

Most people already use—and always will use—Windsor Salt. They know—from years of experience—that Windsor Salt won't get damp or lumpy. There is never even a suspicion of grittiness about it.

Its clean taste—its crystal purity and recognized economy—make Windsor Salt the prime favorite in every home where it is used.

Don't pay fancy prices for imported salt, when Windsor Salt costs so little, and is so high in quality.

Editor's Talk

THOSE of our readers who appreciate a clever piece of work will enjoy this week's cover. The artist is a Canadian who has studied in New York and has lately returned to his native land to join the growing band of progressive artists who are making Toronto a real art-centre.

ONE of our subscribers, an ex-cabinet minister, in remitting for two years in advance, writes as follows:

"It gives me great pleasure to say that I have taken the Courier since its inception. I am exceedingly pleased with the continued improvement you are making in every department of the paper, and consider it a decided success in every respect. It is becoming a more valuable and interesting paper as time goes on."

Another subscriber, a Nova Scotia lady, writes:

"I like the Courier better all the time and I think no wide-awake and patriotic Canadian who esteems his country and the best of his country's press should be without it."

These are kind words and we appreciate them. They will help us face the continuous battle for excellence with renewed vigour. Considering that we must compete with the best periodicals from New York and London, no Canadian periodical can succeed without a broad-based sympathy and co-operation on the part of its readers.

ANY reader who missed last week's copy and who would like to read the first instalment of Mr. Fraser's excellent serial may receive a copy of the issue of October 2nd, by dropping a post-card to the Editor. We consider this the most important and valuable story published in Canada this year.
