MARY PICKFORD

With all her glorious curls, her smile and cheerful spirit comes to you in

"The Love Light"

It moves and cheers—it softens and refreshes—it stirs and gladdens—it charms and appeals—it presents "Our Mary" as an Italian girl in a melodramatic story, so human that you will leave the theatre with the exclamation: PERFECTLY WONDERFUL!

Morine's Reply to Mail.

St. John's, June 12, 1923.
 Evening Telegram.
 Would you kindly publish the letter a copy of which I sent to the Mail for publication.
 Yours truly,
 ALFRED B. MORINE.

St. John's, June 11, 1923.

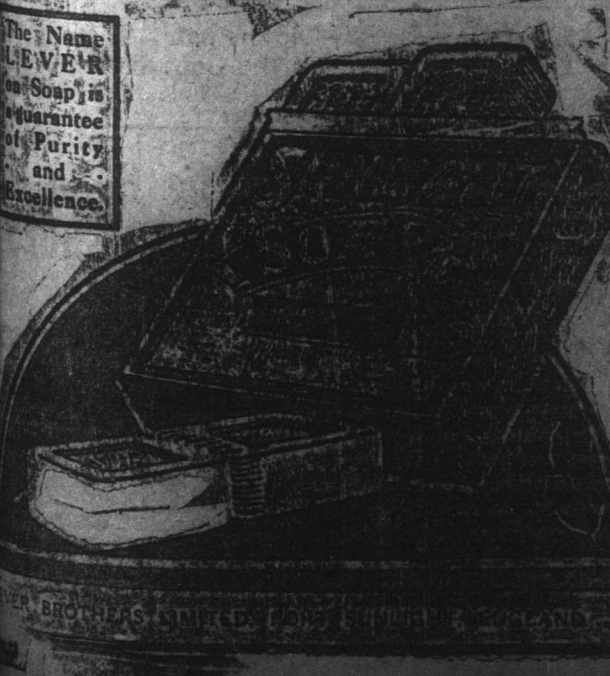

Read the "Mail" and the secret that you made "the disclosures" when publishing my letter of the 8th of June in that letter gave me the opportunity of making a denial that I had "promoted, as or advised" pending election, or any reply, that my associates say to the contrary, and though you say that those who may be animated by a desire to saddle me with a reputation, you ask whose word they should accept. The obvious answer is that as I have publicly denied that a responsible person would talk to you of such a nature, and hence your information is hearsay. You will perceive without doubting your veracity that you have no reason to believe me.

As to say that some years ago, to wit I petitioned the Government out of office, as I do so, I acted like a trickster, with an eye single to my own party advantage. I say that I cannot claim all credit for the 1923 petitions, but I could to support them, and proud of the work I did, and I helped to accomplish two elections. I think all the work was successful, and the Supreme Court Judges of that time were unanimous in their judgment against the respondents. Bribe public moneys had been used, and the only attempt at defence made was that it had been customary to use the public money in the same way. But the Practices Act had been passed in 1913, after which the White party had come into power, and hence, therefore, that the defence was not good in reference to that party at the time they were in power after the election of that Act. The good of the election petitions was lasting, and those who had them deserve the gratitude of the public for putting an end, for at least, to debauchery of the public by the use of public funds. I was in a curious state of mind which I would denounce those responsible for the election petitions, and I would defend the persons charged with the crime of corrupt practices.

Wedding Bells.

LEWIS-OKE.

A very pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized at Gower Street Methodist Parsonage, at 7 o'clock this morning, when Mr. Alex. A. D. Oke, accountant with the firm of Messrs. Royal Stores, Ltd., was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Emily Lewis, Nurse at the Fever Hospital, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis, contractor. The bride looked charming in a costume of Navy Blue with hat to match, and carried a beautiful bouquet of carnations and ferns. She was attended by her sister Miss Clara Lewis, while the groom was ably supported by his brother, Mr. Charles C. Oke, Secretary of the Board of Pensions. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Hammond Johnston, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the party motored to the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Oke, Quill Road, where the wedding breakfast was served. The toast of the newly-wedded couple was enthusiastically proposed and honored, and after receiving the hearty congratulations of their many friends, they motored to Waterford Bridge and entrained for Colinet via Whitbourne where the honeymoon will be spent. The presents received were numerous and costly, which testifies to the popularity in which the young couple are held.

