WHERE THE DIFFERENCE LIES. It is hard to tell by the appearance of a man just what sort of a man he is. Same way with a barrel of flour. You can't tell by the staves or hoops whether it is going to be a good bread maker or not. In many ways "Regal" is just like an ordinary barrel of flour. But there is a difference. Take out the head and try a baking of it and you will quickly discover what this difference is. "Regal" is the very best bread ever made. That is where it differs from the ordinary run of flours. If you have not tried it we advise you to do so at once. If you do, you will ever afterward be grateful for this information.

ALONG THE RIVER. Reluctant cottagers on Long Reach locked their doors yesterday and returned to the city, as the schools re-open today. Some will linger a little longer, but the majority are home again. It was fitting that the last week-end for many summer people along the river should be the most delightful of the season. Saturday was extremely hot, almost the hottest of the year, the mercury standing over eighty-five in the shade at Public Landing, but the evening was altogether charming and fully enjoyed by the young people until midnight. Those who went up in the Dream that evening were comfortable without wraps, and declared it the most enjoyable trip of the holiday summer. Dances in the pavilions, bonfires on the shore, and pleasant verandah parties made the time pass all too quickly at the different resorts. Many sailing yachts were out, five of them lying at Crystal Beach as the Dream passed up. Sunday was the quietest day of the whole season on the river in Long Reach. Very few motor boats passed up or down. Those that had gone up were remaining over the holiday. The day was fine, but toward evening heavy smoke from the forest fires rolled over the river, and became so dense as to revive some of the fears that prevailed when Westfield was fire-swept. This smoke still lingered yesterday, at times almost obscuring the farther side of the river. Smoke from three fires could be seen from the hills on Sunday morning before the wind swept it in a heavy mass over the whole valley.

The harvest thanksgiving service was held in the Anglican church at Public Landing, and Sunday evening. The church was very beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers and fruits, and was crowded with people. The Wiggins boys formed the choir and rendered an anthem with fine effect. The rector, Rev. C. W. Nichols, preached an impressive sermon suited to the season of the harvest. The community at the Landing was deeply shocked on Saturday by the death of David Knapman, a farmer who lived between the Landing and Craig's Point. He was walking home from the store and post office when he collapsed on the road and died almost instantly of heart failure. A funeral service was conducted at the home by Rev. Mr. Nichols after the regular Sunday evening service in the church. Interment is at St. John. Mr. Knapman was about sixty-five years old. His wife died last winter, and while a daughter, who lived in Waterville, Maine, was home to the funeral she received word that her own husband had died suddenly of heart failure. Mr. Knapman left two other daughters, Mrs. Hilbert Parker, who lives on a near-by farm, and Miss Martha, at home. Two sons, Arthur and Ernest, live in St. John.

FORDNEY BILL AND THE DUTY ON SHINGLES. Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—(By Canadian Press).—In spite of demands of northwestern shingle men that the duty of fifty cents a thousand as fixed in the Fordney bill in the house be retained by the senate, western pine interests oppose the duty and expect later on to make a strong showing against it. Senators on the finance committee are showing a marked disposition to oppose any form of lumber duties aimed at Canadian lumber. The reason is found in the pressure of farm organizations for free lumber. Testimony before the finance committee, moreover, has revealed that the British Columbia shingles are superior to those made on the U. S. side because the latter are kiln-dried to excess.

MAY LET RUSSIAN SINGER INTO ENGLAND. London, Sept. 8.—An application by a Russian singer, Chalapine, for permission to come to England, still is under consideration. It is expected that if he can satisfy authorities that he would confine his activities in England strictly to singing he probably would be permitted to come.

factor, for the higher the note the more rapid must be the vibration. Caruso when singing his wonderful chest C sharp reached the phenomenal vibration for a man, of 550 a second.

Caruso's whole body seemed to have more average resonance and one of the great secrets of his wonderful voice was the formation of the epiglottis, which was thick at the base, as in basses, but exquisitely fine and delicate at the free end. The power of his voice was so great that he often fractured glasses in his consulting room by singing their fundamental notes at the orifice."

Albert J. Johnson of Orange has just made his first visit to a barber shop, at the age of eighty-nine. He was accompanied by his wife, to whom he has been married for nearly sixty-five years and who has always cut his hair. Mrs. Johnson felt that she was quite as good at haircutting as she used to be, so she decided to give the regular barbers a chance.
