

EXECUTIONS IN IRELAND 67

Follow Refusal of Amnesty—Brave Soldier Averts a Train Disaster.

(Canadian Press.)

Dublin, March 15.—The resumption of executions by the Free State Government in pursuance of the policy announced when amnesty was offered. During the amnesty period all executions were suspended, and the presumption was that all refusing amnesty were irreconcilable and must take the consequences.

The executions have been mostly confined to those who had made direct attacks on the Government, but some were inflicted for robbery of banks, which has been frequent. The total number of executions to date is sixty-seven.

Soldier Averts Disaster.

Dublin, March 15.—The bravery of a national soldier averted a railway accident between Thomastown and Athlone, County West Meath, yesterday. A band of irregulars, seizing an engine, sent it down the track. An officer of the railway protection corps notified troops at a blockhouse along the track and Volunteer Brady, on duty in the little cabin, acted promptly. He took off his shoes and socks and awaited the arrival of the locomotive, which soon appeared, making between twenty and thirty miles an hour. Brady caught hold on the engine and swinging himself aboard, brought the runaway to a halt scarcely 500 yards from an approaching passenger train.

Depositions.

London, March 15.—The uneasiness that has followed last Sunday's Irish arrests in Great Britain has induced Sir Kingsley Wood, member of the House of Commons for Woolwich West, to draft a bill which he will introduce on next Tuesday amending the Restoration of Order in Ireland Act.

It proposes that in the event of future deportations under the act, the Home Secretary be obliged to inform the advisory committee established by the act, and that within a week this committee must consider whether the deportation is just and reasonable. The person affected would have the right to attend the hearing.

Members of Parliament do not believe that the bill will have the least chance of passing the House, but its introduction will give the Government an opportunity to make clear its position, which is now rather obscure. The arrests of last week have given rise to the fear in some quarters that persons may be summarily deported without a chance of appeal.

THE Y. M. C. A. DRIVE

The Y. M. C. A. drive for funds, with $8,500 as an objective, was continued today and the canvassers hoped to have their quota completed by tonight. Although it was impossible to say if the objective had been reached, it was reported that the collectors everywhere were well received and sympathy with the object of the drive was expressed on all sides.

EXTENSION OF THE NORTHERN ALBERTA RAILWAYS AGREED ON

Edmonton, March 15.—The way is clear now for the extension of Northern Alberta Railways, an agreement having been reached between the Provincial Government and the McArthur and Union Bank interests. It is possible that the railway department of the Alberta Government will do the construction work rather than the C. P. R.

THE SENIOR GIRLS BRANCH, ST. JUDE'S W. A. IN SESSION

Mrs. J. H. A. Holmes Re-elected President—Reports Show a Successful Year's Work.

The annual meeting of the senior girls' branch of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Jude's Church, West St. John, was held last evening. The meeting was presided over by service in the church, at which an address was delivered to both the junior and senior girls' branches by the rector, Rev. J. H. A. Holmes.

The business meeting opened with prayer by the president, Mrs. Holmes, and was followed by reports from the various secretaries, Albert Carleton, treasurer, Miss Hilda Smith, rector nominee, Miss Mary Wilcox and Lilla Jennings.

Mrs. Burke was named as delegate to the diocesan W. A. annual meeting, with Miss Elsie Rogers as substitute, and Miss Hilda Smith was elected as substitute to the president for this meeting.

FRECKLES

March Brings Out Unsightly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

The woman with tender skin dreads March because it is likely to cover her face with ugly freckles. No matter how thick her veil, the sun and winds have a strong tendency to make her freckle. Fortunately for her peace of mind, Othine—double strength, makes it possible for even those most susceptible to freckles to keep their skin clear and white. No matter how stubborn a case of freckles you have, Othine will strengthen Othine should remove them. Get an ounce from your druggist and banish the freckles. Money back if it fails.

BURIED TODAY

Members of the New Brunswick Dental Society, of St. John, N. B., and of Oliver Lodge No. 9 I. O. O. F., in addition to a large number of friends and acquaintances gathered this afternoon to honor the memory of their friend and associate, the late Dr. A. D. Smith. The funeral cortege, which left the doctor's late residence, at 229 Charlotte street, was long and impressive and was testimony of the high esteem in which he was held. The body was conveyed to Fernhill after services were conducted at the home by Rev. F. S. Dowling. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful and included a wreath from the New Brunswick Dental Society, a wreath from the St. John Dental Society, a sheaf from Oliver Lodge No. 9 I. O. O. F., a sheaf from St. John's Lodge A. F. & A. M., and a wreath from Hon. Wm. Pugsley.

