Why Tea Quality Varies

VOU know how the quality of strawberries from the same patch will sometimes vary from one day to

One day sweet, compact, well ripened, well colored. richly flavored-next day it rains, is cloudy,-following picking is soggy, sour, green, coarsely-flavored, poor.

Tea, also, on account of its volatility of flavor, after picking and during the curing process is very susceptible to weather changes. A few hours of sunshine or bad weather after picking may make the difference between good and poor tea.

So that while one picking may be first class, the next from the same garden may be very poor.

I select only the pickings which come up to the Red Rose standards of richness and strength in Indian, and delicacy and fragrance in Ceylon teas, and thus that "rich, fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea is produced and

Red Rose is good Tea

KELPION

vivate C. T. Mayes, who served through the Boer campaign with the ial Volunteers, has this to say of "Kelpion":
The pot of Kelpion issued to our V. I. C. Kit was one of the few things we rom Cape Town to the front with us.

It was very useful indeed; one of the finest and quickest remedies for prains, skin diseases, wounds and bruises.

"Your Kelpion surprised every one who used it, for it cured foot sores, and ought to command a large sale in South Africa if advertised for that reason. "I have heard praises from all C.I.V's and Regulars who used it, and I arantee every C.I.V. will recommend it."

WHAT KELPION WILL DO.

It will allay all inflammation, whether internal, as of the lungs, to rheumatism in the joints.

It will cure all skin dise ses and eruptions, whether of the nature of

Will reduce swellings, whether due to sprains and hurts or from internal

GEO. BROWN & CO., TORONTO. FOR SALE BY ALL

Nervous, Diseased Men

DRS. K. & K. ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS.

Consultation

FREE.

for Home

Treatment sent

FREE.

Prices Low

No Pay.

Weaknesses, Kidney and Bladder Diseases, and All Diseases Poculiar to Men and Women.

148 Shelby Street, - DETROIT, MICH.

ROBUST MANHOOD

No Cure

A NERVOUS WRECK

District Doings

KENT BRIDGE.

Messrs. Herb Side and Bert Wheel

sunday in the village.

Miss Florence Robinson was called her from Toronto on account of the sudden illness of her mother.

The Polemical Club met as usual stast Friday evening. The subject for asst Friday evening. The subject for debate, "Resolved that Canada is debate, "Resolved that Canada is destined to become a greater nation than the United States," was ably handled. Decision was given in Javor of the affirmative with a management of the number jority of nearly double the number of points. It is claimed that the negative side was handicapped by the absence of some of its support-ers. A good attendance is desired at the next meeting.

Ed. Worth, Jr., of Toronto, spent Sunday at home.

Knox Church choir has been invited to sing at the anniversary at Potany next Sunday. Rev. Mr. Mac-Gillivray, of Chatham, will conduct the services.

would have murdered him when it came to the point."

In answer I drew her closer to me. "Agnes, my good angel," I said; what can I say to you for the comfort you give me? You have put fresh life into me. If only you believe in me, what do I care for the world? Heaven knows I did not mean to kill the man but still the fact remeins that he is The road on the townline south of the bridge here was impassable the greater part of last week on account of the high water. A way, however, was opened up through the fields owned by Messrs. Fred Arnold and E. Lengford. -but still the fact remains that he is dead, and through my agency. Though Human nature responds to heart impulses—to be liked you must like.

Ointment

That Heals

25 Cents.

A pure, stainless iodine ointment applied to cuts.

burns or bruises to subdue pain and reduce inflamma

Cancer and other ma-lign growths often result from the slightest break-

'Kelpion'' will kill the microbe of poison and pre-vent infection.

age of the skin.

nt with us.
one of the finest and quickest remedies for

The

"You do not mean to say that the police will take you?" she cried, starting away from me with a gesture of

"If I am suspected, there can be n

The LUST of HATE

BY GUY BOOTHBY

. Author of "A Beautiful White

Devil", "A Bid For Fortune." "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr.

Nikola," Etc

.

Continued from Yesterday,

"Quite certain," I answered. "I ex-amined him most carefully. Besides, I have made enquiries since and eli-cited the fact that he has never been seen or heard of since that awful night There have been advertisements in the papers offering rewards for any information concerning him."

She did not reply to this, only sat and rocked herself to and fro, her face once more covered in her hands. I knelt beside her, but did not dare, for very shame, to attempt to comfort

"Agnes," I said, "speak to me. If it only be to say how much you loathe me. Your silence cuts me to the heart. Speak to me, tell me my fate, advise me as to what I shall do. I swear by God that whatever you tell me, that I will do without questioning or com ment."

