Yarde, Mrs. William Seymour and Miss Louise, all of this city; two brothers, William and Gordon, both of this city, and one sister, Mrs. Frank Haley, of West St. John.

WAS WITH GEORGE TODD
Writing to a relative in Newcastle, on July 15, says Alex Ingram says: "I got a slight wound on Sunday night, just a piece of shrapnel on the top of the head, but I am all better now, and expect to get back to the battery in a few days. They just happened to knock our gun pit in on top of us and I was buried for about five minutes but do not feel any the worse for it. Two of the boys sitting right next to me were killed outright, and that made me feel worse than anything. One of them was from St. John, and Uncle Charlie well. His name was George Todd."

POLICE COURT PROGRAMME
In the course of the proceedings in the local police court this morning, Magistrate Nichol indicated that on Wednesday would be "toot day," in as much as all motorists who forget to "toot" their horns in rounding corners would be dealt with. He also mentioned the fact that, following the disposition of these, he would take up the reports against dog owners. The nature of these cases the magistrate did not make known, but it is thought that those who have not taken out their dog licenses, as yet, and it is known there are a large number, will be before the court and asked to give some sound evidence. So the local court will have what is known as a "toot day" and a "dog day" all combined.

IN YPRES BATTLE BUT NOW PRISONER

Thrilling Story Told by Former Member of the 6th C. M. R.—Was in Fight of June 2

Malcolm McCharles, of Baddeck Bridge, Cape Breton reported missing as a prisoner in Germany. Young McCharles was for two terms in Dalhousie, then took up agriculture, took his diploma at the N. A. C. Truro, and was going for his last term to Guelph, Ont., when the war broke out. He joined the 6th Highlanders, and was in the Sixth Mounted Rifles. In a letter to his mother, he said:

Dear Mother—I don't know what account the war office sent you concerning my condition at Ypres, so here is a brief: The Germans commenced their attack with a heavy bombardment on the morning of June 2. I had been out scouting the night before, so was asleep when the attack commenced. I got up and went up to the front line. I wasn't long there when another chap and I were completely buried. We were in that position for an hour or so when a couple of fellows dug me out and helped my comrade out, but by this time we could not move, for the trench was all blown down and to move would mean death by a sniper's bullet, so there we stayed through that terrible morning. Of all who were with me there, I think I am the only one alive. I was wounded about noon by a bullet which tried to dodge a trench mortar shell. I was hit altogether in the left side, in the right shoulder, back of the left ear, and several smaller wounds and scratches. I had lost all my clothes when I was buried. Just had a shirt on. A piece of stone or brick thrown by an explosion hit me in the head and knocked me dizzy. There I was when the Germans came over and took me prisoner. They took me over, bound my wounds up and gave me clothes. My wounds are healing up nicely and my temperature is normal. Yips is the second hospital I've been in. I'll likely be here till I am completely cured, which will be a month or more. We are well used. I get four meals a day. They have great doctors and are taking good care of us. Send me some cake, preserves, butter, soap, cocoa, cigarettes and socks. Try to get parcels through the Red Cross, England. Write soon and get every one else to do so, too. Love to all.

SHABBY TREATMENT FOR RETURNED HERO

Cripple on Crutches Forced to Stand in Street Car While Able-bodied Men Fill the Seats

A returned wounded hero who is at Paris' Convalescent Home and who is just able to hobble around on crutches, as he had his leg shattered by a German machine gun bullet, was given very shabby treatment yesterday. Between the hours of six and seven o'clock, last night, he was hoisted a street car at the corner of Mill street and Paradise row and rode to Douglas avenue, where he got out. The car was nearly full of able-bodied men who did not even have enough civility to get up from their seats and offer this crippled soldier a chance to ride in comfort.

This is hardly the kind of treatment a returned hero should expect from some of the young men of this city, men who should be out at the front doing their bit instead of allowing others to fight for them while they stay behind in comfort and enjoy life. The men at the front are fighting and giving up their lives and these chaps may enjoy the comforts of peace.

This young man who had to stand on his crutches so long on the car happens to be a member of the Fighting 26th N. B. Battalion.

The soldiers at the home speak highly of the kindness and generosity of the people of St. John and say this case is the exception and not the rule.

DR. WALKER AGAIN HEADS HOME FOR INCURABLES

Officers Re-elected at Meeting Yesterday—Presentation to Dr. and Mrs. Walker

At the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Home for Incurables, which was held yesterday afternoon, officers were re-elected for the ensuing year as follows: Dr. Thomas Walker, president; W. R. Turnbull, vice-president; F. B. Ellis, treasurer; W. C. Jordan, secretary. Following routine business, the directors took the opportunity of extending to Dr. and Mrs. Walker their hearty congratulations on the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. R. B. Emerson, on behalf of the directors, then presented to them a purse of gold. Both feelingly replied and thanked the board for their gift and accompanying good wishes.
