

MAN RECEIPT FREE... man who suffers with nervous debility...

Business College... IS NOT CLOSED IN SUMMER...

TER NOW. Free catalogue... particulars sent on request...

Summer Vacation... would greatly enjoy one but as of our students are from long...

S. Kerr... FRUIT AND VEGETABLES...

STON HONORS... ADY ABERDEEN... a Thousand Attend the Reception Held in Hotel Somerset

URSSES AS USHERS... N, Mass., June 2.—Over 1,000 and women prominently identified...

ARRIES FIRST WIFE... DEATHBED REQUEST... land Councilman Promising to Dying Spouse He'd Married Her Predecessor

ORCEDEIGHTYEARS... VELAND, June 3.—City Councilman John D. McClain has remarried...

SOCIETY WOMAN... ES $3924 FOR HATS... as-Barre Firm Files Suit against Her to Recover Amount

SPUTES AMOUNTS... ES-BARRE, June 3.—A firm filed a suit in assumpsit against Mrs. B. J. Cobleigh...

QUEEN WILHELMINA IN DRIVING MISHAP... LONDON, June 7.—A despatch received from The Hague says that Queen Wilhelmina and Henry, the Prince Consort, had a narrow escape from a serious accident...

DROWNED AT McADAM... FREDERICTON, June 7.—Word has been received of a sad fatality at McAdam Junction on Saturday evening...

IT WILL TAKE TWO SEASONS... TORONTO, June 8.—Wm. T. Pipes, attorney general and commissioner of crown lands of Nova Scotia, is in the city to arrange with Dr. B. E. Fernow...

JUST ONE A DAY... How the Coffee Drinker Compromises His Health... Some people say: "Coffee don't hurt me," and then add: "Anyway I only drink one cup a day."

WASH THEIR LINEN IN NEARBY WELL... The farmers and residents of South Bay have a grievance against the C. P. R. and some threaten lawsuits...

BRITAIN ACCEPTS AUSTRALIA'S GIFT... Turkish Troops in Persian Territory... 200 Members of New York Band Will Take Part in Big Contest—Harriman at Paris.

BLIND MAN FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED... Residents of Upper Brighton, a village four miles above Hartland, were shocked to hear yesterday of the death of William Rideout, a blind man...

MAINTENANCE OF NAVY MUST BE THE FIRST CONSIDERATION... Addressing Newspaper Men Foreign Secretary Grey Spoke Seriously on the Necessity of Large Expenditures—Statemanlike Speech

SCARCITY OF SCHOOLS IS ONE REASON GIVEN... Various Reasons Advanced by Farmers for Wanting to Sell Properties... It seems hardly possible that there should be over 200 valuable farms for sale in this province...

PREVUE ISLE IN ASHES NOW... The fire rages and the churches and school buildings were also a refuge for many. Hundreds spent the night in the open, guarding such effects as they had been able to save...

RAILWAY BOARD ON A VISIT TO P. E. I. Conference in Charlottetown and Summerside... Export Will be Sent to Look into the Situation—What the Islanders Want

CRIME AGAINST SOCIETY TO DEPRIVE CHILDREN OF PLAY... It Would Mangle Humanity More to Exterminate Play Than Religion—Unusual Address at Educational Conference

CHURCH UNION, SUBJECT DISCUSSED YESTERDAY

HAMILTON, Ont., June 3.—At the session of the Presbyterian General Assembly yesterday the mayor of the city addressed the delegates. Principal Patrick spoke for the committee on Union. He opened by a reference to the attitude of friendliness exhibited by the Anglican Church...

Principal Patrick spoke for the committee on Union. He opened by a reference to the attitude of friendliness exhibited by the Anglican Church. He spoke in high terms of the various labors of the sub-committee. He said that organic union was possible and it was the duty of the churches to unite. He spoke for over an hour and a half.

Principal Patrick of Vancouver rose to offer an amendment. Either he was unable to form a judgment or the union committee was laboring under a delusion. He was quoted as saying that organic union was possible and it was the duty of the churches to unite. He spoke for over an hour and a half.