Mr. Robert K. Oke, a brother of the groom, is also being married in Moncton, N.B., to-day, a rather unique coincidence. The bride-to-be is Miss Blanche Powell, of Little Mr. N.E. The wedding will take place at the Presbyterian Manse, Moncton, N.B. at 8 o'clock this evening. The Evening Telegram joins with their many friends in extending to the contracting parties, very many years of happy wedded life.

At the Majestic.

The name of Mary Pickford in connection with screen interpretation usually suggests a light comedy role, abounding in bright vivacious situations which afford room for her natural liveliness. But those who have heretofore enjoyed her comedy work will certainly enjoy her in "The Lovelight," her first emotional effort. Those who saw this production at the Majestic last night were fond in their praises and claimed she rose to her whole career.

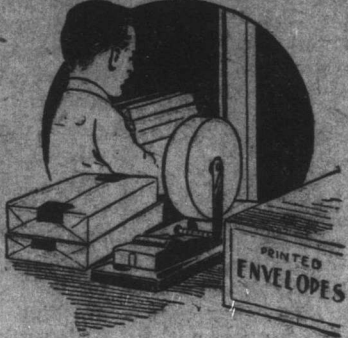

The story centres around the lives of Italian fisher folk in a little village bordering on the Mediterranean. Angela Carlotti (Mary Pickford) is being courted by Giovanni Novella who is held in contempt by the fisher folk because instead of handling the nets and row boats, he raises flowers for the perfume market of Genoa. In time Antonio (Mary's brother) joins the army of his country and a little later Mario, another brother also enlists. Giovanni is still at home and Angela voices her contempt at his apparent lack of patriotism, this decides for Giovanni that he should go and he returns blinded. During his absence Angela cares for his garden and also takes the lighthouse keeper's place. One day Angela comes upon the unconscious form of a sailor, a big handsome foreigner, who claims to have deserted his ship. Angela falls in love with him and they are married. A little later she hears of the death of her two brothers. Now the stranger proves to be an enemy of Angela's country, and how Angela sacrifices everything in order to protect not only her neighbors but her enemies, is presented in a series of gripping and startling situations which naturally must be seen to be appreciated. To those who enjoy a good all round show we say see "The Lovelight" at the Majestic.

Are the City Parks Free?

Editor Evening Telegram.
 Dear Sir.—Now that the season is at hand when city Parks will be frequented by the public in the evenings it is pertinent to ask are the Parks free to the public or is it only a fiction and a delusion to think so? In former years the City Council employed the Bands on certain nights to give concerts for the enjoyment of the public, but in recent years the three city brigade Bands have taken the matter into their own hands as a money-making venture, leaving an entrance fee on Band nights on every citizen—man, woman and child entering the gates. Of course you will be told that the payment is purely voluntary and that you need not pay if you don't like. But when a man is stationed at the gate with a collection box one needs to have a good nerve and rare hardihood to pass the collector without depositing a coin. If he fails to do so he knows that he has rendered himself subject to uncompromising criticisms from the collector and others who may be standing around. He is regarded as a mean man even though he is acting strictly within his rights. I do not knock the Bands, but I contend that they should not be used to deprive any one of free entrance to the Parks, and if the public want concerts they should be paid for through the City Council out of the elvieve revenue like in former years, and the system of collecting entrance fees at the gates should be abolished. It has now developed into such a money-making business that each Band jealously insists on getting its turn to play in Banerman Park and not one dollar of the fifty to seventy collected goes back to the City Council for the privilege of thus using the people's park! It is, I understand, divided up amongst the Bandmen. They have three nights a week for Band concerts. Why not six nights a week? If three more Bands were organized each would want its night, and the principle being admitted it is foolishness to say that the Parks are free to the public. The Bands are, of course, to be commended for their industry and enterprise in making all the money they can, and as long as this privilege is given to them they would be foolish not to take full advantage of it. But what is open to objection is the conduct of the City Council in being the responsible party for depriving any citizen of free admission to the Parks. To put up the argument that frequenters of the Parks need not pay if they don't like to do so will not, I think, be regarded by the general public as a satisfactory answer to my contention. The reasons are quite obvious.

