$2,263,400,000 TOTAL

U. S. LOAN TO ALLIES

That Country Loans $100,000,000 More Each to Great Britain and France.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The credits of $100,000,000 each to Great Britain and France constitute the first of loans to be extended to the Allied governments under the contemplated issue of liberty loan bonds. Prior to last August the treasury had loaned the Allied governments $2,238,400,000 from the proceeds of the first issue of war bonds.

In view of the fact that the money raised by the first sale of bonds had been exhausted the treasury some few days ago sold $300,000,000 of certificates of indebtedness, and Tuesday evening offered for sale a similar amount of certificates.

These $300,000,000 certificates of indebtedness will be retired when the next issue of bonds is sold on November 1. In the meantime the treasury will extend credit loans to the Allies from money raised by certificates.

Yesterday's loans are the first made this month and probably will be followed by loans to other powers. The total thus far advanced to the Entente governments is as follows:

Great Britain $1,105,000,000
France 630,000,000
Russia 276,000,000
Italy 200,000,000
Belgium 53,400,000
Serbia 3,000,000

When the $300,000,000 of credits were extended yesterday the treasury had a net balance of $549,352,324.23, according to the daily treasury statement.

It is interesting to note that the credit loans are increasing the amounts which the government is carrying on deposit with the federal reserve banks. The daily treasury statement shows that deposits in national banks total about $46,900,000. On the other hand deposits in federal reserve banks total $112,300,000. This latter figure does not include deposits made under Allied credit bond act.

F. H. RICHARDSON TENDERED BANQUET BY OPERATORS

The local operators connected with the different moving picture theatres tendered F. H. Richardson, the well known projection expert and editor of the projection department of the Moving Picture World, a dinner at the Grand Hotel last evening. Owing to the hosts being compelled to remain at their post of duty until the close of the various performances the dinner did not commence until 11 o'clock. The guest of honor gave an excellent address on the art of correct projection of moving pictures, and it might be remarked that there is no one more qualified to speak on this subject. Mr. Richardson, who was here last year and delivered an address to the managers and operators of the different theatres, made a stirring appeal to his audience to devote their best efforts to the details necessary to project good pictures on the screen. That his address was appreciated by his hearers was shown by the applause given him.

As a result of Mr. Richardson's visit it is safe to say that the patrons of the different local theatres will benefit by the talk given by him last evening.

STOMACH MEDICINES ARE DANGEROUS

DOCTORS NOW ADVISE MAGNESIA

Just how dangerous it is to indiscriminately dose the stomach with drugs and medicines is often not realized until too late. It seems so simple to swallow a dose of some special mixture or take tablets of soda, pepsin, bismuth, etc. after meals, and the folly of this dosing is not apparent until, perhaps years afterward, when it is found that gastric ulcers have almost certainly been caused by the stomach wall. Regrets are then unavailing; it is in the early stages when indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, flatulence, etc. indicate excessive acidity of the stomach and fermentation of food contents that precaution should be taken. Drugs and medicines are unsuitable and often dangerous—they have little or no influence upon the harmful acid, and that is why doctors are discarding them and advising sufferers from indigestion and stomach trouble to get rid of the dangerous acid and keep the food contents bland and sweet by taking a little pure bicarbonate of soda instead. Bicarbonate of soda is an absolutely pure anti-acid which can be readily obtained from any drug store. It is absolutely harmless, is practically tasteless and a teaspoonful taken in a little warm or cold water after meals, will usually be found quite sufficient to instantly neutralize excessive acidity of the stomach and prevent all possibility of the food fermenting.

GERMAN ARMY IN NORTH FRANCE MAY FALL BACK

LARGE CONFLAGRATION SAID TO HAVE BEEN SEEN NEAR LILLE, BEHIND HUN LINES

Probably Indicates Another Withdrawal in Preparation for Winter Season, as Was Done by the Germans After the Battle of the Somme.

ITALIAN PRESSURE AGAINST ENEMY NORTHEAST OF GORIZIA EFFECTIVE

Although Petrograd Not Considered in Immediate Danger Officials There Are Preparing for Possible Descent of German Army on Capital.

Rome, Sept. 7.—Italian pressure against the Austrians in the region northeast of Gorizia is becoming decisive. The war office announces this today. The enemy has suffered extremely heavy losses for several days in his desperate resistance.

The text of the statement says: "Northeast of Gorizia the enemy, having suffered heavy losses for several days, is making desperate resistance against our pressure, which is continuing decisively."

Signs of Retirement.

New York, Sept. 7.—The World publishes a despatch from London saying numerous large conflagrations are said to have been seen recently near the German lines, particularly in the Lille sector, and it is believed that these fires indicate that the Germans may be planning another winter withdrawal to a new line, as they did after the battle of the Somme.

It is also reported that thousands of the French population in the section of German occupied territory are being sent back within the French lines, via Switzerland, presumably to conserve food supplies and reduce the civilian population to a minimum in the areas where the heavy fighting may take place.

London suspects, however, that this shifting of civilians may be but another indication of the Germans' intention to retire.

Situation in Russia.

Petrograd, Sept. 7.—Though Petrograd, in the opinion of various military authorities, is in no immediate danger on account of the fall of Riga, preparations against the eventuality of an unexpected descent by the Germans are being made. The temporary government has appointed a civil commission with authority to preserve order, suppress seditious meetings, suspend the publication of newspapers and the circulation of the Yps-Mein road.

