THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1923

WAS A PRISONER IN EAST AFRICA

The terrible conditions which prevailed in East Africa under German rule were described last night by Rev. Dr. T. B. Westgate when he addressed a large meeting of men in the Church of England Institute and asked for support for missionary work among the Indians and Eskimos in Canada. Dr. Westgate had visited St. John on two previous occasions, fifteen years ago and five years ago. He was recently appointed director of the Anglican missionary work among the Indians and Eskimos in this country. Before returning to his headquarters in Winnipeg he will visit several places in the province. He is the guest of Rev. A. L. Fleming during his stay here.

Dr. Westgate served as a missionary in German East Africa before the war and was a prisoner of war of the Germans there for two years. He afterwards served with the British forces in East Africa.

Last night he gave an interesting account of the work of the Canadian Anglican Church among the Indians and Eskimos. This work was carried on by the English authorities for more than one hundred years, but they could no longer maintain it, he said. He drew on his own experience in Africa to explain why the English authorities had been compelled to give up the Canadian work.

His personal experiences under the German colonial policy had been appalling, he said. That policy was according to the Bismarckian ideal of "blood and iron" and twenty years of its barbarous methods had resulted in diminishing by 200,000 the population of German East Africa. He did not hesitate to say that he saw the hand of God in the fact that Germany had been deprived of her colonial empire and he regarded the British mandate to assume charge of the German territory in East Africa as the call of God to give these people the best spiritual care and government.

He said that opinion was becoming prevalent that United States paper concerns were so interested in the matter that they were attempting to override the work of the commission.

The United States had wasted their own timber resources he averred, and there was no reason why they should be allowed to take advantage of those of the Dominion. Canada was already over-cutting its timber every year and unless better methods of conservation were adopted, the Dominion forests would not lend themselves to an expansion of the forest.

The statement of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association on the present condition of the industry, as laid before the commission yesterday by Edward Beck, secretary of the association, was made the subject today of a series of questions by Aime Geoffrin, K. C., Montreal, who is appearing before the commission in the interests of United States manufacturers. Mr. Beck stated that at the present time his association did not favor an embargo on pulp exports, to which Mr. Geoffrin retorted that the association was in favor of an export embargo on what it bought but not on what it was its business to sell. Mr. Geoffrin challenged the statement of the association that "the American mills which are now kept in operation by the use of Canadian pulpwood are for the most part old and of an obsolete character with an extremely high operating cost. They are in any event being gradually abandoned or converted to other uses as their share of the output is taken over by newer mills; but this process is slow and will last for many years."

Mr. Beck modified the statement, admitting an exaggeration. He asked that the statement may be made to read to the effect that some of the American mills had old machinery.

WHEN A NEW TRIBE IS DISCOVERED

Occasionally a new tribe is discovered that has lived for ages untouched by the diseases of civilized races, which destroy them as soon as they take on civilized habits. Why does an ancient race perish from tuberculosis, cancer, kidney, and other diseases, under the influence of civilization? The answer is the white man's food, robbed of its growth and repair substances, destroys the "protective" elements of the blood, lessening resistance to disease.

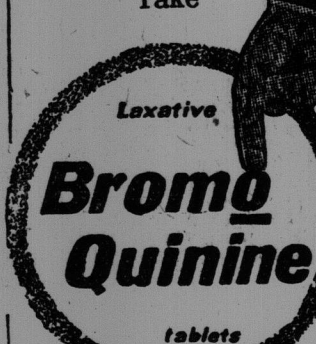

One serious defect of civilization is the failure to think about our foods. If we did, we would know that if we refine out of our most important food stuffs, the grains, their "protective" substances, decay, disease, and premature deaths must follow. Yet we do that in making white flour, refined cereals, polished rice, white sugar, etc.

Our blood must be alkaline or we perish. Foods must keep it alkaline, yet it is their alkalis we remove when we refine out of the grains the brown flour. This makes their foods "Acid," which makes acid blood. Acid blood lowers resistance, strains vital organs, and permits disease germs to destroy the body.

Roman Meal is the only alkaline cereal. It corrects the acids of cereals, meats, and sweets. It is therefore of the utmost importance. Roman Meal should be served to your family. It makes the most delicious porridge on which to start the day. Added in 25 per cent proportion to white flour it restores the valuable growth and repair element lost in making four white flour. It improves in flavor everything you bake. Roman Meal is sold by grocers everywhere.

HOW THE MONCTON TRANSCRIPT CUTS COAL COST

"The Robb Coal Carburetor which you recently installed in the Transcript Building is giving us splendid satisfaction. We find that it will be the means of saving us a considerable portion of coal, probably twenty or twenty-five per cent."

That's the experience of all users. Installed in your furnace door, it automatically feeds oxygen to the fuel bed, igniting gases that used to be wasted. No cost of operation—and the small cost of installation is more than returned the first season in reduced fuel bills. Write for illuminating circular.

THE BUMPETTY BUMP MOTH

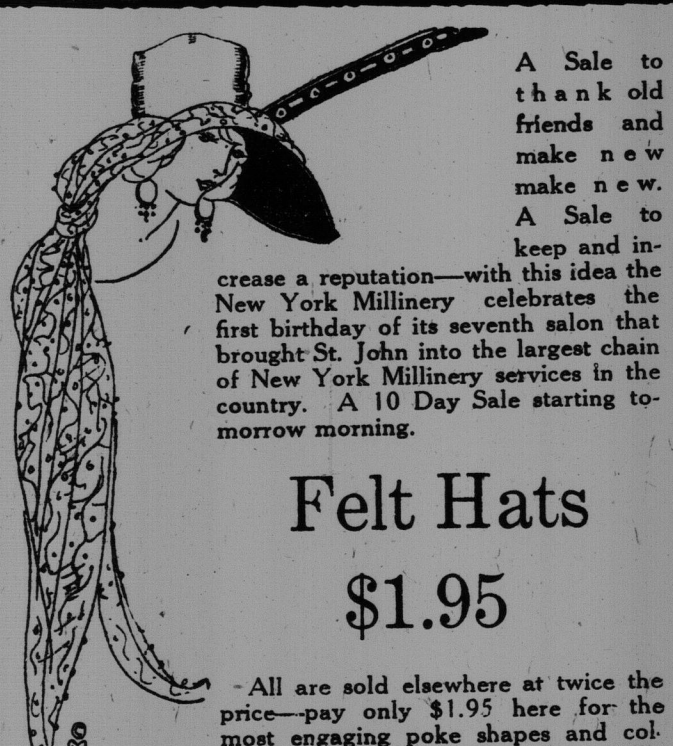

In a way, and to mix up names a bit, the Moth is a lucky bird. Bangs its head against the light-shone glass—blinds an eye—and then goes ahead and grows a new one. Foolish and fortunate Moth!

But a man has the one set of eyes for a lifetime—can't get a new set when these wear out. And until he has a good knowledge of health, hygiene and so forth he, like the Moth, may have eyes and run blind risks. With less lucky consequences.

Spare your eyes—get the Optometrist to say a word about them—see and feel better.
