnelly, who claimed the prisoners hired the horse. His evidence was along the line of that given at the preliminary examination.

County Policeman's Story.

Anthony Profit was then called to the stand. His evidence had to do with the shoeing of the mare Kitty which he saw being done by the defendants. He saw similar hoof marks on the fire. Mr. Profit produced two horse shoes in court made along the line of the shoeing of the mare Kitty. He had followed up the case the next day and as a result of inquiries among local livery men he had gone out next day to Mr. Lyden's house in the Loch Lomond road. There he saw the marks of a rubber tired buggy and shoe prints similar to those he had found at the scene of the fire. The tire marks had run for a distance of fifteen or twenty yards.

The next day he visited Donnelly's barn and asked to see the mare Kitty. He took the measurements of her hoofs and found that they corresponded to the measurements of the impressions he had found at the scene of the fire and the tire house. The peculiar hind hoof mark, the impression of which he had found at the scene of the fire, was found on the hind shoe of the horse at Donnelly's.

Four days later he had returned to Donnelly's stable, and again examining the hoofs of Kitty, remarked, "These shoes have been changed." There were "two left on the right hoof" and it looked to him as if they had been picked up and stuck on there. The witness was cross-examined at length by the attorney-general as to the measurements and the various details of the matter he had looked into.

One Hoof Smaller Than Others.

The witness said that he had had considerable experience with horses, and that it was very exceptional to find a hoof print of the nature of the one he had described. The witness said he had owned a 1,400 pound horse, one hoof of which was much smaller than the other. It was nearly 5 o'clock when the attorney-general had completed his examination and court adjourned until Monday morning at 10 o'clock, when Mr. Sinclair will take the witness in hand.

His honor said the case is an important one. In some cases it is not permitted for the jury to disperse, but the practice of the local court is not to sit on Saturday, and this is a case in which the jury must be kept together. He said that he was safe in asking the jury-men not to discuss the case with any one in the interim and not to listen to any argument, if advanced by friends of either side. The court then adjourned.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the hot weather. Stomach troubles, cholera, infantile diarrhea carry off thousands of little ones every summer, in most cases because their mothers do not have a safe medicine at hand to give promptly. Baby's Own Tablets cure these troubles, or if given occasionally to the well child will prevent their coming on. The Tablets are guaranteed by a government analyst to be absolutely harmless even to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the stomach, keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A TORY PRAYER.

(From the Brantford Recorder.)

There is hope for the Toronto News. It concludes a Confederation editorial with the prayer, "God give us wisdom and sanity." The latter is sorely needed just now by a number of other Conservative editors in Ontario, who, depicting French-Canadian disaffection as driving the dividing wedge of distrust deeper and deeper between the two races by their bitter partisan attacks on Sir Wilfrid Laurier and French-Canadianism. The Ontario Tories have long followed flag waving in attempts to inflame the mind of this province against our much loved Premier against Laurier. They made a compact with the Nationalists whereby the latter carried on an infamous campaign in the lower province against the Liberal chief, in Quebec he was represented as a traitor to his race and religion and held up to ridicule. In Ontario he was vilified in terms of falsehoods by the partners and pals of Bonanza and his ilk. There is no man in Canada who has taken a stronger imperial stand than Laurier. Should the Brantford editorial appear to the people the verdict will be overwhelmingly for Laurier, the true Imperialist.

Battleship Blows Up And 800 Lose Lives

London, July 13.—The British battleship Vanguard blew up and sank on July 9, says an official statement issued tonight by the British admiralty.

An internal explosion while the ship was at anchor caused the disaster to the Vanguard. Only three men of about 800 men on board survived and one of them has since died. Twenty-four officers and seventy-one men of the full complement, however, were not on board at the time of the explosion.

"A full inquiry has been ordered," the statement continues. "The British battleship Vanguard displaced 19,200 tons and her complement before the war was 870 men. The Vanguard belonged to the St. Vincent class of dreadnoughts and was launched in March, 1909. The Vanguard was 331 feet long with a beam of 34 feet and a draft of 27 feet. Her armament consisted of ten 12-inch guns, eighteen four-inch and four three-pounders in addition to six torpedoes tubes.

Paris, July 12.—Three French merchantmen of more than 1,000 tons each, one under that size were sunk in the week ended July 8 by mines or submarines, the admiralty announces.

To Compile Deeds

The financial committee of the municipal council met yesterday afternoon, Councillor R. W. Wignore presiding for the purpose of arranging financial matters for the quarterly meeting. As the result of an appeal from the St. John Law Society a recommendation will be made that $300 be appropriated to compile all deeds and records at the registry office from 1912 to date.

James Wilkes appeared before the committee claiming that the valuation placed on his properties in White street, expropriated for the hospital purposes, was unjust. Whereas the hospital commission placed a valuation of $100 on a lot with house, Mr. Wilkes placed a valuation of $500 on the former and $2,000 on the latter. The committee did not consider the question within its province. It is altogether probable, however, that the question will be arbitrated.

The committee had a long session. A lot of routine business was put into shape after which a committee from the St. John Law Society, including F. R. Taylor, K. C., Judge McInerney, E. P. Raymond and Dr. J. Roy Campbell, K. C., were promised that a recommendation to compile all records up to date. They were promised that a recommendation to this effect will be made.

BEFORE AND AFTER Using Cuticura

The first thing to do in restoring dry, thin and falling hair is to get rid of the cause, viz.: dandruff, itching and irritation of the scalp. Rub Cuticura Ointment into the scalp, especially spots of dandruff and itching. Follow at once with hot Cuticura Soap shampoo if a man, next morning if a woman. Rinse with tepid water. Make Cuticura your everyday toilet preparations.

FINDS BROTHER A CONVICT

Sister's Ruse Compels Martin Sweeney to Reveal Identity

For twenty years, says the New York Times, Mrs. William McCormick of Chicago searched in vain for her brother, Martin Sweeney, who, thirty-five years ago was a famous jockey. A few months ago she inserted in the Chicago newspapers an advertisement to the effect that Sweeney's mother had died and left a legacy of $75,000 to him.

During seventeen of the years Mrs. McCormick had been searching for her brother he had been in Sing Sing serving a twenty-year sentence for murder. He had refrained from writing to his people because he did not wish his mother know of his disgrace.

When he read the advertisement Mrs. McCormick published he thought he knew that his mother would never know and so he wrote to his sister telling her where he was. Then Mrs. McCormick went to Sing Sing and broke the news to the gray-haired man of 50 that there was no legacy and that his mother was still alive. Mrs. McCormick once before came to Chicago, where she and Sweeney's mother are waiting for him to serve the three remaining years of his sentence.

Mrs. McCormick, once before came near finding Sweeney. Fearing that his long silence meant that he might be in trouble, she wrote a letter to the warden of every prison in the country. From the letter he received Warden Moxor told Sweeney of his sister's search. But at the convict's plea that his mother must not know Warden Moxor did not tell the sister that Sweeney was a convict.