STARVATION STARTED RUSSIAN REVOLUTION

Sir George Bury, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, Tells of His Trip in That Country.

Toronto, Ont. Sept. 6.—The Russian revolution was brought about because the people were on the verge of starvation, according to Sir George Bury, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who was the guest of honor at the directors luncheon at the Canadian National exhibition today. Sir George said he had travelled through Russia from the north where the reindeer helped with the transportation to the south, where camels were used. He told how, on the eve of the Russian revolution, starving peasants left the country districts for Petrograd in search of food.

CATARRAH DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

A simple, safe and reliable way that calls for no ugly trumpe, phones or other instruments.

To be deaf is very annoying and embarrassing. People who are deaf are generally mighty sensitive on this subject. And yet many deaf folks carry around instruments that call attention to their infirmity. Therefore people who are hard of hearing, who suffer from head noises, or who are actually deaf from catarrhal trouble, will be glad to know of a simple recipe that can be easily made up at home for a few cents' cost that is really quite efficient in relieving the disagreeable deafness and head noises caused by catarrh.

From any drug store get one ounce of Parmit (double strength) about 90c worth. Take this home and put it into a simple syrup made of ½ pint of hot water and four ounces of ordinary granulated sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This treatment should by tonic action reduce the inflammation in the middle ear that a catarrhal condition would be likely to cause and with the inflammation gone the distressing head noises, headaches, cloudy thinking and that dull feeling in the ears should gradually disappear. Anyone who suffers from catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises should give Parmit a trial. It is pleasant to take and is quite inexpensive.

KAISER AIDED THE RUSSIANS IN WAR WITH JAPANESE

The Voice of Russia.

"As it represents the people of Russia, it would be the voice of Russia, if it should decide for peace you are empowered in the way to proceed. If the war is to continue the decisions which are to be taken are so terribly earnest and the consequences so far-reaching that it is quite impossible for any mortal sovereign to take the responsibility for them alone on his shoulders without the help of his people. May God be with you. Do not forget the line of advancement, vis-à-vis the guards."

This telegram was signed "Willy."

Separate Treaty Issue.

On September 29th, 1905, the Kaiser again took up the separate treaty question. In a telegram to the Tsar on that date he says:

"The working of the treaty as we agreed at Bjorko does not conflict with the Franco-Russian alliance provided of course the latter is not aimed directly at my country. On the other hand the obligations of Russia toward France can only go as far as France merits them."

"Your ally notoriously left you in the lurch whereas Germany helped you in every way as far as it could without infringing the laws of neutrality. That puts Russia morally also under obligation to us."

"Do your utmost with the nation to conclude peace on the basis of the proposals made to your delegates at Washington, and if this Russia itself thinks its honor impaired you can return your sword to the scabbard with the words of Francis the First: 'Tout est perdu pour l'honneur.'"

"Nobody in your army, in your country, or in the rest of the world has the right to blame you for this. If the Duma thinks the proposals unacceptable, and the Japanese government refuses to treat on any other basis than again Russia through the voice of the Duma, incites you, its Emperor, to continue the fight, thus taking full responsibility for consequences itself and sheltering you once and for all before the world and before history in the future from the reproach that you sacrificed thousands of Russia's sons without asking the country or even against their wishes. This will end your personal act, be a grand stimulus and strengthen you, as you will feel yourself, to fight to the bitter end, regardless of time, losses and privations which are inevitable. Meanwhile the indiscretions of Mr. Delcasse have shown the world that though France is your ally, she nevertheless made an agreement with England when England was on the verge of surprising Germany in the midst of the peace and while I was doing my best for you and your country, her ally."

France Warned.

"This is an experiment which she must not repeat, and against repetition of which I must expect you to guard me."

"I fully agree with you it will cost time, labor and patience, to induce France to join us, but the reasonable people will in future make themselves heard and felt. Our Moroccan business is regulated to entire satisfaction so the air is free for a better understanding between us."

"Our treaty is a very good base to build upon. We joined hands and signed before God, who heard our voice. I therefore think the treaty can well come into existence. What is signed is signed. God is our testator."

The Tattering Throne.

Little did the Kaiser and the Czar expect at the time of these writings that their intimate conspirative correspondence would soon come to public light through a tattered, Romanoff throne. The Kaiser's war made Nicholas the last of the Romanoff dynasty.

The Moroccan crisis referred to by the Kaiser in his last telegram to the Czar occurred early in 1905. The Mediterranean powers, France, England, Italy and Spain, had through France imposed certain governmental restrictions on the Emperor of Morocco in an effort to bring to an end the internal anarchy in that country which Kaiser Butts in. These restrictions were eminently satisfactory to the Moroccan ruler. Everything was going along peacefully when in March, 1905, the German Emperor announced that he was going on a pleasure trip in his yacht, the Hohenzollern. On March 31, 1905, the Kaiser landed at Tangier, and there made a speech in which he deliberately stated that the Emperor of Morocco was beyond peradventure of a doubt, an independent sovereign.

France and England were bitter at this interference, asserting that by upholding Turkish rights in Morocco the Kaiser was deliberately creating a Mussulman peril to use as an answer to Great Britain's yellow peril.

A fierce international controversy followed, during which Russia as France's open ally, and as proven by the correspondence unearthed by Mr. Bernstein, Germany's secret ally, was placed in a very embarrassing position.