A Slight Fire.

At 8.15 p.m. yesterday the Central Fire Truck was called to Davey's workshop, Prescott Street, where a slight blaze was in progress. The fire was caused by sparks from a chimney. Very little damage was done.

Olivotti and Lawrence Again go Over the Top.

In the language of the street "I'll tell the world" this talented team again last evening scored another brilliant success. To the packed audiences that attended the popular Star comment is unnecessary for they went, saw and realized that all that has been said of them is not alone true, but "the half was not told." To those who did not see them the Man-agement of the Star can only say, it is a movie patron you have missed the best show in the city, and if you are not a movie patron go to-night and see a show that is certainly one worth going to see. Miss Olivotti now enters on her tenth week of her second engagement, and if we are not mistaken this is a record in Newfoundland and a record that this lady has every reason to feel proud of for since her opening night she has been greeted with large and appreciative audiences. Mr. Lawrence, her partner of three weeks, is in himself an attraction that is far and away ahead of many who claim world wide reputation. Last evening they sang "The Cricket on the Hearth" and by popular demand "Sympathy" and the applause given them at both performances must undoubtedly be highly gratifying to them.

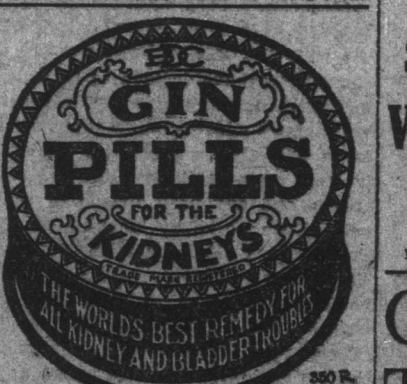

As will be seen from the ad. the management has booked for their theatre the big "Kentucky Derby," which is going to prove a big hit, whilst on to-morrow there is a complete change in which will be included Larry Semon. See this paper.

Old-Time Hawaiian Medicine-Man.

The old-time Hawaiian doctors were really nothing more than sorcerers, who generally confined all knowledge of their art to male members of their own families. The profession being strictly hereditary was, of course, very lucrative. The sorcerers had considerable knowledge of the medicinal properties of certain herbs and plants, but their injudicious use of their materia medica often resulted in the needless and painful death of their patients. They depended more upon what myth and legend told them than upon diagnosis. It was confidently believed by all laymen that these "doctors" were able to cause one's enemies to suffer the most painful diseases, or even to accomplish their death without resorting to deliberate murder. The "medicine-man" extorted from his patron an enormous fee. The feeblest confidence which the deluded people had in these quacks gave rise to the innumerable popular stories of mysterious suffering and even death.

A STYLISH GOWN FOR A MATURE FIGURE.

4382. This is very smart in the new figured silks, or in printed crepe or voile. The blouse and skirt are finished separately, but may be joined together under the belt of the blouse. The sleeve is new and distinctive and the lines of the model are altogether slenderizing and pleasing. The Pattern is cut in 7 Sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 6½ yards of 34 inch material. The width of the skirt at the foot is 2½ yards. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A PRETTY FROCK FOR A YOUTHFUL FIGURE.

4365. Figured silk andorgetta are here combined. The binding is of satin in a contrasting color. This is a very popular style. It will develop well in taffeta, figured voile, and crepe. The Pattern is cut in 3 Sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. A 16 year size requires 4½ yards of 32-inch material. For vest and skirt band of plain material ¼ yard is required. The width at the foot is 2½ yards. Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.