The funeral of Mrs. Katherine Beamish was held this morning from her late residence, 229 Haymarket square, to the cathedral for solemn requiem high mass by Rev. R. McCarthy, assisted by Rev. S. Oram, deacon, Rev. R. McDonald, sub-deacon, and Rev. W. M. Duke, master of ceremonies. Bishop McNamee gave the final absolution. Rev. Nugent was in the sanctuary. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery. Friends were pallbearers.

The funeral of Frederick Gordon was held this afternoon from his late residence, 65 Chesley street, to Cedar Hill. Rev. H. B. Clarke conducted service.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary J. Gamble was held from her late residence, 197 Bridge street, this afternoon. Interment was in Cedar Hill. Rev. E. P. Wright conducted service.

What Radio Did To This Man Was Terrible

A Times reporter whose knowledge of the science of radio is such that the fundamental difference between a crystal detector and a three-stage amplifier is as so much Greek, received an invitation yesterday to go and "listen in on a concert from Calgary" last evening. He went. He didn't hear anything from Calgary, but he did hear a lot of things which were entirely new to him.

Seated in a big comfortable arm chair, the amateur operator clamped on the reporter's head a set of steel bands, attached to which were two "receivers." They were receivers that went through the air—and passed it right along through the reporter's head. The sound opened all right. A faint humming was coming in which promised, to the news man's imagination, almost any results. Then things began to happen. First of all an excellent representation of a machine gun barrage in full operation was grabbed out of the air and transmitted into the surprised ears of the listening scribe.

"Induction," murmured the operator, frowning.

"I guess so," blankly responded the reporter.

After the machine-guns had peppered away for about fifteen minutes, the field guns and the heaviest opened up, the resounding detonations apparently creating havoc amongst the wielders of the lighter instruments of warfare.

The newspaperman forgot about Calgary; he was amongst the barbed-wire in front of Cambrai.

"Stu," muttered the operator, smothering a curse.

"I wouldn't be a bit surprised," knowingly smiled back his companion. He was too polite to ask where the war was being waged, but an explanation was forthcoming immediately.

Through the air flew a huge flock of wild ducks, geese, canaries and myriads of other types of feathered specimens, whistling, honking, quacking, now high, now low, now in long drawn wails.

"That's what the artillery was after," thought the Times man. "I hope they got a good bag. But his thoughts were interrupted again by the operator.

"Hia!" he exclaimed, "We've got their wave now."

"I thought so, too," the writer responded.

Into this chaos there was suddenly injected a voice—a woman's voice—and the reporter sat bolt upright.

"—and this is the best diet for children that could possibly be—? Crash! Bang! Zip! Whistle! Whistle! The gunners were after the birds again!"

"That's W.B.Z.," remarked the radio man.

"Maybe it's the Y.W.C.A.," the reporter said to himself.

After an hour of whistling and banging, and women's voices and men's voices, with an occasional strum from some mysterious musical instrument, other with crackling and spitting sand, whistling in between breaths, the reporter arose and prepared to depart for home.

"I enjoyed it immensely," he told his host.

"I'm glad you did; come back again sometime. The news man, is going back—maybe."

LABOR MATTERS IN FREDERICTON

(Special to The Times.)
Fredericton, N. B., Mar. 15.—The N. B. Federation of Labor this morning heard C. D. Richards, M. P. P., Conservative leader in the House of Assembly and A. Chase Fawcett, M. P. P., leader of the Farmer group.

Mr. Richards said that he always would be ready to give consideration to requests of organized labor representatives.

Mr. Fawcett followed a similar line and also replied to the statements made by Premier Venolet in the course of the debate.

The delegation waited upon the Provincial Government and presented requests in the matter of legislation. Particular emphasis was placed on workers' allowances minimum wage legislation and amendments to the workmen's compensation act.

The storm of Tuesday night and yesterday morning added eight and a half inches of snow to the already plentiful snow. The grand total now is 121 inches. Snow removal thus far this winter has cost the city $60,000 and the appropriation for the year for that purpose is exhausted.

The Illinois-Alberta Oil Well, 63 miles south of Calgary, was struck with damage already estimated at $200,000.

Do Not Favor Expenditure On Immigration

(Special to The Times.)
Fredericton, N. B., March 15.—The committee of the House on agriculture held an extended meeting this morning during the course of which it passed a resolution offered by J. D. McKenna, M. P. P., Sussex, to the effect that the House appoint a committee to assist the committee of the Farmers' and Dairyman's Association in their efforts to obtain reduction of duties on fish and farm products.

The hard-hat financial situation of the farmer and the adoption of mixed farming and stock raising as a remedy and a preventive of the recurrence of straightened financial circumstances were discussed. Most members were against spending money on immigration.

When the house resumes this afternoon, D. A. Stewart, M. P. P., Campbellton, will speak in the debate in reply to the address from the throne. The hope is expressed that Mr. Stewart's speech will conclude the discussion on the reply to the address and that the House may go forward to other business.
