No Change In Milk Conditions

Deadlock Continues Between Dealers and Producers—Meeting Held Last Night.

The deadlock continues between the milk dealers of St. John and the producers of Kings County. The local dairymen insist that the farmers must accede to the two cent cut established by the dealers. The farmers are equally determined that but one cent shall be knocked off the price they have hitherto secured for each quart of their product.

Meeting Held
An emissary of the King's County Producers, in the person of their secretary, W. H. Huggard, waited on the St. John dealers last night, who met on the Foresters' Hall on Coburg St. Present conditions in the milk business were discussed at some length, and although complete harmony prevailed, Mr. Huggard was instructed to convey to his association the dealers' determination to secure the two cent cut.

Public Demand
They insisted that they cannot refuse to accede to the public demand for lower milk prices, and the farmers in common with the rest of the community must bow to the prevalent price cutting. Wages are down, fodder and feed are down, and milk must take the count as well.

At present there is no change in the conditions which prevailed yesterday, and the consumer has his choice of milk ranging in price from ten to seventeen cents a quart.

The dealers message will probably be delivered to the producers today when a decision as to whether or not they will buck the low cost of living will be arrived at.

The choir of St. John's (Stone) church is requested to be at the church at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon to attend the funeral of the late Charles A. Masters.

Maritime Nail Works Employees

Meetings Held Yesterday to Consider Situation—Feel They Were Not Used Right

The employees of the Maritime Nail Works, who have been thrown out of employment by the sudden closing down of the plant, held several meetings yesterday to consider the situation of unemployment with which they have been confronted. The men claim they were without a job, the company closing the works without giving the men any previous warning of what was to happen, or any notice of their intention to close the works. The shut down was sprung on them and they feel, according to one of them, that they have not been considered treated by the management.

Will Seek Conference.
The executive of the union will endeavor to meet the management in conference to consider the situation created by the company's move, and enter into a discussion of the wage question for the purpose of ascertaining if there exists a common ground upon which they can get together and reach an agreement.

The executive will meet today to prepare a statement for the public, setting forth their views, and justifying their action. They contend they have been placed in a wrong position before the public by the statements attributed to Stanley Elkins, M. P., manager of the Maritime Nail Works, in an interview with The Standard, and by their statement, to be issued, they hope to correct the wrong impression made.

Will Do Their Part.
A representative of the men, but not authorized to speak for them, informs The Standard there is a disposition on the part of the employees to do their part in reaching a wage agreement consistent with existing conditions. He says they are unable to discuss it intelligently among themselves, as they have not been fully acquainted with ideas of the management as to wages and working conditions.

Veteran Branded By The Germans

South African Now in City Bears Tattooed Marks on His Forehead

"I was branded by the Germans," so spoke Van Dyn, a South African Veteran of the Great War, who yesterday on his forehead bore three devices which he states he received while a prisoner in German territory in Africa. He is in St. John at present, having missed the Granplan upon which he was a prisoner. He has secured employment in the woods of New Brunswick.

Captured by Germans.
Van Dyn is a South African, and at the outbreak of war was attached to the 10th South African Light Horse, which were sent to German territory. In February a scouting party was captured by the enemy.

"After about a week," he said, "my chum and I made a break for it, but were captured and they branded us with these marks. I think they did this thinking that we would say something that would give them an excuse to kill us."

Made His Escape.
"In June we made another break, after my chum hit a territory over the head. We were working in a garden, and before we got under cover the Germans were shooting at us. They killed my friend, but I got away. I managed to get back to the British lines after wandering about some time without food."

Branded Captured.
"In August a large part of the Tonic forces were captured, among them were some who had taken part in the branding of Van Dyn. These were tried for their act and Van Dyn was called on the witness stand to give testimony. Van Dyn was called away before the case was decided and does not know how it came out. He says he has seen an officer in England who was branded with the eagles of Germany on his face."

Van Dyn received an honorable discharge and joined the English army. He was wounded twice. On being discharged from the British army after the armistice, he worked his way across to the United States where he enlisted in their force. Leaving there he took a ship at Philadelphia and in England shipped aboard the Granplan.

Mounted Police
The Standard was informed yesterday that the twenty-five undisciplined who effected their escape from the West Side docks Saturday and Sunday were not quartered in the Immigration sheds at the time but had been turned over to the S. S. Granplan.

The local detachment of North West Mounted Police were not in charge of the men at the time. Their duties are confined to the Immigration Building where between 90 and 100 undisciplined are still under detention. The "Mounties" feel rather hurt at reports circulated to the effect that the men escaped from their custody. In justice to them it may be said that a man has never been known to get away from the force, yet "it's not done, you know."

NEW YEAR'S PARTY
Yesterday afternoon at St. Andrew's church school-rooms a New Year's party was held for the sewing classes, which are held for young girls each week. Mrs. O. S. Tremblay was in charge. Rev. F. S. Dowling addressed the members during the afternoon.

