The residence of Ald. D. J. Furdy was the ecence of a pleasant gathering last Thursday evening the occasion being a sci all in connection with the B. Y. P. U. of the Main street baptist church. Somewhere in the vicinity of one hundred and fifty young ladies and grattenam were in attendance each of whom received, upon entering the pariors a half ticket with a disconnected text upon it. It was the duty of the young gentleman present to find the young lady holding the corresponding ticket and upon doing so he was suppresed to act as her attendant during the remainder of the evening. The plan worked to perfection, the hub bub of "match ig" and at times embarrassing results, proving a source of much pleasurable excitement. The catalogue of popular house games was pretty well used up before the evening was spent, muste filing in each la lin the happy proceedings. The social committee were unfailing in the efforts to have all cipy themselves and that they succeeded admirably was the verdict of all. Bite and yellow, the colors of the N.B. B. Y. P. Unionist were in evidence on every hand. During the evening plane soles were rendered by Mr. Don Pidgeon, duette by Misses Neillie Cowan and Maggie Estabrooks, Misses Eklin and Cowan and others. ## Homogeneity

Is only found in very few of the even high grade instruments. The homogeneity, or uniformity, of tone, in the Pratte Piano is one of the artistic qualities which have helped secure it the title of "The Artist's Piano." No break in quality, no variations in brillance or costness in transition from the high notes to the low; if you strike one after another throughout the scale, you can discover no difference in the quality of the tone. No matter how, lund or gentle, or, in what part of the scale, the tones are uniform.

Glad to prove these claims to any visitors at our Warerooms.

AnjAngel in the Hou

For a good, everyday household angel give us the woman who laughs. Her pastry may not always be just right, and she may occasionally burn her bread and forget to replace missing buttons, but for solid comfort all day and every day she is a very paragon. Home is not a battlefield, nor life one long, unending fight. The trick of always seeing the l'oright side, or, if the matter has no bright side, of polishing up the dark one, is a very important faculty, one of the things no woman should be without. We are not all born with somshine in our hearts, as the Irish prettily phrase it, but we can cultivate a cheerful sense of humor if we only try.

Before plants are brought to their winter quarters, great care should be taken to have quarters, great care should be taken to have them free from parasitic insects, as these multiply so rapidly in the house that they will seriously injure the health of the plant, it not kill it altogether, Aphides and thrips may be dislodged with an application of insect powder, but when the plants are infested with red spider, a thorough wash-ing with sponge and soap suds is necessary. After this the plant should be washed with clean water.

THE GIRLS ARE IN THE WAY Of a Stronger. More Ferceful Literature; So Some Authors Insist.

In the October Ladies' Home Journal Edward W. Bok editorially discusses the plaint of certain authors, that young girls stand in our way of having a strong, force-ful literature. They argue that these offending young girls constitute the majority of book-buyers and readers, and they insist upon having 'smooth, pretty and conventional reading matter.' Mr. Bok is evidently disposed to treat this protest in a facetious spirit, pointing out to the writers