Principal Patrick resumed his address. He concluded and the house applauded loudly. "The needs of the world will determine how the question may be settled. There is no overlapping problem in the foreign world, so it may be left out. In B. C. there are 117 stations. Most of these are not missions of the negotiating churches, so in B. C. the overlapping is not so exaggerated as often represented."

Principal Patrick resumed his address. He concluded and the house applauded loudly. "The needs of the world will determine how the question may be settled. There is no overlapping problem in the foreign world, so it may be left out. In B. C. there are 117 stations. Most of these are not missions of the negotiating churches, so in B. C. the overlapping is not so exaggerated as often represented."

Principal Patrick resumed his address. He concluded and the house applauded loudly. "The needs of the world will determine how the question may be settled. There is no overlapping problem in the foreign world, so it may be left out. In B. C. there are 117 stations. Most of these are not missions of the negotiating churches, so in B. C. the overlapping is not so exaggerated as often represented."

Principal Patrick resumed his address. He concluded and the house applauded loudly. "The needs of the world will determine how the question may be settled. There is no overlapping problem in the foreign world, so it may be left out. In B. C. there are 117 stations. Most of these are not missions of the negotiating churches, so in B. C. the overlapping is not so exaggerated as often represented."

Principal Patrick resumed his address. He concluded and the house applauded loudly. "The needs of the world will determine how the question may be settled. There is no overlapping problem in the foreign world, so it may be left out. In B. C. there are 117 stations. Most of these are not missions of the negotiating churches, so in B. C. the overlapping is not so exaggerated as often represented."

Principal Patrick resumed his address. He concluded and the house applauded loudly. "The needs of the world will determine how the question may be settled. There is no overlapping problem in the foreign world, so it may be left out. In B. C. there are 117 stations. Most of these are not missions of the negotiating churches, so in B. C. the overlapping is not so exaggerated as often represented."

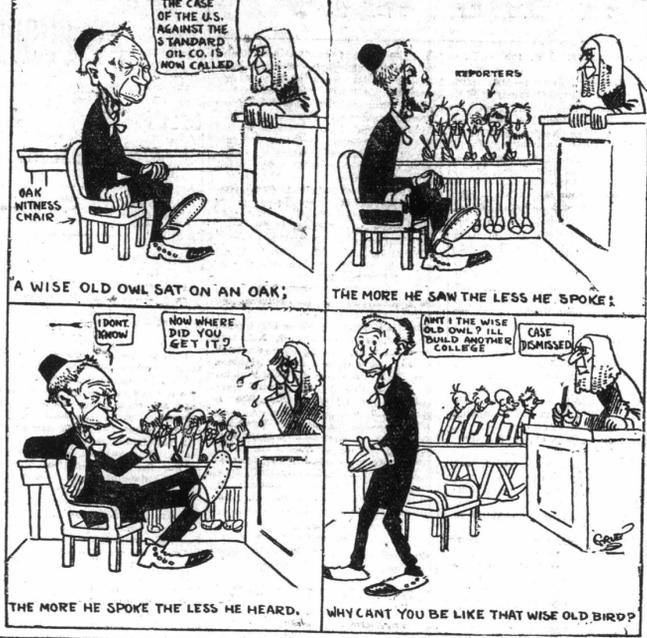

Principal Patrick resumed his address. He concluded and the house applauded loudly. "The needs of the world will determine how the question may be settled. There is no overlapping problem in the foreign world, so it may be left out. In B. C. there are 117 stations. Most of these are not missions of the negotiating churches, so in B. C. the overlapping is not so exaggerated as often represented."

Principal Patrick resumed his address. He concluded and the house applauded loudly. "The needs of the world will determine how the question may be settled. There is no overlapping problem in the foreign world, so it may be left out. In B. C. there are 117 stations. Most of these are not missions of the negotiating churches, so in B. C. the overlapping is not so exaggerated as often represented."

