There's more as dear to me.
Thy coming pasteral fulls and dales. Now main ranky most timbe even.
Now main ranky most timbe even.
Now yet the thrill of raptore flow.
As which beneath thy ulties.
The laverest shrill may sing at morn abountly flow by bonn.
But no vir, for me, weaks the hopes.
That gladden's other days.
Uneen by me, the sun may lings.
Edina's stately toworks.
In beauty steep Forth's winding wate.
And Robling shady bowers.

But mem'ry will recall the past
As in life's morning seen.
And tonce, long silent, fall ugain
Like music in a dream.

Yes, Scotland! thou art safety lodged— Within my heart enshrined, And converse strange 1211 hold with thee Of joys Light behind;

For these in youth an impress leave,
The' years have come and gone,
They'll start afresh at mem'ry's call—
And then I'm all these own.

THE END OF ENUCATION. The multitude The End of Educate a child, is to crowd into its mind a given amount of knowledge; to teach the incohanism of residing and writing; to load the memory with words; to prepare for the routine of trade. No wonder, then, that they think everybody fit teach. The true end of education is to unfold and direct aright our whole nature. Its office is to call firth powers of thought, a fection, will, and outward action; power to gain and spread happiness. Reading is but an instrument; education is to teach its but an instrument; education is to teach its best use. The intellect was created, not to nest use. I me interior was created, not to receive passively a few words, dates, and facts, but to be active for the acquisition of truth. Accordingly, education should inspire a profound love of truth, and teach the process of investigation. A sound logic, by which we mean the science of the art which instructs in the laws of reasoning and evidence, in the true method of inquiry, and the source of false judgment—is an essential santage of scool education.

A VANKEE STORY.—A young gentleman, a stranger, in the city of Baltimore, entered a fashionable church, passing up the middle aisle, and down the side, without receiving a request to take a went. A few moments after he returned with a large block upon his shoulder, as heavy as he could well staghis shoulder, as heavy as he could well stag-ger under; his countenance was immovea-ble; again the good people stared, and half rose from their seats with their books in their hands. At length he placed the block in the very centre of the principal passage, and seated himself upon it. (Then, for the first time, the reproach was felt! Every pew door in the church was thrown open! But no, the stranger was a gentleman; he came not there for disturbance; he moved not, amiled not, but preserved the utmost deco-rum, till the services were concluded, when he deliberately shouldered his block, and with the same slow step bore it off and re-placed it where he found it. The congre-

THE POWER OF IMABINATION .- Mr. G. had by degrees become so attached to his cups, that he could not comfortably pass eleven o'clock without his "nip" of brandy, eleven o'clock without his "nip." of brandy, and was yet anxious to avoid the suspicion of being an habitual drinker. He had used up all the stereotyped reasons, such as "a slight pain," "a kind of sinking," not "feeling right," &c. One day, at the usual hour, he called for his brandy-and-water, saying, "I am extremely dry; I am going to have saft-fish for dinner."

GET UP.—There is no time spent more stupidly than that whice some luxurious people pass in a morning between sleeping and waking, after nature has been fully gratified. He who is asleep, is receiving the refreshment necessary to fit him for action, but the hours spent in dozing and slumbering, can hardly be called oxistence.

farmer, you told us your place was a good place for hunting, now we've tramped it for three hours and found no game. Just so; well, I calculate, as a general thing, that the less game there is, the more hunting you have.

You have.

The Hon. Harner Mann, in a lecture on "woman," lately delivered in Boston (U.S.), says: "I se but one reason, why woman should not preach the Gospel, and that reason is, that it is too thousand times better to go about practising the Gespel, than even to preach it."

Those that wish for what they have not forfeit the enjoyment of what they have. Set a just tarm to your wishes, and when you have touched it make a stand; happiness only begins when wishes and, and he that heakers after more enjoys nothing.

Sin. Some time since, pow of my children was afficted with draudful craptions over the body and linbs. I obtained the advice of several continent Surgeons and Physicians, by all of whom the case was considered hopeless. At length 1 vised, your Ointment and Pills, and without enaggeration, the effect was sinculous, for by persevering in their sea, all the craptions quickly disappeared, and the child was reatored to, parfect leadth.

I previously lest a child from a similar complaint, and I firstly believe, had I in her case adopted your medicines, she would have been aved also. I shall be happy to testify the truth of this to any enquirer.

Copy of a Letter, from Mr. J. M. Clerniell, of Newcastle-on-Type, dated September 20th, 1852.

To Professor Hotloway,

Dean Sin—I see a matherised by Mrs. Gibbon, of 81, Beiley Street, in this town, to inform you that for a considerable period she had been a sufferer from debility, and general it health, accompanied by a disordered stomech, and great derangement of the system. In addition to this, she was terribly afflicted with sloctated wounds, or renning scree, in both, her logs, so that she was totally incapable of doing her usual work. In this distressing condition whe adopted the use of your Fills and Ointment, and she states that in a wonderful short time, they effected a perfect cure of her logs, and restored her, constitution to health and strength; and that she is now esabled to walk about with case and comfort. Several other persons in this neighbourhood have also received extraordinary benefit from the use of your invaluable medicines.

Copy of a Letter from Messre. Walker and Co., Chemists, Bath.

To Professor Hollowar,
Daal Sin—Among the numerous cures effected by the use of your valuable medicines in this neighbourhood, we may mention that of an old, lady living in the Village of Preston, about five miles from this City. She had ulcerated wounds in her leg for many years, and latterly they increased to such an alarming extent as to defy all the asual remedies; her health rapidly giving way under the suffering site endured. In this distressing condition she had recourse to your Ointment und Pills, and by the assistance of her friends, was embled to persevere in their use, until a she received a perfect cure. We have ourselves been greatly astenished at the effect one no old a person, a she being above 70 years of age. We shall be happy to satisfy any enquirien as to the authenticity of this really wonderful case, either personally or by letter.

A private in the Buth Police Ferce, also, has been perfectly cured of an old soorbuit affection in the face, after all other means had failed. He states that it is entirely by the use of your Ointment, and speaks loudly in its praise. We remain, Dear Sir, Your's faithfully (Signed)
