W. F. M. S. Society

Moncton Sept. 22.—The fourth and closing session of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church was held today and much business of importance was dealt with.

The following are the changes in the list of officers: Corresponding secretary, Miss band, Mrs. J. Putnam, Halifax. The following were added to the board of management: Mrs. Owen Campbell, Mrs. R.
Dawson, Mrs. Roome, Miss J. Falconer.
The total membership of bands, Sydney Presbyterian figures not being included is $25; membership, 5,798; total amount raised for foreign and home missions, $4,848.
Mrs. J. H. Thomson, St. John, moved seconded by Mrs. Blackwood, Halifax, that the society be called the "Women's Foreign and Home Missionary Society." This motion carried.

Mrs. R. Cruikshank, secretary of the young people's work, conducted a conference on mission band work. An excellent paper was read by Mrs. Strathairn, of Summerside, on The Boy Question.

Charles Cunningham, who for two years was teaching in Trinidad, gave an interesting address on the work in that field.

This evening a public meeting was held and an interesting address given on home missions by Rev. Dr. J. W. McMillan, Halifax.

After the public meeting the closing business session was held. On motion of Mrs.
Thomson, St. John, it was decided to devise $50 to the traveling expenses of the board when necessary. Mrs. T. Hunter Boyd suggested that the annual report be published in one edition of the Messenger.
This was referred to the board.

At this afternoon's meeting Mrs. Carmichael, New Glasgow, was unanimously re-elected president.

The place of meeting next year was not considered, that being by invitation and decided by the executive.

The estate of Geo. Van Dyke, New Hampshire, and the Great Northern Paper Co., of Maine, are bringing suit against the C. P. R. along with many other lumber owners, for money amounting in all to $200,000.

Wives, alleged to have been started in in-terlands by the railway.

The Irish colored flag which was placed at the rear of City Hall, Montreal, during the Eucharistic congress, and replaced by an Irish flag, has been ordered to its former position by the common council.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

WHAT is there about marriage that makes folks forget they were human once, too?

The pretty little girl with the big married sister wants me to write on that.

She says she's sure that there's lots of young folks like herself who'd be pleased to know why it is that when their sisters and girl friends get married and settle down, no matter how desperately flirtations, how dashing indiscreet and convention-hating and fun-loving they were before the ceremony, after it they almost invariably develop into Madame Grudges.

"It's had enough about it," she says.

"But after the babies begin to come it's worse. Then they're hopeless."

"Before my sister was married, she used to tell me all the best of her flirtations and I used to sympathize and be interested, and try to smooth things over when she needed it—keep mother from worrying when she came home from canoeing or motoring later than mother liked—and cheer her up and help her out when she got into any silly little scrapes."

"Well, by and by she found the right man and was married and settled down and began to run a family and in the meantime I grew up and began to have flirtations and love affairs of my own."

"And, of course, at first I took them straight to sister.
I thought she'd sympathize with me and help me out when I needed it."

"Did she? Guess not. My dear, she was shocked at the flimsy little things.
Instead of helping me out or smoothing things over for me, she was always telling mother that I ought not to do this or that—all things that she always did before she was married. Once she was at the house when I came home from a canoe trip an hour late than I expected and instead of telling mother that it took a long while to get the canoe in and the cushions put away, and that the canoe are so apt to be late, she worried worse than mother did and had mother all worked up."

"And then she thinks it's so terrible to be frivolous and wanting to trot about all the time. As if she wasn't twice as bad before she met Jack."

And then, before she was married sister always used to be so ready to stand up for a girl when anyone was running her down. She said one ought always to give a girl the benefit of the doubt unless you absolutely knew something against her. And now she is just as quick to be suspicious, and just as unwilling to believe that a girl is good, in spite of appearances, as anyone.

"And it isn't just sister, either. She's such a splendid girl in most ways that I thought maybe that was a saving fault that she had developed to keep her from being too good to live. When two of the girls that I chummed around with were married and changed the same way, I saw it was just the fatal ceremony."

"Why is it, do you suppose?"

"Does it have to happen, or is there any way of dodging it?"
I wonder.

Daily Hints for the Cook

PARK KERNELS WITH TOMATO SAUCE.

Take pork chops and remove the circular pieces of lean meat. Sprinkle with salt, and saute in a hot frying pan until tender and well browned. Remove to hot plates for individual service. Serve with tomato sauce.

Cook two tablespoons finely minced ham (lean, raw ham) and half tablespoon each chopped celery, carrots, in eight of appointed butter until well browned.

Add quarter cup flour and stir until well blended, then pour on gradually while stirring constantly one and one half cups brown stock and two-thirds cup stewed and strained tomatoes. Bring to the boiling point, season with salt and pepper.

DENVER PUDDING.

Make this in the order it is written:
Cream 1-4 cup butter, add 12 cup sugar, beat yolks of 2 eggs and 12 cup sugar.

Combine mixture, add 12 cup milk alternately with 1-8 cups of flour sifted with 3 teaspoonsful of baking powder and 1-4 teaspoonful salt. Add whites of 2 eggs beaten stiff, 1-2 square of melted chocolate, 1 use cocoa. One teaspoonful vanilla.

Bake in single cake tin about 30 minutes, put whip in the hole if you have it and like it and serve with this sauce: Boil 1 cup of sugar and 12 cup of water and a few grains of cream tartar to a thin sirup.