Still she did not answer. When I saw this I rose to my feet, and in my agony must have turned a little from her. This action evidently decided her, for she sprang up from the boul-der on which she had hitherto been sitting, and, with a choking cry, fell into my arms and sobbed upon my shoulder.

"Gilbert," she moaned, 'come what may, I believe in you. Nothing shall ever convince me that you would have killed the man who so cruelly wronged you. You hated him; you longed to be revenged on him: but you never would have murdered him when it doubt that they wil do so. How it happens that I have not been arrested ere this I cannot imagine." "But, Gilbert, you must not let them find you. You must go away—you must

"It would be no use, they would find me sooner or later, wherever I went."

"Oh, what can you do then? Come what may I shall not let you be taken. Oh God, I could not bear that."

She glanced wildly round, as if she fancled the minions of the law might already be on my track. I endeavored to soothe her, but in vain. She was thoroughly frightened, and nothing I could say or do would convince her that I was not in immediate danger. could say or do would convince at that I was not in immediate danger. At last, to try and bring her to a reasonable frame of mind, I adopted other tactics.

"But, Agnes, we are missing one point that is of vital importance," I said. "Knowing what I am, henceforward everything must be over be ward everything must be over between us."

"No, no! she cried, with a sudden change of front. "On the other hand, you have shown me that there is more reason than ever that I should love you. If you are in danger, this is the time for me to prove what my affection is worth. Do you value my love so lightly that you deem it only fit for fair weather? When the world is against you, you can see who are you kissing her sweet upturned face. "You know that there is no one in this world so much to me as you: and for that very reason I cannot consent to link your fate with such a terrible link your fate with such a terrible one as mine."

"Gilbert," she said, "if you repulse me now you will make me miserable for life. Oh, why must I plead so hard with you?" Cannot you see that I am in earnest when I say I wish to share your danger with you?"

I was silent for a few moments. In what way could I make her see how base a thing it would be on my part to pull her down into the maeistrom of misery that might any day draw me to my doom? At last an idea occurred to me.

"Agnes," I said, "will you agree to a compromise? Will you promise me to take a year to think it over? If at the end of that time I am at liberty I will go to your father, tell him my the end of that time I am at liberty I will go to your father, teil him my story as I have to-day told it to you, and, if he will still have anything to do with me, ask him for your hand. By that time I shall probably know my fate, you will be able to see things more clearly, and I shall not feel that I have taken advantage of your love and sympathy." and sympathy.

and sympathy."

"But I want to be with you and to help you now."

"Believe me, you can help me best by agreeing to my proposal. Will you make me happy by consenting to what I wish?"

"If it will please you I will do so," she said, softly.

"God bless you, dear," I answered. And thus the matter was concluded.

CHAPTER XII.

Nearly a week had elapsed since l Nearly a week had elapsed since I had made my confession to Agnes at the Falls, 2nd in three days it was Mr. Maybourne's intention to set out on his return journey to the South. During the whole of that period not one word had been said by Miss Maybourne regarding my story. But if she did not refer to it in speech it was easy to see that the subject was never absent from her mind. On two occasions I heard her father question her as to the reason of her quietness, and I saw that each time she found it a more difficult task to invent a satis-

GOLD PRIZES

GRAND EDUCATIONAL CONTEST

ending in the largest lists of correct words made from the twelve differen

Armour's Extract of Beef

$100.00 in gold will be given as the first prize. $25.00 in gold will be given as the secon $10.00 in gold will be given as the third

$5.00 in gold will be given to each of th $2.00 will be given to each of the nex

CONDITIONS

Use only the following 12 letters:—A.R.M.O.U.S.E.X.T.O.F.B. No letter to appear in the save word twice.

No proper names, foreign words or names opersons, towns or places are to be used. persons, towns or places are to be used.

Words spelled the same, but having differemeanings, may be used but once.

All contestants must attach to their lists metal cap taken from a jar of "Armour's Extra of Beef." Failure to do this puts the list out compatition. The names of the winners of these prizes who determined by judges whom we shall appoin Nolist will be accepted that reaches our officater than 5 o'clock, April 30th, 1806.

later than 5 o'clock, April 30th, 1908.
Write-only on one side of the paper. Afte making out your list, state the number of work to contains, with your full name and address the top of each piece of paper and mark on the outside of the envelope "Educational Context Department," and mail to our address as below.

