THEVES AT WORK IN MARKET SQUARE

Breaks Made in McDonald Music Store and Horton Premises.

Two business houses in Market Square, those of the McDonald Piano & Music Company, and H. Horton & Son, Ltd., were entered during last night by a thief or thieves and a considerable quantity of goods and some change taken. In both instances entrance was gained through windows. In the former it is not definitely known whether the thief or thieves entered from the front of the building or one in the rear was used, but in the latter it was apparent that a window in the rear of the building had been utilized. In the McDonald store a search was made in the office and a stamp box containing approximately 16c. was lifted as well as a cash box in the lending library, which was thought to contain about $150. Other drawers were opened, as well as some of the show cases, but as the drawers were learned, nothing of value was stolen. George A. Horton, president of H. Horton & Son, Ltd., Market Square, received a message this morning over the telephone a little after 7 o'clock stating that their premises were entered by thieves during the night. On Mr. Horton's arrival he found that drawers containing ladies' hand bags and other goods had been opened and some of the articles scattered on the floor and left on the show cases. The thieves entered in the rear by breaking one of the panes of glass in the large dome which lights the office. After getting into the office they opened several of the drawers in the desks looking for valuables. Also the cash drawer was rifled but they found less than five dollars in small change there. Several matches were found in one of the drawers and burnt matches were lying around. The thieves were apparently well supplied with matches for in their hurry they left a partly filled box behind.

Among some of the goods stolen were a combination Eversharp penholder and pencil valued at $18 and several Eversharp gold-mounted pencils, besides several ladies' hand bags, some of them valued at $80 each. Horton values the goods stolen about $80.

The thieves tried to get out by the front door by drawing the bolts, but owing to the door being double locked were unable to leave by that route and proceeded to the rear of the building to get out by the way they entered. To do this they had to climb up the side of a wall and it is thought were assisted by outside help. Mr. Horton notified the police.

GIVE CONSTABLE A SPIRITED RUN

Escaped Boys are Pursued, But They Know the By-ways.

Had motion picture men been on hand this morning in the vicinity of Constable McBrien endeavored to capture boys who recently escaped from the Boys' Industrial Home in East St. John. Constable McBrien and Detective Kilpatrick learned that one of the three boys was at his home and the other two were outside the house waiting for him. They set off in the wagon, but when they approached the building two boys jumped up and dashed down the hill. The third boy, dressed in dark clothes. For a few moments Constable McBrien did not realize they were there, but as he expected they would be wearing khaki uniforms, as supplied to the boys at the home.

When he did give chase they had a commanding lead and were heading for Dorchester street. The constable followed them over the bridge, up the hill, down alleys, and over fences, but he was wearing heavy shoes and a top coat and was unable to keep up the chase. The boys on reaching the top of the hill, dashed down another alleyway and disappeared. The third boy was taken in his home by Detective Kilpatrick and was taken back to the institution.

A meeting in private session of the council was held at 11 o'clock this evening and the committee discussed the matter of how much reduction could be made in the port charges without adding too much of a burden to the taxpayers, in the hope that the reduction would bring enough additional business to make it worth while.

At 12 o'clock the port committee met in conference with the members of the council and after an exchange of views it was decided that Commissioner Bullock should prepare a resolution for submission to the council embodying certain reductions.

CONWAY SAYS HE'S OUT $90

Gives Evidence in the Case of George Dugan and James Odell.

The preliminary hearing in the case of George Dugan and James Odell, who were taken into custody on Sunday night on suspicion of stealing $90 from John Conway and a horse and carriage, the property of W. Malcolm MacKay, Ltd., from their lumber camp at Black River, was begun in the police court this morning. Malcolm MacKay said the defendants had been in his employ and had been paid on October 16. He had paid John Conway on the same date and again on October 24. Both defendants had been hired by him as choppers. So far as he knew they had no authority to take a team from the camp. As a result of information received he told of going to the Barker House on the Loch Lomond road and finding there a horse and wagon, which he recognized as his property. He valued them at $140.

John Conway said he knew the two accused and had been with them on last Sunday. He had $112 on him that day. He told of changing his clothes in the presence of the defendants and of removing his money from a pocket in his shirt to one in his trousers. The three went for a walk and met a friend and had several drinks of whiskey and beer. When they returned for supper, he said, Odell, put his hand in one of his pockets and later in other pockets saying he was searching for his pipe. Later he found that a roll of bills amounting to $90 was missing and went to find the defendant but they were not at the camp.

Cross questioned by E. J. Henneberry and Paul Quinn, who were representing for the defendants, he gave details about their walk, their actions and conversation.

Samuel Rabkin, foreman at the camp, said he was in charge of the horses and neither of the defendants had authority to take a horse or wagon. This concluded the evidence for today's session and the defendants were remanded to jail.