Melt 1-2 square of chocolate and pour into the sirup. Cool slightly and flavor with vanilla.

MUSTARD PICKLE.

One quart each of small whole cucumbers, large cucumbers sliced, green tomatoes sliced and small onions, one large cauliflower, divided into florets, 12 green peppers cut fine. Make a brine of four quarts of water and one pint of salt, pour over mixture of vegetables, soak twenty-four hours, then heat just enough to scald. Turn into colander to drain. Mix 1 cup flour, six tablespoon ground mustard, one tablespoon turmeric with enough cold sirup to make a smooth paste. Add one cup sugar and sufficient vinegar to make two quarts in all. Boil this mixture until it is smooth and thickened, stirring all the time then add vegetables and cook until well heated through.

A meeting of the St. John County Temperance Federation was held last night in the W. C. T. U. rooms, German street.
Nothing was given out after the meeting, but it was said that another meeting would be held in the same place early next week, when plans would be announced for an active campaign in the cause of temperance.

Thousands of people from all over the state assembled in Augusta last night to take part in the celebrations in honor of the election of the Democratic governor, Mayor Plaisted, of Augusta. Speeches were given by him, and by others in his party, and all were loudly cheered by the assembly.

RECORDER SKINNER DIED LAST NIGHTOnly a Few Weeks—Was a Prominent Figure in Public Life and Fraternal Circles

The news of the death of Hon. C. N. Skinner, which occurred last night, will cause a thrill of regret not only in the city where he was one of the best-known citizens, but throughout the province generally. He had been taken ill about three weeks ago, but had been improving and had been down stairs in his house on several occasions. On Wednesday, however, a change for the worse took place, and he continued to grow weaker and passed

Hon. C. N. Skinner

away last night about 9:30. Besides Mrs.
Skinner, his brother, A. O. Skinner, and the two sons of deceased who live here,

For considerably more than half a century he had been prominent in the province in one way or another. He ran his first election for the legislative assembly of New Brunswick when quite a young man, and held the office of solicitor-general of the province at the time of confederation. For many years he was judge of probates for the city and county of St. John, resigning that office in 1880 to accept the recordership of the city. He was a member of the dominion parliament from 1887 to 1892. Besides Mrs. Skinner, his brother, A. O. Skinner, and the two sons of deceased who live here,

The late Recorder Skinner was an eloquent speaker. He was prominent in the I. O. O. F., having been one of the oldest members of Pioneer Lodge, and the holder of a veteran's jewel. He had held many of the highest offices in the order, being a past noble grand. He was also very high in the councils of the Orange order, and was always in demand for the celebration of Guy Fawkes' day and July 12.

Recorder Skinner is survived by five sons and two daughters. They are: Sherwood Skinner, barrister at law, who was associated with his father, in the Pugsley building, Charles, of New York; Waldo W., of Montreal; Harold, of New York; Dr. Stewart Skinner, Charlotte street; Miss Grace, at home, and Mrs.
B. Skinner, Mrs. A. Robinson, Mrs. E.
Fiske and A. O. Skinner. The funeral will be held from the family residence, on Saturday afternoon at 3:30.

The following sketch appears in the Biographical Review of New Brunswick: Hon. Charles N. Skinner, K. C., ex-judge of probate for the county of St. John, and recorder for the city of St. John, was born in this city March 12, 1833, the son of Samuel Skinner, whose father came from New England to the province just before the revolutionary war. Samuel Skinner was born in Nova Scotia and during his active life was a leading builder and contractor of St. John. He married Phoebe Sherwood, daughter of Robert Golding and granddaughter of Captain Golding, a Loyalist, who commanded a company of dragoons through the American revolution, and afterwards emigrated with his family to the maritime provinces.

Charles N. Skinner received his elementary education in the schools of St. John, and after studying law with Charles W.
Stockton, was admitted an attorney in 1858, and in 1860 was called to the bar.
He began the practice of his profession in the city of his birth, where he afterwards won an excellent reputation as a clear-headed lawyer, prudent in counsel and devoted to the interests of his clients. For a great many years he was active in politics and from 1861 until 1888 was a member of the legislative assembly. In August, 1867, he was appointed solicitor-general, an office which he ably filled until March, 1868, when he was made judge of probate for St. John county. During the same year he was also appointed questioned by the provincial government, and in 1833 was thus honored by the provincial government. In 1867 Mr. Skinner, who had previously resigned his position as judge, was elected to the dominion parliament, in which he served until 1882. He subsequently resumed his position as judge of probate, having been reappointed in June, 1882, and served until January, 1884, when he resigned to accept the office of city recorder. For several years he was member of the St. John city council, and while occupying that position took advantage of every opportunity to advance the welfare of the city and the interests of its citizens.

Fraternally, Mr. Skinner was a Mason and an Oddfellow; and he was a member of the Union Club of St. John. In his religious belief he was a Baptist and contributed generously toward the support of that denomination. In June, 1866, he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Civil Law from King's College, Windsor (N. S.). On January 12, 1885, he married Eliza Jane, daughter of the late David J. McLaughlin, of St. John, a former president of the Commercial Bank of New Brunswick. Eight children were born of this union, namely: Anne J. (deceased), Stewart, Charles, Grace, Sherwood, Gertrude, Harold and Waldo.

The second herring catch for this season is 110,000, landed at Scarborough by the Golden Hope, Scotch herring fleet. The fishermen received four cents a thousand for the herring.