Board of Health Estimates Lower

Want Representation on Victorian Order Board—Reports Received

The estimates to be submitted by the Board of Health for the coming year will be $5,900 less than those of last year. The announcement was made at the monthly meeting of the board held yesterday.

Chairman John Kelly presided and George Blake, Mrs. Richard Hooper, W. M. Golding, Dr. W. R. Warwick and Secretary T. M. Burns were, in attendance.

Anti-Tuberculosis Report
Two hundred and four patients were reported on the register of the St. John Anti-Tuberculosis Society by the society's nurse, Miss S. E. Brophy. Of the number, sixty-five are children.

Thirty-seven patients attended clinics during the month, and twenty-three prescriptions were filled.

Seventy-nine patients are under treatment, and nineteen and twenty-five under observation. One hundred and ninety-six visits were made during the month.

Dr. T. Fred Johnson, dairy and slaughter house inspector, reported a marked improvement in the 116 milk samples submitted by him to Dr. Abramson, provincial bacteriologist, for analysis.

Child Welfare
The Child Welfare report submitted by Miss M. J. Munde, of the Victorian Order of Nurses, showed 363 visits during the month. Of these, four were made in Rotherham and 100 in West St. John, the balance in the city.

Thirty new babies were enrolled, and one death occurred from pneumonia. Two cases were reported to the T. B. dispensary for examination. The attendance at the Child Welfare Clinics was reported to have fallen off since the advent of the cold weather.

Charitable organizations were given on the names of twenty poor families deserving of Christmas cheer.

Other Business
A communication from the N. B. Public Utilities Commission confirmed the validity of the contract entered into by the board of health with the N. B. Telephone Co. in 1901.

Permits to keep cows were issued to John A. Cochran and Spurgeon G. Jones of Stanley ward. Both reside over the Newman Brook Bridge.

The water entering the city was favorably reported on by Dr. H. L. Abramson, who, upon tests on samples during the month.

The meeting was of the opinion that the Board of Health should be represented upon the board of directors of the Victorian Order, both in view of the large grant voted by them for the V. O. N's Child Welfare work and because of the closer co-operation to be secured. A motion to that effect was passed.

School Inspection
Dr. Mabel M. Hainington, medical inspector of schools, submitted an interesting report on the health work being done in the city schools.

Considerable measles and some cases of diphtheria and mumps prevailed among the children during the month, otherwise health in the schools was reported good.

Mrs. R. J. Hooper, Dr. Wm. Warwick and W. H. Golding were reported to make a thorough inspection of sanitary conditions in hotels and restaurants, and later confer with the civic authorities as to the advisability of re-issuing licenses to those who do not meet with the board's requirements.

Dr. Warwick, sub-district health officer, urged that children be not allowed to re-enter school after diphtheria attacks until throat cultures disclosed definite negative conditions. At present pupils are allowed to return to their studies after the usual period of quarantine without any proven assurance of complete recovery from all traces of their troubles.

The doctor's suggestion was adopted and physicians will be notified.

Mrs. Edmund Flewelling, assistant food inspector, made her usual report on the shops and made a special reference to some bad eggs which she traced to a large warehouse plant, and which was won come by prompt co-operation.

Question of Fares For Street Railway
Matter in Abeyance for Few Days, But President Says There Must Be Increase.

Having failed so far to secure further information from the Boston experts relative to the schedule of fares submitted by them the directors of the St. John Street Railway Company are unable to come to a decision on the proposal to increase their fares, and the whole question is in abeyance for a few days.

The directors after having received the report of their statisticians, gave it careful study and are not yet convinced the schedule proposed by them would work out satisfactorily to all patrons of the system.

Must Be Increase
President Ross of the Street Railway Company informs The Standard that the fare must be an increase in fare if the company is to carry on in a manner that will afford the stockholders any returns on their investment.

The schedule proposed by the experts in regard to the fare is not acceptable to the directors as it is rather too drastic in some instances and they have requested the statisticians to give the question further consideration for the purpose of arriving, if possible, at a schedule more acceptable to the riding public. It is expected the directors will have the further recommendation of the experts in hand for consideration on Thursday.

Returned Men Hear Unfounded Rumor

Military Officers Have Not Heard That Canadians Would Go to Rhine.

There has been a rumor current among returned soldiers that those who desired were to be given an opportunity to again don the khaki for service on the Rhine. It was reported that the American forces, forming a part of the army of occupation, were to be withdrawn and Canada was to be asked to send an army of volunteers from among former service men to take the place of the U. S. troops.

Has No Information
When approached on the question last night, Brigadier-General A. G. Macdonnell said he had no information on such a move, and seriously doubted that such a project was under consideration. According to the rumor current New Brunswick was to be allotted two companies under Colonel McLean. It is reasonable to assume that if such plans for sending Canadians to the Rhine were being formulated, General Macdonnell would have been made cognizant of the part New Brunswick was expected to play.

General McLean
General McLean, when queried on the situation, was quite emphatic in his declaration that no such plan was under consideration. If such were being considered by military men he felt it would not be sanctioned by parliament which would have the final say in the matter, "Parliament," he said, "would be very much against it."
