Town and County News. GUELPH GENERAL HOSPITAL.—Remember the meeting to night for the election of Directors of this Hospital. THE LIGHTNING EXPRESS.—Mr. J. M. Shaw has ceased publishing the Lightning Express and the Elora News will hereafter be published by Mr. Frankland in its place. Mr. T. J. DAY has just received 80 dozen dolls from England. These formerly sold for $1 he will now sell at 50 cents, and smaller sizes proportionally low. This will be welcome news to the babies in Guelph. Mr. JOHN ANDERSON has received Good Words and Sunday Magazine for November. We have no often recommended these periodicals that it is unnecessary to say any more than to announce their arrival. For sale at Anderson's. CASSELL'S ALMANAC.—Mr. John Anderson has sent us a copy of this beautiful Almanac. It contains a number of well-executed engravings and wood cuts, gives a large amount of information, is very handsomely got up, and is moreover very cheap. SOME of the village corporations are paying heavy taxes, but in few instances it is caused by heavy salaries; and especially does this apply to Mount Forest, where a collector has been appointed on a commission of seven-tenths of a cent on the dollar! Mr. MAITLAND COMING TO GUELPH.—At a meeting of the congregation of Chalmers' Church, on Thursday, Mr. H. K. Maitland, of Galt, was appointed leader of the psalmody in that church. We congratulate the congregation on securing such an able leader and accomplished vocalist, who will be a great acquisition to the musical talent of Guelph, which is at present at rather a low ebb. KITTO'S ILLUSTRATED BIBLE.—The agent is now engaged delivering this work, which like all the writings of the gifted author, is marked by wide reach and clear and simple style, and is Catholic and Unsectarian in its spirit. We are informed that nearly sixteen thousand copies have been sold by subscription in the Province of Ontario alone, during the last four months. THANKSGIVING DAY.—The day of thanksgiving, appointed by the Ontario Government for the late abundant harvest, was duly observed in town, all business being for that day suspended. Union services were held in the Congregational and Chalmers' Churches in the morning and at the Wesleyan Methodist Church in the evening. Services were also held in the English Church. There was a good attendance at all the diets of worship, and sermons appropriate to the occasion were preached. GOOD TEMPLARS.—At the annual session of the I. O. of G. T., which closed at Hamilton on Thursday, the following Grand Officers were elected: G. W. C. Templar, Bro. J. Jordan, Montreal; G. W. Vies Templar, Sister E. Clatterly, London; G. W. Secretary, Bro. T. W. Casey, Nanawee; G. W. Treasurer, Bro. M. N. Smith, Toronto; G. W. Chaplain, Rev. M. J. Pearson, Lynn; G. W. Marshal, Rev. E. Storr, Ottawa; G. W. D. Marshal, Sister M. Watson, Toronto; G. W. Inner Guard, Sister A. M. Corner, Hamilton; G. W. Outer Guard, Bro. J. A. Clarke, Collingwood. SUDDEN DEATH.—We learn that Patrick Hewit, a young man, aged about 24 years, died very suddenly on Thursday night. He was employed at Mr. Sorby's farm, Puslinch, and along with a number of other guests was enjoying himself in the house of Mr. Sorby's foreman. While in the midst of their enjoyment Hewit dropped down and died in a moment. Drs. Herod and Keating were sent for, but they could do nothing, for the young man was dead ere the messenger left. It is supposed that the cause of his death was the rupture of a blood vessel. His parents live in Puslinch, not far from the farm of Mr. Jas. Anderson. Mr. WILSON'S FERGUS MILLS.—Mr. Jas. Wilson, of Fergus, has just completed very extensive additions and improvements about his mills. The Fergus Express says he has just completed an addition of a story to his already extensive flour mill, erected a larger building in its rear, forty feet square, and put up another story on his granary. He has also purchased a new steam engine of great power, and has six run of stones in operation—two on the mill and four for flour. The cost of the improvement is about $12,000. In his large woolen mill, saw mill and flour mill he employs about fifty hands. His saw mill runs night and day, and turns out an enormous amount of lumber, which is shipped to all parts. During the present year nearly 15,000 logs have been brought down from Luther, besides those obtained nearer Fergus, and yet the demand for lumber exceeds its supply. CURLING RINK.—A meeting of the stockholders was held in the Secretary's office last night to receive the report of the committee to procure new stock, and to decide as to whether or not the rink was to be lighted with gas. The new stock list was laid before the meeting, showing $250 new stock subscribed with a number who had promised, still to see. It was also decided that the rink be lighted with gas, and the Secretary was empowered to carry the same out; and he having waited on the managers of the gas works this morning, and made the necessary arrangements. Men were immediately set to work to prepare for laying the pipes. Mr. Geo. Howard's tender for fitting up the rink inside being the lowest, was accepted. The Secretary was also instructed to advertise for sale 132 feet frontage on Wellington Street, the vacant space between the Rink and Mr. Barclay's property, which from its convenient position to the centre of the town will, no doubt, soon find purchasers. The prospects this winter of good sport for the lovers of the roaring game, as well as skaters, are decidedly good.