Armour's Extract of Beef is sold b all druggists and grocers. If your cannot or will not supply you, a small jur will be mailed you, post paid, or receipt of 25 cents in cash or stamps.

Armour Limited JARVIS STREET, TORONTO, CANADA

ractory reply. What this meant me you will readily understand. I could not sleep at night for thinking of it, and not once but a thousand times I bitterly regretted having burdened her mind with my unhappy

Two afternoons prior to our guests departure I was sitting in my veran-dah reading the letters which had been broughe to the mine by the mailman at midday. Mr. Maybourne was man at midday. Mr. Maybourne was sitting near me, also deep in his correspondence, while his daughter had gone to her own room for the same purpose. When I came to the end of my last epistle I sat with it in my hand, looking out across the veldt, and thinking of all that had happendering I had said greatly to all and thinking of all that had happened since I had said good-bye to old England. From one thing my thoughts turned to another; I thought of my wandering life in Australia, of poor old Ben Garman, of Markapurlie, and last of all of Bartrand. The memory of my hatred for him brought me home again to London, and I saw myself meeting Nikola in the Strand, and then accompanying him home to and then accompanying him home to his extraordinary abode. As I pic-tured him seated in his armchair in that oddly-furnished room, all my old horror of him flashed back upon me. I seemed to feel the fascination of his eyes just as I had done that night when we visited that murderous night when we visited that murderous cab in the room below.

While I was thinking of him, I heard a footstep on the path that led round the house, and presently Mackinnon appeared before me. He beckoned with his hand, and understanding that be desired to speak to me. I rose from my chair and went out to him.

"What is it?" I enquired, as I approached him, for at that hour he

SICK HEADACHE

Many varieties of headache exist, those nost prevalent being sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from eonstipation, etc.

Headache is an effect of disease, the cry of the suffering body for relief from some appressing disorder.

Undoubtedly the cause must be removed in order to cure the headache permanently. Wrong action of the stomach, liver or bowels is responsible for nine out of ten cases of headache.

In sick headache (a very common form) there is sometimes nausea and vomiting and usually constipation. In nearly all forms of headache has proved itself a specific—a medici that has cured where all others failed.

Burdock Blood Bitters

that has cured where all others failed.

Keep the stomach, liver and bowels in perfect working order by the use of nature's regulator and tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters, which cures all forms of headache by removing the cause.

Miss L. Smith, Morrisburg, Ont., writes: "I desire to let you know how much good Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I was troubled with headaches all the time, and could get no relief, until a friend told me of your Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking two bottles of it, I can say that I am completely cured."

B.B.B. is for sale at all druggists and general stores. Do not accept something "just as good."

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper

was generally in the depths of the mine. "Has anything gone wrong." mine. "Has anything gone wron "That's as ye care to take my "That's as ye care to take my words he answered, wheeling about and leading me out of earshot of the house. There was something in his manner that frightened me, though I could not for the life of me have said why. When we reached the fence that separated my garden from the open veldt I stopped, and leaning on the rails, once more asked him why he had called me out.

"I told ye a fortnight ago that there was trouble brewing for us with the natives," he said impressively "I warned ye a week ago that 'twas no better. Now I tell ye its close upon us, and if we're not prepared, God help us all."

'What do you mean? Don't speak "What do you mean? Don't speak in enigmas, man. Tell me straight out what your are driving at."
"Isn't that what I'm trying to do?"
he said. "I tell ye the whole country's in a ferment. The Matabele are out, and in a few hours, if not before, we shall have proof of it."

"Good God man!" I cried, "how do you know this? And why did you not make me see the importance of it before?"

"Ye can lead a here to the state." 'Ye can lead a horse to the water but ye canna make him drink, says the proverb," he answered. "Ye can tell a man of danger, but ye canna make him see it. An' so 'twas with ye. I told ye my suspicions a fortnight past, but 'twas only this minute I came to know how bad it really was."

"And how have you come to hear of it now?"

