Morning Stock Letter

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—It is extremely difficult to say anything about this market. It is at a dangerous level, yet our guess is that the upward move will continue for a time longer and that we do not have a reaction, it will be only temporary and will be followed by another upward move. We would be very conservative at this time and yet we think money can still be made on the upside. Steel company reacted sharply yesterday after its sensational move of the previous day.

We believe Steel will sell at record high levels, however before this move is over and we think the important factor for the steel industry are brighter than they have been in over a year. Consolidated Gas got to a record high price for the present stock yesterday. We consider it one of the safest and best speculations on the list. Department stores, chain stores and mail-order houses, the copper and some of the rails will sell higher.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

Brokers' Opinions

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Hornblower—"We still maintain that oils, copper, rails, electrical, soft coal and some utilities are safer to trade in and in the end will be more profitable. The profits are slower, than the general run of auto issues."

Hornblower & Co.—"As long as Steel common continues its leadership, the steel group may be expected to follow with particular emphasis on Youngstown Sheet and Tube."

Clark Childs—"Oil stocks generally reflect accumulation based on belief that most of the oil business is either behind us or quite fully discounted."

A stock market bull market is obvious to everybody. It generally goes further than most people think possible. In due time we look for a big rally market."

Letters to The Editor

THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.
To the Editor of The Times-Star:
Sir,—After reading your splendid report re proceedings of Saint John County Teachers' Institute in last evening's paper, I wish to say a few words of appreciation to those who gave addresses at the opening session.

Miss D. A. Norwood's paper on "The Value of School Sports" was very timely and interesting. The schools and playgrounds, by co-operating with the other, should keep Saint John athletics to the fore, with the coming girls and boys to keep Saint John sports in the foreground, as has been the case in the past. Miss Norwood's remarks should bear much fruit.

Mr. E. J. Alexander's address was a masterpiece, especially the closing remarks, "The Child's Play." That surely is the sentiment of every mother and father who have faith in our teachers.

Dr. W. S. Carter, in his splendid address and good advice, was somewhat modest and remarked that he was sorry there was not an outsider to give the opening address. Why send for outsiders? Saint John can boast of having some of the best speakers in Canada. We should always try to encourage our own talent.

I think some of the people will agree with me when I say we should always give our own citizens a chance to make good before they go to other places of shoddy, such as musicians, singers, athletes, etc., etc.

In closing, I wish to thank you for your valuable space.

Congratulating the chief superintendent and teachers, and wishing them every success in their splendid sphere of labor,

I am,
Sincerely yours,
HENRY W. McCAHERN.
Saint John, Nov. 5, 1925.

PLAY THEFT DENIED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Counsel for Ola Petrova, actress playwright, declares that his client could not have stolen the idea for her play, "The White Peacock," from William Roberts, a British naval officer, because Roberts' play, "The Red Wig," the alleged, was taken from Vicente Blasco Ibanez's "Blood and Sand."

Her Liver Was Bad And She Felt Tired and Depressed

Mrs. M. Siefert, Grosswerder, Sask., writes:—"I was greatly disturbed with pains in my liver, and felt tired and depressed most of the time. One day I read about and the next time I went to town I bought four vials of them. I have used them regularly, and after two months' use I feel like an entirely different woman. Now, I always recommend them to any of my friends who are troubled as I was."

DECLINES HONOR.

A great honor has been extended to Miss H. Dykeman, acting director of public health nursing services in the province, who has been asked to fill the important office of convener of the committee on the education and recreation of the child for the Canadian Council of Child Welfare. Miss Dykeman has been unable to accept the honor as she feels that in this field of child welfare work she has not the specialized knowledge required. Further, she says that she could not devote the necessary time which acceptance of the office would involve.
