DAIRYING COMES BACK.

(Toronto Globe.)

During the marketing shake-up which followed the war, dairy products were the last to be affected, holding their own months after beef, pork, and grain had tumbled. Barring the war-created depression and powdered milk industry, dairying has already come back to a remunerative basis, and while price fluctuations may be expected for some time to come, there is every indication that the farmer who depends on the milk cow for his income. Butter and cheese are now selling at a figure which allows a fair profit to the producer, probably when the cost of production is considered, as liberal a net return as was paid during the war.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

PICTURES OF THE BIG FIGHT MONDAY

Dempsey-Carpentier Battle in Authentic Flawless Movies Hot Off Griddle.

The announcement of the coming of the official movies of the recent heavyweight championship boxing battle at New Jersey has stirred an intense interest amongst the sporting fraternity. Indeed the ladies are a bit excited over it too. The French gentleman-boxer and his opponent are still the hero of many in this city as elsewhere because of the splendid fight argument he put up and his gameness in the bout, all of which is marvellously depicted in the film. Dempsey, too, has his admirers.

The picture, which has been unanimously passed without an inch of excision by the N. B. Board of Censors and is still the most thoroughgoing and detailed of any sporting record yet photographed. Fourteen cameras were focussed on the squared arena, some of them long-distance, others telescopic, bringing the action immediately in front of one's eyes, others the slow-motion, analytical depiction. Every movement, every grimace and blink of the contestants is shown clearly.

The pictures go further than the battle itself. They show the men in training, follow them about for weeks previous, comprehend the great arena and its 90,000 light fans before and after it is filled, give us preliminaries, in brief, show the officials, the "seconding" of the men between rounds and their actions after the bout had been won, also the surging mass of spectators. A whole situation is taken in by the five reels of pictures, something that even a $50 ring-side seat could not have purchased.

GREAT PROGRAMME AT OPERA HOUSE

Jack Roof and Company Present Their Best Bill—Eugene O'Brien in "Wonderful Chance," and Serial.

Last night the large audience at the Opera House certainly received their money's worth of entertainment. Jack Roof and his New York Musical Comedy Company presented what every one proclaimed to be his best bill "Wonderful Chance," and Serial.

Miss Edna received hearty applause for her singing and dancing, as did also Clara Belle and Billie Lang for their splendid exhibition.

And the full chorus were seen to splendid advantage in an Irish reel. In Miami, as sung by Vera Lee, was particularly popular with the audience as did also Mabel Bilger's solo "My Gal."

The picture programme consisted of Eugene O'Brien in "The Wonderful Chance," a crook play with plenty of pep, and a flavor of love and romance. There was also another chapter of the Vitaphone serial "Purple Riders." Tonight there will be the winners.

THE STAR TONIGHT

Another chapter of the Jungle serial "A Son of Tarzan." Two reel Hot Gibson western story. "Mutt and Jeff." Fox News and comedies. Matinee tomorrow at 2.

Windsor, Ont., July 22.—Fleeing to Detroit after violating the Ontario Temperance Act, by selling liquor, Harry Lowe of Petticoat yesterday sent $2,000 to Magistrate Gully, with an admission that he was guilty.

The magistrate accepted this as a fine and imposed a jail sentence of three months. Lowe, according to the police, is likely to become a permanent resident of Detroit.

LOCAL BASEBALL

A feature of the Knights of Columbus' picnic at Crystal Beach, yesterday, was a double-header baseball game between the All Stars and the Rainbows. Full honors for both sessions went to the All Stars, 8 to 6 and 7 to 3. One game was played in the afternoon and the other in the evening. Messrs. Morris and Macaulay acted as umpires and although their lives were in jeopardy on frequent occasions they acquitted themselves admirably. Hon. R. J. Ritchie was scorer and he found it difficult to acquire either himself or any of the players. The teams lined up as follows:

Afternoon Game.

All Stars: Catcher, McManus; Pitcher, Higgins; First Base, Murphy; Second Base, Gossnell; Third Base, McMenamin; Left Field, O'Neill; Centre Field, C. A. Conlon; Right Field, Len Conlon.

THE WATER.

