Remains of Late President McKinley Borne From Buffalo.

A Mournful Pageant—Roosevelt's Statesmanlike Utterance—Depew on Anarchy—Mrs. McKinley Bears Up Well.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Buffalo today became a city of mourners. The gay and flaming decorations of the Pan-American Exposition gave way to the symbol of sorrow. The black drapery of the city's streets, muffled the tolling bells of the churches. Bits of crepe appeared on every sleeve. The sorrow was apparent everywhere. In the morning a simple service took place at the residence on Delaware avenue, where the martyred president died. A hymn was sung and prayer was offered over the dead body. That was all. Only the immediate family and the friends and political associates of the late president were present. The scene there was pathetic in the extreme. Then the body was borne out to the waiting cortege on the heavy shoulders of eight soldiers and sailors. The cortege passed through the city with a solemn, hushed and grief-stricken air to the city hall, where the body lay in state this afternoon.

There was a remarkable demonstration occurred which proved how close the president was to the hearts of the people. Arrangements had been made to allow the public to view the body from the time it arrived, at about 1.30 until about 5 o'clock. But the people were wedged into the streets for blocks. Two lines were formed. They extended literally for miles. When a constant stream flowed up the steps of the broad entrance into the hall and past the bier. When the doors were closed at midnight it was estimated that 80,000 people had viewed the remains. Mrs. McKinley, the president's widow, and relatives and friends of the dead president will accompany the remains. Mrs. McKinley bore up bravely today during the service at the Milburn residence, and Dr. Hixey, her physician, thinks she will be able to support her trying part in the funeral at Washington.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Buffalo awoke this morning, but early as its inhabitants awoke to get a vantage place from which to view the departure of the dead president, police and soldiers had anticipated them. At the Milburn mansion, where the family of the late president were still in the city hall, where the form of the dead man lay, guards formed early and the streets were kept clear.

Mrs. McKinley was not awakened until after 7 o'clock, when Dr. Hixey went to the room with one of her attendants. She had not slept well, despite the fact that she is almost thought to be dead. Dr. Hixey had given her a sleeping potion. The first thing she asked was a repetition of the query of the last two days, "When am I to see the Major?" Dr. Hixey told her that they were going to let her see him today and she then allowed her attendants to dress her and at 7.45 was ready for her light breakfast, which she took in her room alone.

A few minutes later several figures stepped off the porch toward the carriage. Mrs. McKinley, robed in garb of mourning and supported by Abner McKinley, on one side, and Dr. Hixey on the other, was the central figure. To the surprise of all, she walked briskly, with her head quite erect, her face hidden by her long black veil. She got into the carriage with her favorite niece, Miss Barber. Abner McKinley and Dr. Hixey, and they were driven at once to the depot. President Roosevelt did not rise until 7 o'clock. He dressed quickly and at 7.30 breakfasted with the family of his host, Mr. Wilcox. Just after a second struck he got into a carriage accompanied by Mrs. Wilcox and by his secretary, William Loeb, and drove to the train. A few mounted police followed the carriage, and three or four detectives and secret service men kept near him.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S MOVEMENTS. NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, accompanied by her children, nurse, and maid, reached this city by steamer from Albany yesterday morning. The party left Tawahas Club Saturday morning, going to Albany via Saratoga. After an early breakfast here the president's family, nurse and maid were driven to the 84th street ferry. They left Long Island city soon after for Oyster Bay, where they spent a few hours at the home of James A. Roosevelt, whence she proceeded to Sagamore Hill, the Roosevelt home.

DEPEW ON ANARCHY. NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Senator Depew, discussing the problem of what is to be done to suppress the growth of anarchy, is quoted as saying: "We must begin at the fountain head and stop the reservoirs of European anarchy pouring into our country. Such certification of immigrants must be had as will establish a proper environment and association abroad before they pass our immigrant inspectors. In supplementing this, there should be under proper safeguard the power lodged somewhere to expel known enemies of our laws and country. Legislation also should be adopted that will take unscrupulous attempts upon the life of the president out of the category of mere assaults and make such crimes adequately punished."

DEATH DEALING CYCLONE. HUNTINGTON, Conn., Sept. 15.—A cyclone of terrific force struck the northern part of this town during the morning's thunder storm. Many barns were unroofed and the roads in several directions made impassable by falling trees.

The floor is covered with a rich, royal blue velvet carpet. The car contains fourteen large easy chairs beautifully upholstered in olive green plush. The trucks are double, and of the swing motion pattern with graduated springs. The electric equipment is very complete, and consists of four Westinghouse 50 h. p. motors. The car is also fitted with the Westinghouse automatic air brake, and is capable of attaining a speed of fifty miles an hour. WISDOM. (Washington Star.) "How do you manage to get ahead of all your colleagues in securing important facts of a case?" "Oh," answered the great detective, "that is easily managed. I subscribe to a newspaper."

ROOSEVELT TAKES THE OATH. BUFFALO, Sept. 15.—Theodore Roosevelt was sworn in as president at 3.15 yesterday afternoon in the library of Ansley Wilcox. Judge Hazel of the United States district court administered the oath. With the deep solemnity of the occasion fell upon him he announced to those present that his aim would be to be William McKinley's successor in deed as well as

In name. Deliberately he proclaimed it in these words: "In this hour of deep and terrible national bereavement I wish to state that it shall be my aim to continue absolutely without variance the policy of President McKinley for the peace and prosperity and honor of our beloved country." Such an appeal was not to be resisted, and every member of the cabinet, including Secretary of State Hay and Secretary of Treasury Gage, who were communicated with in Washington, have agreed for the present at least to retain their portfolios.

MCKINLEY'S WILL. NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—That President McKinley expected to live for many years and had every reason for so thinking, is evident from the insurance he carried on his life in favor of his wife. Only a few weeks ago, it can be said on good authority, he had changed a straight life insurance policy of $50,000 for a 20 year endowment plan policy. It was announced by another insurance company today that its agents had paid by check on Saturday to Mrs. McKinley, a policy claim for $15,000. Experts yesterday placed the total amount of insurance carried by the president as not more than $75,000.

THE ANARCHISTS. NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Leon Czolgosz was arrested six years ago at Duquesne, Pa., charged with an attempt to blow up the house of a Polish Catholic priest, according to a special from Scranton, Pa., to the World. Many sticks of dynamite, with caps and wires, were found in his trunk. The same special says: "When the news of President McKinley's death was reported the anarchists held a big justification meeting."