Principal Patrick resumed his address. He concluded and the house applauded loudly. "The needs of the world will determine how the question may be settled. There is no overlapping problem in the foreign world, so it may be left out. In B. C. there are 117 stations. Most of these are not missions of the negotiating churches, so in B. C. the overlapping is not so exaggerated as often represented."

Principal Patrick resumed his address. He concluded and the house applauded loudly. "The needs of the world will determine how the question may be settled. There is no overlapping problem in the foreign world, so it may be left out. In B. C. there are 117 stations. Most of these are not missions of the negotiating churches, so in B. C. the overlapping is not so exaggerated as often represented."

Yes, Why Can't You Be Like John D.?

MAINTENANCE OF NAVY MUST BE THE FIRST CONSIDERATION

Addressing Newspaper Men Foreign Secretary Grey Spoke Seriously on the Necessity of Large Expenditures—Statemanlike Speech

LONDON, June 3.—The second meeting of the Imperial Press Conference was held here today under the presidency of Reginald McKenna. First Lord of the Admiralty, Foreign Secretary Grey also was present and both ministers spoke on the navy. "If the navy falls," declared the Foreign Secretary, "it will be useless to discuss any other subject."

LONDON, June 3.—The second meeting of the Imperial Press Conference was held here today under the presidency of Reginald McKenna. First Lord of the Admiralty, Foreign Secretary Grey also was present and both ministers spoke on the navy. "If the navy falls," declared the Foreign Secretary, "it will be useless to discuss any other subject."

LONDON, June 3.—The second meeting of the Imperial Press Conference was held here today under the presidency of Reginald McKenna. First Lord of the Admiralty, Foreign Secretary Grey also was present and both ministers spoke on the navy. "If the navy falls," declared the Foreign Secretary, "it will be useless to discuss any other subject."

LONDON, June 3.—The second meeting of the Imperial Press Conference was held here today under the presidency of Reginald McKenna. First Lord of the Admiralty, Foreign Secretary Grey also was present and both ministers spoke on the navy. "If the navy falls," declared the Foreign Secretary, "it will be useless to discuss any other subject."

LONDON, June 3.—The second meeting of the Imperial Press Conference was held here today under the presidency of Reginald McKenna. First Lord of the Admiralty, Foreign Secretary Grey also was present and both ministers spoke on the navy. "If the navy falls," declared the Foreign Secretary, "it will be useless to discuss any other subject."

LONDON, June 3.—The second meeting of the Imperial Press Conference was held here today under the presidency of Reginald McKenna. First Lord of the Admiralty, Foreign Secretary Grey also was present and both ministers spoke on the navy. "If the navy falls," declared the Foreign Secretary, "it will be useless to discuss any other subject."

LONDON, June 3.—The second meeting of the Imperial Press Conference was held here today under the presidency of Reginald McKenna. First Lord of the Admiralty, Foreign Secretary Grey also was present and both ministers spoke on the navy. "If the navy falls," declared the Foreign Secretary, "it will be useless to discuss any other subject."

LONDON, June 3.—The second meeting of the Imperial Press Conference was held here today under the presidency of Reginald McKenna. First Lord of the Admiralty, Foreign Secretary Grey also was present and both ministers spoke on the navy. "If the navy falls," declared the Foreign Secretary, "it will be useless to discuss any other subject."

Father Morrissey's Prescriptions

Advertisement for Father Morrissey's Prescriptions. Includes a portrait of Rev. Father Morrissey and text: "I have been curing for 30 years, and am curing today, all the common ailments that come to every family. We have hundreds of grateful letters to prove this. Father Morrissey's No. 7 tones up the Kidneys, removes Uric Acid from the blood, and cures Rheumatism. In tablet form, 50c. Father Morrissey's No. 10 is a most effective and reliable cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and Whooping Cough. A real Lung Tonic. Trial Bottle, 25c. Regular Size, 50c. Father Morrissey's No. 11 Tablets relieve and cure Dyspepsia and all forms of Indigestion. Each tablet will digest 1 1/2 pounds of food. Per box, 50c. Father Morrissey's No. 26 positively cures Catarrh. A combined treatment—tablets for the blood, and a healing salve for the affected parts. Tablets and salve together, 50c. Father Morrissey's Liniment is a household standby for all sorts of aches and pains. Pleasant to use—quick to relieve. Per bottle, 25c. At your dealer's. 51 Father Morrissey Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B."