Tests of the city water are being made continually. The report taken some time ago showed no impurity at the source of supply though some existed in some tests of tap water. Dr. H. L. Heustis, chief of the laboratory at the General Public Hospital, is keeping a close watch on the water. In the tests made some time ago the water was taken from taps in Wright street, Princess street, and three other streets.

The advice to boil still obtains.

NOT TAKEN UP TODAY.

Owing to pressure of business in the police court this morning, George Law, charged with theft, did not appear. This is the case in which two automobiles were concerned some time ago. An automobile was burned on the Red Head Road and from it some parts disappeared. A few days later the wreck of an automobile was discovered in the street early one morning. The detective department got on the trail and succeeded in determining the identity of the driver and suspicion fell upon George Law. It was ascertained that he had gone to his home in Albert county, Fawcett, and he was much wanted here. Fawcett came to the city and gave himself up yesterday.

OLD ROMAN FORT BEING UNEARTHED

Excavations on Site of Segontium, at Carnarvon, Wales.

London, July 22.—(By Mail)—The excavations on the site of Segontium, the Roman fort and town at Carnarvon, were resumed last week under the direction of Dr. E. Mortimer Wheeler, of the National Museum of Wales, on behalf of the Segontium Excavation Committee. The excavations, which were begun last year outside the northwestern ramparts of the fort, are being continued this year within the fort, between the Redgedale road and the Caerfarnham road.

The northwestern gateway of the fort has already been laid bare and is seen to have consisted of a single entrance on each side by a square tower or guard room. One of these guard rooms is still preserved in a height of 20 feet. It is a rectangular building of enormous blocks of masonry. It has not yet been ascertained whether the building was certainly of the era of Constantine the Great (who is said by a Welsh tradition to have been buried at Segontium) has been found beneath the uppermost floor of the guard room. The whole floor was littered with branches, bones, and shell fish—the refuse, apparently, of the meals of many a Roman guard. Within the building, probably barracks rooms and storerooms, are now being uncovered.

EXPLOITING OF DEAD CHARGED BY LEGION

U. S. District Attorney Asked to Institute Criminal Action in Connection With Soldiers.

(New York Times.)

Evidence in connection with alleged profiteering in the burial of unclaimed bodies of soldiers who died in hospital during the war, was presented to United States District Attorney Haywood yesterday by the American Legion with a request for immediate criminal proceedings. Colonel Haywood designated Assistant District Attorney Maxwell S. Matlock to institute such criminal proceedings as the evidence might warrant.

The evidence relates to the burial of two and three soldiers in one grave and other alleged practices of undertakers which are said to constitute grave fraud against the government. Some of the facts were disclosed before the Meyer committee.

The practices referred to in the data placed in Colonel Haywood's hands also will be called to the attention of the senate committee which is investigating "all burial and agencies of the government dealing with the care, treatment and hospitalization of the late war." Lt.-Col. Cornelius W. Wickham, chairman of the Legion committee, has been making an investigation of conditions in this state, left for Washington yesterday to assume his duties as counsel to the senate committee.

One Pittsburgh engineer has a novel way of cleaning overalls. He places them in a bucket of water with a quantity of washing powder, then he runs. The gentle swirl of the soaped water in the bucket cleanses the garment perfectly.

IN WALL STREET.

New York, July 22.—Nominal losses ruled at the hesitant opening of today's stock market. Chesapeake and Ohio was the only exception, reacting 1½ points. The placing of oils and leathers on the free list by the house of representatives failed to stimulate trading in those shares, most of the foreign oils displaying further heaviness. Motors, coppers and food specialties also reacted. The market was shown by C. P. R. Rock Island and U. S. Rubber. Exchange on London was firm.

Neon Report.

The market moved in a narrow rut until the second hour when buying of rails impelled short covering. C. P. R. rose 2½ points and gains of 1 to 1½ points were made by Great Northern, Union Pacific and St. Paul. Steels and equipments also hardened with Bethlehem an only conspicuous legged. American Woolen, Corn Products and some of the rubber shares rose substantially over yesterday's final prices. Tobacco was featured by Liggett and Myers at a gain of 6½ points. Foreign exchange continued to recover and call money opened and renewed into next week at 5½-2 per cent.

Inspector Journey testified that with other inspectors he had gone to the premises of Connelly on Wednesday afternoon and found about two cases of beer. He took one bottle of it to M. V.
