Legislative Proceedings.

On Thursday evening, March 31st, continuing the debate in committee of supply, Mr. Arsenault said he did not see in the resolution any method of levying income tax. A great amount of wrong had existed in this connection. The money owners and lenders should be taxed on the correct amount of their income. He pointed out that at Confederation it was considered that we would not be obliged to resort to direct taxation. On this point he read the words of Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the occasion of providing for the increased subsidies agreed upon at the Conference of Provincial Premiers in 1906. The Leader of the Government admits we have large claims against Canada—$7,000,000. Now why are not these claims properly presented? He concluded by moving the following amendment:

Strike out all words after "that" in the fourth line thereof, and insert the following: "The House regrets that on the re-arrangement of Provincial subsidies, in 1907, the claims of this Province were not presented for an increase in subsidy to meet the increased cost of public schools, public works, etc., as in the case of other provinces, and that the Government has virtually abandoned all other claims of this Province against Canada. And further resolved, that it is inexpedient to grant to the government an increase of taxing powers to be exercised over the farmers of this Province, in view of the wasteful and inefficient manner in which the public services are now, and have for a long time past been carried out."

Mr. McKinnon said he regretted that he had not been in the House in the afternoon when the Premier had attacked him (Mr. McK.) the chairman, Mr. McWilliams, undertook to curtail the liberties of Mr. McKinnon in his remarks; but Mr. McKinnon reminded the chairman that it was unnecessary to have reference made to the rules of debate. These matters were understood. He considered much injustice had been done in the matter of valuation. He wanted to know how the Premier discovered many farmers took declarations that were not correct? The whole trouble came from mismanagement in enforcing the present act.

Mr. Mathieson said Mr. Hughes' remarks were a remarkable exhibition of throwing out old straw. When Mr. Hughes had gone to Ottawa as a delegate to look after our claims he did absolutely nothing to bring our special claims before the Conference of Provincial Premiers. Our delegates did nothing; they did less than nothing, especially when the conference was so broadened as to admit additional claims. The Opposition foretold that the $70,000 additional subsidy would not prevent a deficit in any one year. That has come to pass. Premier McBride did not bow the knees to Laurier. But with us those who control our public affairs are either in the pay of the Dominion Government or are expecting to be elevated to high office. The Premier confessed that the valuers were incapable of valuing the lands. Let the Premier try and do something towards collecting our claims, and then he will not be obliged to increase the taxation on our farmers. He pointed out how strange it was that anything calculated to injure our Province find immediate favor with the members of the Government, and they applaud any statement to that effect made in the House. Had Mr. Hughes put in our claim of $128,000 it could not have been refused. From those who are looking to Ottawa for favors we

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"I suffered dreadfully from rheumatism but have been completely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, for which I am deeply grateful." Mrs. Francis Smith, Prescott, Ont.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Removes the cause of rheumatism—no outward application can take it. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a powerful blood purifier and cleanser. It is the only medicine that cures the disease at its source.

need expect nothing. The amendment was lost on strict party lines, and the resolution was carried on the same division reversed. On the report Mr. Arsenault again submitted his amendment, which was lost 15 to 12, and the report was carried on same division reversed.

After routine on Friday forenoon, April 1st, Hon. Mr. Richards moved a resolution for the appointment of a committee of seven members of the Legislature to interview the department of railways and request some changes in the proposed spring timetable on the P. E. Island Railway, especially on the western branch between Tisbury and Charlottetown. The motion was seconded by Hon. Mr. Hughes and discussed by Mr. Mathieson, Mr. Arsenault, Mr. J. A. McDonald, Mr. Kennedy and others. Mr. Kennedy pointed out that the grievances complained of in this resolution were incorporated in the resolution on transportation moved by him some time ago; but Mr. Hughes, who now seconds this resolution, moved an amendment which cut out the references to this very grievance. Mr. McLean, Mr. Cox and Mr. A. J. A. McDonald continued the discussion. The following members of the Legislature were then named: Mr. Agnew, Mr. McLean, Mr. Richards, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Prowse, Mr. Wyatt and Mr. J. A. McDonald.

