A GREAT ANNUAL EVENT

The Popular Store of C. B. Pidgeon Opens Its Regular December Clearance Sale Tomorrow

One of the greatest retail mercantile movements ever attempted in this community will take place at the popular store of C. B. Pidgeon, at the corner of Main and Bridge streets.

It is a regular custom of this store to hold its clearance sale each year in November and July. This year the winter clearance will take place considerably earlier, owing to the closing of the navigation season and on account of extensive preparations for the Christmas season.

The house of C. B. Pidgeon for the last few seasons has become extremely popular and is noted especially for its well selected stock of good clothing for men and in its great variety of good shoes for men, women and children.

For this mammoth sale which will open tomorrow, more than $30,000 worth of the desirable merchandise will be offered for ten days only at remarkable price reductions. Readers can profit by reading the special advertisement of C. B. Pidgeon in today's issue of the Times.

MEETING THIS AFTERNOON

A meeting of the Police Relief Association is being held this afternoon.

The cases against Elijah Ross and George Ramsay were postponed until tomorrow morning.

FLOW OF OIL

There was quite a flow of oil this morning in Brussels street, when a nail became fixed in an oil tank in a local company's wagon. The driver tried to turn the flow off, but because of the nail, he could not stop the oil from leaking out, and flowing into the gutter. Here, some mischievous youngsters touched a match to it, and a brilliant streak of flame was the source of short amusement to them, and also alarm to their elders.
