•EVERYTHING YOU EVER WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT BEER•

Lesson #4 "The pour"

There are many theories regarding this particular facet of the beer mystique. The one we favour builds a beer head from the bottom. Start by keeping the glass upright and pouring down the middle until a head begins to form. Stop, let the foam build, then tilt the glass to a forty-five degree angle and continue to pour down the side. As the glass fills, bring it back to the upright position leaving a head about two fingers tall. The beer pour is nearly always followed by the ever popular beer "unpour", an exercise in which many of you are already well-versed.

The new Garneau student housing complex began allowing students residence January 1.

The official opening ceremonies were held on December 14. At that time invited dignitaries expressed their pleasure at how the aesthetically pleasing exteriors of the new buildings did not conflict with the exteriors of the older buildings.

University President, Myer Horowitz, expressed his pleasure by saying, "I think great pains were taken to ensure that the new houses blended in with the surrounding community."

Board of Governors Chairman, John Schollosser, said he liked this type of project because, "it came in under budget."

Only one block of the complex was opened to students at the beginning of this year. Of the new housing units, two of four buildings were opened. All in all, the new buildings create a total of 96 units comprised of: 20 one-bedroom plus two for the disabled, 28 two-bedroom plus two for the disabled and 48 four-bedroom.

The World University Games will be taking over the buildings in June but the students will be allowed to move back in in August.