During the evening session some private bills were advanced a stage, then the House again went into committee of supply. On the expenditure for education, Mr. Mathieson requested the Premier to explain why second class salaries were paid to teachers holding third class licenses. This condition of things continued for one year. If it was right and proper to have done this in the cases named and for one year, why not continue the practice? The Premier had no explanation to give other than that given by the Superintendent of Education, that some were in debt in connection with attendance at Prince of Wales College, and also on the ground that some teachers could not pay their board and live on third class salaries. If that constitutes a reason, it is equally good in the case of all teachers.

Mr. McKinnon considered that the Premier's explanation that it was done by Dr. Anderson, was unfair and unjust. Dr. Anderson grants the licenses and through him the salaries are paid; but the Government supplies the money. To say that some districts are desirous of retaining certain particular persons or not, was no explanation or excuse.

Mr. Mathieson considered that this matter is becoming more serious as it is probed. We have knowledge of only seven; but there may be many more. These teachers are paid by a cheque signed by the Provincial Secretary, and these cheques should be audited by the auditor. If the auditor passed these cheques along without protest he committed a criminal act. He was making himself a party to paying out public money under false pretences.

Mr. J. A. McDonald said that in addition to the wrong he lived in this matter, it was decidedly unjust; for if these favors are granted to a few districts, other poor districts are equally entitled to consideration. Referring to the school at Cardigan, he wanted to make it plain that under the principalship of Mr. Bradley, the school came up rapidly. The school has not been inspected for two years. Why is that? He regarded the educational Commission as simply a scheme to postpone any practical action in the matter of improvement in our schools. He pointed out that the candidate running against him in the Cardigan district, was invested by the Superintendent of Education with full powers to establish schools in order that he might increase his popularity in certain sections. He established one school but was not so successful in an other case. After the election was over and the candidate was defeated the new school was allowed to drop out. He referred to the number of small schools throughout the Province, with only a few pupils. A large number of these schools could be amalgamated without removing school accommodation too far from the children. The Prince of Wales College costs too much, he said, and the Province is not reaping as much benefit therefrom as he would.

The Jew in Germany.

Dr. George Lomer, a German medical authority, is about to publish a book dealing with the rapid growth of Jewish influence in Germany. "The Germans must absorb the Jews," he declares, "otherwise the Jews will dominate the country." Dr. Lomer begins by pointing out the superiority of the Jew in all professions in which brain power tells. One-ninth of the Roman Catholic children of Berlin attend the higher grade schools, one-seventh of the Protestant children also attend these schools, but not less than two-thirds of the Jewish children of the German capital receive the higher education. Throughout Germany the Jews form more than 1 per cent. of the total population, but 20 per cent. of the children in the high grade schools of the country are Jews. In the high grade schools of Berlin and other great cities the percentage of Jewish children is still higher, reaching 30, 40 and 50 per cent.

The same predominance of the Jews is evident at the German universities. Among the Roman Catholics 13 in 10,000 and among the Protestants 25 in 10,000 receive a university education, but among the Jews no fewer than 160 in 10,000 receive academic training.

More than half the doctors and lawyers in Berlin are Jews and the same numerical predominance can be noticed in most great German cities. The Jews predominate also as university professors, as teachers, as newspaper men, as artists and architects—in short in all brain work professions.

What, asks Dr. Lomer, are the causes of the superiority of the Jews to the men of Germanic race in these important respects? He replies to this question by pointing out that the Jews are above everything a vast united family who stand by one another and always seek to promote Jewish interests first and foremost. Thus a Jewish doctor will always send his patients to a sanitarium kept by a Jew or a chemist of the Jewish race. A Jewish professor sends his clients to another Jew.—New York Sun.

Home Seekers.

The Grand Trunk Railway are planning Excursions to the Canadian North West. These have been christened Home Seekers' Excursions and bring to mind the thought that there are thousands of new homes yet to be found in this ever-growing country, particularly along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

The Grand Trunk Pacific has acquired sufficient land to make nearly 100 Town Cities between Winnipeg and Edmonton. The lots are now placed on the market for sale, and are being rapidly picked up. Since last September between Winnipeg and Edmonton, the G. T. P. have been operating Passenger and Freight services. This is a distance of 703 miles, and all along the line there are villages and towns springing up with surprising activity. There are four or five divisional points within this mileage that are showing marked development, and would well engage the special attention of those seeking a home or an improvement of their financial condition. These excursions will be run on April 5th, 19th, May 3rd, 17th, 31st,