CRIME AGAINST SOCIETY TO DEPRIVE CHILDREN OF PLAY

It Would Mangle Humanity More to Exterminate Play Than Religion—Unusual Address at Educational Conference

BUFFALO, June 3.—At the opening of the second day's session of the sixth annual conference on the education of backward, truant and delinquent children here this morning, Rev. C. W. Skinner, superintendent of the Industrial Home School, of Washington, D. C., in an address on "The Effect of Play in the Development of a Child," made some rather striking comments upon the value of play. He said that play is too deeply ingrained among the instincts of the human race to be taken out of the constitution of children. "Exterminate play," said he, "and the residue will be an idiot—idiots do not play. It would mangle humanity more to exterminate play than religion or the instinct of procreation. Play is entrenched next to life itself with the passions over the family and the church. Next to the state which cares for life should come care for play. Suppress play and you have the wretched-faced cotton mill boy of the south and the coal-breaker boy of Pennsylvania for the present generation, and devitalized humanity for the following. But it is a crime against society to omit the proper direction of play. Properly directed, play makes captains of industry or rather it promotes what make true captains—character."

BUFFALO, June 3.—At the opening of the second day's session of the sixth annual conference on the education of backward, truant and delinquent children here this morning, Rev. C. W. Skinner, superintendent of the Industrial Home School, of Washington, D. C., in an address on "The Effect of Play in the Development of a Child," made some rather striking comments upon the value of play. He said that play is too deeply ingrained among the instincts of the human race to be taken out of the constitution of children. "Exterminate play," said he, "and the residue will be an idiot—idiots do not play. It would mangle humanity more to exterminate play than religion or the instinct of procreation. Play is entrenched next to life itself with the passions over the family and the church. Next to the state which cares for life should come care for play. Suppress play and you have the wretched-faced cotton mill boy of the south and the coal-breaker boy of Pennsylvania for the present generation, and devitalized humanity for the following. But it is a crime against society to omit the proper direction of play. Properly directed, play makes captains of industry or rather it promotes what make true captains—character."

BUFFALO, June 3.—At the opening of the second day's session of the sixth annual conference on the education of backward, truant and delinquent children here this morning, Rev. C. W. Skinner, superintendent of the Industrial Home School, of Washington, D. C., in an address on "The Effect of Play in the Development of a Child," made some rather striking comments upon the value of play. He said that play is too deeply ingrained among the instincts of the human race to be taken out of the constitution of children. "Exterminate play," said he, "and the residue will be an idiot—idiots do not play. It would mangle humanity more to exterminate play than religion or the instinct of procreation. Play is entrenched next to life itself with the passions over the family and the church. Next to the state which cares for life should come care for play. Suppress play and you have the wretched-faced cotton mill boy of the south and the coal-breaker boy of Pennsylvania for the present generation, and devitalized humanity for the following. But it is a crime against society to omit the proper direction of play. Properly directed, play makes captains of industry or rather it promotes what make true captains—character."

BUFFALO, June 3.—At the opening of the second day's session of the sixth annual conference on the education of backward, truant and delinquent children here this morning, Rev. C. W. Skinner, superintendent of the Industrial Home School, of Washington, D. C., in an address on "The Effect of Play in the Development of a Child," made some rather striking comments upon the value of play. He said that play is too deeply ingrained among the instincts of the human race to be taken out of the constitution of children. "Exterminate play," said he, "and the residue will be an idiot—idiots do not play. It would mangle humanity more to exterminate play than religion or the instinct of procreation. Play is entrenched next to life itself with the passions over the family and the church. Next to the state which cares for life should come care for play. Suppress play and you have the wretched-faced cotton mill boy of the south and the coal-breaker boy of Pennsylvania for the present generation, and devitalized humanity for the following. But it is a crime against society to omit the proper direction of play. Properly directed, play makes captains of industry or rather it promotes what make true captains—character."

