Rt. Hon. Mr. Goschen (chancellor of the government in Dublin.

Sir Henry James, Liberal-Unionist for

New York, June 2.—Rev. Charles Augustus Briggs, D. D., returned from Washington to-night. When asked if he had heard of the action of the Preserian general assembly in his case

he replied:
"Yes, I heard of the sentence against I left Washington early in of the matter at present."

"Do you still occupy the Edward Rob-mson chair of biblical theology in the minary?" was asked. "Most certainly I do. Is there anything in the terms of the endowment of that chair, or in the rules of the seminary, which requires that this professorship must be held by a minister of the Presbyterian church? Not at all." 'Has the decision of the general asembly in suspending you from the minmade any change in your relations Union seminary?"

"None whatever," replied the doctor. The general assembly never contributed dollar to Union seminary. It is supported almost wholly by New York merants and others."
It was learned from others connected with Union seminary this evening that Prof. Briggs would go right on just as if nothing had happened, and he will be sustained in his action by the board of Killed in a Bull Ring. Madrid, May 29.—During a bull fight at Getafe, near this city, to-day, a crowd of men and boys invaded the ring and worried the bulls. Two young men were gored to death and many others were injured. The public officials who were presiding made no effort to interfere with the mob entering the ring or to protect them from the bulls. The spectators applauded and cheered while the bulls charged the men who were beating them. It is announced this evening that all who invaded the ring will be prosecuted.

The Laplaine Massacre.

Panama, Colombia, June 2.—The peo-ple of the West Indian Islands of Dominico are greatly wrought up over the refusal of the British government to grant an enquiry into the circumstances connected with the Laplaine massacre. The inhabitants of the other islands which form the British colony of the Leeward Islands share this feeling. The bishop endorses a protest which demands the impeachment of the governor, Sir William Frederick Haynes Smith. Trou-ble is feared throughout the island and the imperial government has been ask-

Immediately after assuming office President Machado began the disarming of the troops in the capital. The revolutionary forces will enter Managua to-day before disarming. Both armies, under the agreement, will be disbanded and all expenses of war incurred banded and all expenses of war incurred by either party will be considered a na-tional debt to be paid out of the public treasury. Many of the revolutionists were dissatisfied with the terms of settlement, but their opposition was over-come by the dvice of cool-headed leaders, whose opinions prevailed.

The presence of an American warship in Corinto is greatly needed. Americans and other foreigners are subjected to many indignities, and obstacles are placed in their way when they wish to leave or enter the country. The commandant says the passport of the U.S. minister is of no value. It is treated as so much waste paper. There is only one recognized document of value, the permit to be obtained from the minister of war. Foreigners who wish to go to the interior or to leave the country find it terior or to leave the country find necessary to obtain this permit. So great is the delay in the office of the minister of war that foreigners frequently lose their passage because the special permits have not been received. IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Mr. Labouchere Questions the Government-Balfour on the Constabulary. London, June 1.—In the house of ommons to-day Mr. H. Labouchere, M. for Northampton, addressed a series questions to the government, with the view of obtaining definite informa-tion as to whether the foreign office had authorized Sir Gerald Portal to pro-claim a British protectorate in Uganda. Sir Edward Grey, under secretary to the foreign office, persisted, in his re-ply to Mr. Labouchere, in referring him to the published instructions given to Sir Gerald Portal when he went on his

In response to inquiries as to the relations between Great Britain and the Triple Alliance, Sir Edward Grey stated that no pledge unknown to parliament had been given to any power that was a member of the Triple Alliance.

Mr. Arnold-Foster, Liberal-Unionist,
M. P. for West Belfast, made a motion to adjourn in order to obtain opportunity for a debate on the growth of crime in the counties of Kerry and Limerick, Ireland, and the alleged failure of the Irish executive to check the increase of outlawry. Mr. Arnold-Foster accused Chief Secretary Morley of being apathetic towards the increase of crime in Ireland, and pointed out that since Mr. Morley had taken office there had been seventeen cases of outrage by moon-lighters in the County of Limerick, as against only one during the preceding 12 nonths.

Chief Secretary Morley in reply admitted the increase of crime in Limerick, but contested the accuracy of Mr. Arnold-Foster's figures. Since April, said, there had not been a single moonlight outrage.

The division on Mr. Arnold-Foster's motion to adjourn resulted in its defeat by a vote of 241 to 203. The house then went into committee on the home rule bill. Mr. Gladstone accepted the proposed amendment that the right to interfere in hostilities between foreign countries be excepted from the powers of the Irish egislature. Mr. George Wyndham, Conservative for Dover, proposed to exclude from the control of the Irish authorities all the Irish pelice except the local forces under ocal officials. Rt. Hon. Mr. Gladstone opposed the

Rt. Hon. Mr. Balfour, leader of the Unionists, spoke at length in support of Mr. Wyndham's amendment. Clause 3, he said, was supposed to provide that the Irish legislature should not have power to make laws concerning the military or naval forces or the defence of the realm, unless some such check as that suggested by the member for Devon were adopted. However, half the pro-visions of the bill must remain as worthless as the paper it was printed on. What value could the members possibly attach to the clause enacting that the new Irish legislature should have nothing to do with the military forces if at the same time the Irish government should be permitted to control an armed force of constabulary 12,000 strong, while in the clause in question lay the right of the Irish legislature to increase the strength of the constabulary? less the amendments were adopted there would be nothing to prevent the Irish government from forming an army of its own under the pretense of reorganizing or developing this constabulary. The central police force was undoubtedly well adapted to present needs; but under the new Irish government it would probably be used as a means to a far different end. One might prophesy with reasonable certainty that it would be made an instrument to accomplish the oppression. TWO AMERICANS FIGHT A DUEL would virtually grant to Ireland the disposition of a semi-military organization, which, in the critical days of the imperial government, might push Great Britain to severe straits. (Prolonged Unionist cheers.) It was true the prime minister regarded it as little less than personal to show any mistrust of the Nationalists; but, even so, parliament must look forward to the effects of this bill, not only upon the Nationalists this year and next, but also upon those who would lead the Irish in from ten to fifteen years. They ought not to shut their eyes to the possibilities of the future, nor create a danger which it might strain the resources of the imperial government to meet. Ottawa, June 3.—Prof. King, Canadidian commissioner on the Alaskan boundary question, arrived yesterday from Vancouver, and reports that the Canadian and United States survey parties are all under way. Prof. Mendenhall, the United States commissioner, was not at the coast, but his assistant, Mr. Ogden, superintended the despatch of the American party. Prof. King sent out seven Canadian parties, each comprising a surveyor and assistant surveyor and from four to five men. The steamer a surveyor and assistant surveyor and from four to five men. The steamer Thistle has been sent up the coast to give all help posible and carry a reserve of provisions.