"Step this way an' I'll show ye." He led me to a small hut near the kitchen. On reaching it, he opened it and showed me a man stretched out upon a bed of sacks and grass. He was a white man, and seemed utterly "This man's name," said Mackinnon, as if he were exhibiting some human curiosity, "is Andrews. He's a prospector, and we've been acquent for years. Now tell your yarn, Andrews, and let Mr. Wrexford here see how bad the matter is

"I've not much to tell, sir." said the man addressed, sitting up-as he spoke.
"It came about like this: I am a prospector, and I was out away back on the river there, never dreaming there was mischief in the wind. Then my was mischier in the wind. Then my boys began to drop hints that there was likely to be trouble, and I'd best keep my weather eye open. At first I didn't believe them, but when I got back to camp at mid-day to-day and found both my servants murdered, my bullocks killed, and my riftes and everything else of value stolen, I guessed who had done it, Fortunately, they had passed on without waiting for me, so I got into the saddle again or me, so I got into the saddle again and came here post haste to warn you. I tell you this, the Matabele are rising. The impi that murdered my men is under one of the king's sons, and by this time they are not twenty miles distant from this spot. There can be included that they are averaging the saddle of th no doubt that they are traveling this way. From what my boys told me. Buluwayo is surrounded, while three more impis are traveling night and day with the same object as the one I now warn you of, namely, to cut off the advance of the troops being push ed forward to oppose them from the south."

"Do you mean this? On your oath, are you telling me the truth?"
"God strike me dead if I'm not," he answered, solemnly. Look at me, I've made my way in here as hard as a made my way in here as hard as a man could come, riding for his life. 'That should be proof enough; but if it isn't, Mr. Mackinnon here will speak for me, I'm sure."

"That I will," said Mackinnon. "I've known you long enough, and always found you a straightforward man." I stood for a few moments deep in ought.

"How far do you think they are away from us at the present moment?"
"Not more than twenty miles at most, sir. I left my camp on the river about mid-day, and I've been here about a quarter of an hour. I came in as hard as I could ride; say five hours riding at twelve miles my here more. riding at twelve miles an hour, making a big detour of about twenty miles, to avoid them. That should make between fifteen and twenty miles away now if they did five miles are trained to the miles an hour straight across country.

"And you're sure they mean war?"
"There's not a doubt of it, sir. I know the vermin too well by this time not to be certain of that."
"Then I must tell Mr. Maybourne at once. Come with me Mackinnon, and you too, Andrews, if you can manage it. We must hold a council of war and see what's best to be done."

I led them across the small paddock to my office, and then went on to the house in search of my employer. I found his pacing up and down the verandah, looking rather disturbed.
"Wrexford, my dear fellow," he began, on seeing me, "I have been looking for you. I want a few moments' earnest conversation with you."

ing for you. I want a few moments' earnest conversation with you."

"And I with you, sir," I answered.

He led me beyond the verandah before he spoke again.

"You must hear me first, What I want to see you about is as important as life and death to us all. I have received a number of letters by the ware.

as life and death to us all. I have recelved a number of letters by the mail, and one all all warn me that there is likely to be trouble with the Matabele. The Chartered Company have seen it coming, I am told, and are taking all the necessary steps to secure life and property, but there is no knowing when the brutes may not be on us, and what they may not do if they start with the upper hand.
Now, you see, if I were alone I should have no hesitation in remaining to see it out—but there is Agnes to consider; and, with a woman in the question, one has to think twice before one ventures upon-such a course."
"That is the very thing I came over

one ventures upon such a course."

"That is the very thing I came over to see you about, sir. Serious news has just reached me, and—well, to tell you the truth, we are in danger now, this very minute. If you will step over to my office, I have a man there who has seen the enemy within forty miles of this place, and he tells me they are advancing in our direction even now."

His face, for an instant, became deadly pale, and I noticed that he glanced anxiously at the sitting-room door.

door.

"Steady, Wrexford, for heaven's sake," he said. "Not too loud, or Agnes will hear. We musn't frighten her before we are absolutely obliged. Come to the office and let me see this man for myself."

(To Be Continued.)

ONNOISSEURS PREFER Dawsons WHISKY

DISTRICT DOINGS.

TURNERVILLE.

The evangelistic services now being eld in the Lindsay Road Church will e brought to a close on Friday evning.

ening.

Evangelist Bishop, of Wallaceburg, has awakened interest in the churches. On Sunday evening his theme was Pure Religion. The sared edifice was filled to the doors Another happy event took place on Monday night, Jan. 22nd, when Miss Annie, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Stocking, of Turnerville, was united in marriage to William Cochran of Harbor Beach, Mich.
There is some talk of J. D. Moir renting his farm and going west in the spring. Mrs. Thomas Buckingham is very

SOUTH BUXTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Pardo spent aunday with Mr. and Mrs. William E.