BUFFALO, June 3.—At the opening of the second day's session of the sixth annual conference on the education of backward, truant and delinquent children here this morning, Rev. C. W. Skinner, superintendent of the Industrial Home School, of Washington, D. C., in an address on "The Effect of Play in the Development of a Child," made some rather striking comments upon the value of play. He said that play is too deeply ingrained among the instincts of the human race to be taken out of the constitution of children. "Exterminate play," said he, "and the residue will be an idiot—idiots do not play. It would mangle humanity more to exterminate play than religion or the instinct of procreation. Play is entrenched next to life itself with the passions over the family and the church. Next to the state which cares for life should come care for play. Suppress play and you have the wretched-faced cotton mill boy of the south and the coal-breaker boy of Pennsylvania for the present generation, and devitalized humanity for the following. But it is a crime against society to omit the proper direction of play. Properly directed, play makes captains of industry or rather it promotes what make true captains—character."

BUFFALO, June 3.—At the opening of the second day's session of the sixth annual conference on the education of backward, truant and delinquent children here this morning, Rev. C. W. Skinner, superintendent of the Industrial Home School, of Washington, D. C., in an address on "The Effect of Play in the Development of a Child," made some rather striking comments upon the value of play. He said that play is too deeply ingrained among the instincts of the human race to be taken out of the constitution of children. "Exterminate play," said he, "and the residue will be an idiot—idiots do not play. It would mangle humanity more to exterminate play than religion or the instinct of procreation. Play is entrenched next to life itself with the passions over the family and the church. Next to the state which cares for life should come care for play. Suppress play and you have the wretched-faced cotton mill boy of the south and the coal-breaker boy of Pennsylvania for the present generation, and devitalized humanity for the following. But it is a crime against society to omit the proper direction of play. Properly directed, play makes captains of industry or rather it promotes what make true captains—character."

BUFFALO, June 3.—At the opening of the second day's session of the sixth annual conference on the education of backward, truant and delinquent children here this morning, Rev. C. W. Skinner, superintendent of the Industrial Home School, of Washington, D. C., in an address on "The Effect of Play in the Development of a Child," made some rather striking comments upon the value of play. He said that play is too deeply ingrained among the instincts of the human race to be taken out of the constitution of children. "Exterminate play," said he, "and the residue will be an idiot—idiots do not play. It would mangle humanity more to exterminate play than religion or the instinct of procreation. Play is entrenched next to life itself with the passions over the family and the church. Next to the state which cares for life should come care for play. Suppress play and you have the wretched-faced cotton mill boy of the south and the coal-breaker boy of Pennsylvania for the present generation, and devitalized humanity for the following. But it is a crime against society to omit the proper direction of play. Properly directed, play makes captains of industry or rather it promotes what make true captains—character."

BUFFALO, June 3.—At the opening of the second day's session of the sixth annual conference on the education of backward, truant and delinquent children here this morning, Rev. C. W. Skinner, superintendent of the Industrial Home School, of Washington, D. C., in an address on "The Effect of Play in the Development of a Child," made some rather striking comments upon the value of play. He said that play is too deeply ingrained among the instincts of the human race to be taken out of the constitution of children. "Exterminate play," said he, "and the residue will be an idiot—idiots do not play. It would mangle humanity more to exterminate play than religion or the instinct of procreation. Play is entrenched next to life itself with the passions over the family and the church. Next to the state which cares for life should come care for play. Suppress play and you have the wretched-faced cotton mill boy of the south and the coal-breaker boy of Pennsylvania for the present generation, and devitalized humanity for the following. But it is a crime against society to omit the proper direction of play. Properly directed, play makes captains of industry or rather it promotes what make true captains—character."