Bump.
We are glad to report that Harry Jenner is able to be around again after his recent accident. He was going to school and fell on a snag that crippled him for a few days, Many people of this place think spring is near, as frogs, snakes and southern birds have put in their ap-pearance.

pearance.
Some of the farmers of this vicin-

German Care of Landscapes, from the artistic or aesthetic effect of any building or other structure of special importance or as highly prejudicial to any street or part of a city. The alteration of buildings of historical or artistic value may be prohibited by the local authorities, as may the construc-tion of other buildings calculated to in-terfere with such historical monuments.

BIGHT WITH BIN

Fate of the Dyspeptic Who Has Not

In Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Learned the Relief that is Found

CABRIES TROUBLE

ity have started plowing.

John Goulett had a valuable shee killed by dogs last week.

Alex. Boyce has completed cuttin wood and threshing clover aroun

Wm. Dodd's for the summer.

Mrs. John Goulett spent Sundawith Mrs. Geo. Bump.

O. F. Goulett and R. Pardo sp Sunday with friends in GUILDS.

Miss Bertha Serson, of Ridgetown, vas a village visitor on Saturday. Mrs. S. Gosnell, of Kingsville, is isiting her many relatives here.

veck.

The Guilds Dramatic Company w put on the comedy "Widow McGinty in Morpeth on Tuesday evening, Fe

6th.

Wedding bells are ringing in our midst this week.

Quarterly services will be held Scotland church next Sunday more ing at 18.30 a. m. Service will held here in the evening at 7 p. r Mrs. James Guilds has return after spending a few weeks with h son in Kingsville.

Jealousy in a tree that is capat, of bearing fruit, with very little n

It is well to strike the happy m

INSURANCE COMPANIES LOOK ASKANCE

AT A MAN IF HE CANNOT ANSWER THE QUESTION, "HAVE YOU EVER HAD RHEUMATISM?" WITH A GOOD HONEST "NO!

So you see how it bars happiness and comfort if you neglect the means to prevent and cure - the great is the effective means, and while lack of provision for your "loved ones" from such a cause may be counted secondary to a life of suffering to oneself; it is one of the many sides in the study of health that w should take in dead earnest. Every disease has its symptoms - every ailment that flesh is heir to has its note of warning, and it's for us heed or suffer the consequences; and who does not know the signs experience or observation refever, chills, sweating, shooting pair numbness, aching muscles, stiffened and swelled joints.

South American Rheumatic Cure

The great South American Rheumatic Cure gives ease from the first do and it gently and effectually eradicates the trouble from the system. gets at the root of the evil and it gets there quickly — most stubborr cases cured in one to three days. Influential physicians prescribe it as the best and surest cure they know of.

ALL DRUGGISTS AND MEDICINE DEALERS SELL IT. SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE makes blood that is poor and pale rich and red—and that means good health. SOLD BY W. W. TURNER AND C. H. GUNN AND CO.

Most German states have laws to Good Situation scapes by advertisements. The district authorities are authorized to determine YOU must have a good business education. It will pay best to secure it in a large, re liable school, well known to business mens employers for thorough work and compeent graduates. Such a school is the famous what landscapes, buildings or monu-ments of historical or artistic value should be protected. Violations of the statute are made punishable by fine, with or without imprisonment statute provides against the display of pictures, advertisements or other things calculated to mar or disfigure any especially attractive landscape or detract

Detroit (niversity

Under new management it is the best in the land for training young men an women and for aiding them to secure good paying places.

Catalogue free. Enter any time. Write

W. F. JEWELL, Pres. R. J. BENNETT, C. A., Principal W. H. SHAW, Serv.

....... WE HAVE ON HAND A LARGE SUPPLY OF

Lime. Cement. Sewer Pipe.

Cut Stone. & Etc. All of the best quality and at the lewest possible

J. & J. Oldershaw, A FEW DOORS WEST OF POST OFFICE.

STOP TAKING DRUGS

In Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The Dyspeptic is the man who carries the troubles of the world on his shoulders. He is racked with pain and filled with despondency. Life's not worth living to him.

It's his own fault. Helief complete and permanent, is within the reach of all. It is contained in Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, 'They digest the food themselves so there can be no Indigestion where they are used. Listen to what Mr. R. A. Barton, 23 Tyndall avenue, Toronto, says:

"I had Indigestion in its worst form. The doctors could not do me any good and I began to think my case was hopeless. As a last resort I tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, I am thankful to say they had the desired effect.

"I was afraid to eat many things that would have suited my taste, Now I can eat anything that is set before me, asking no questions."