Social Supper.

On Wednesday evening, the 13th inst., Messrs. Wm. Bell & Co. entertained the employees (upwards of seventy in number) in their extensive Organ and Melodeon Manufactory to an oyster supper in the Queen's Hotel. A number of the members of the local press were also among the guests. The supper, as may readily be anticipated from the well-known catering aptitude of "mine host" of the Queen's, was of a most superior character, and received the most ample justice by the participants of the feast. After the removal of the cloth a few toasts were given, indicative of the friendship of the occasion. Mr. Preble, one of the employees of the establishment, briefly proposed the health of their generous employers, to which Mr. Robert Bell made an appropriate reply, expressing on behalf of himself and the other members of the firm, the pleasure it afforded them to meet with their employees on such a festive occasion, and hoped that the friendly relations which had all ways hitherto existed between them would continue to prevail. Mr. Metcalf, one of the firm, then gave the health of the specially invited guests, the members of the "Press." Mr. Innes replied in terms of hearty thanks for the Messrs. Bell's kind invitation to be present on the occasion, and contrasted the day of small beginnings in the organ and melodeon manufactory business in Guelph, when Mr. Robert Bell started in a little room on Wyndham street, "all alone in his glory," turning out about one instrument a week, with the present spacious and commodious premises in which about twenty-five instruments a week, or one hundred per month, are sent out for distribution in all quarters. He also referred to the mutual happy influence these re-unions exerted on all the parties more immediately concerned, and concluded with wishing increased prosperity to the employers and employed of the enterprising establishment. Mr. Hacking and Mr. A. Pirie and Mr. J. A. Davidson also replied in a few appropriate remarks, and Mr. R. S. Brodie substituted a song for a speech. Mr. Robert Bell then gave the health of the "employees," to which Mr. Preble made a most creditable and effective reply, remarking on the great gratification he had experienced in serving under such employers as the Messrs. Bell, and the satisfaction they all felt in being contributors to the success of the firm at recent exhibitions, which enabled them to announce to the world in their own graphic language, "First prize in every class, as usual." (Cheers.) He hoped that the establishment would continue to expand and prosper, and that the same genuine cordiality of feeling would ever be perpetuated in their respective relations. Although a leader man, he did not tumble neck over heels after everything it contained, and, advertising to the nine hour movement in Guelph, he and his fellow employees considered that there would be no change in future, in view of the working men in this young country, which requires all the energy at their command to overtake the large amount of work that lay before them in all directions. He felt especially grateful to the Messrs. Bell for closing at five o'clock on Saturday evenings, even were it for nothing else than as has been alleged, "to hold the baby" for the wives while they got supper ready, (great laughter), and those of them who were not in the proud position of already being married, he would recommend to be so as soon as possible. (Cheers.) At a later period of the evening, Mr. Kribs made a brief and pointed speech in endorsement of what Mr. Preble had stated in reference to their employers, and hoped to see the day when every home from here to the Pacific, along the railway route, would be furnished with an organ from the manufactory of Messrs. Bell & Co., and the premises of the manufacturers enlarged to double their present dimensions. Songs by Messrs. Robt. Bell, A. Cormie, — Wright, Ed. Welsh, S. Soden, and D. Brandon, and other social pastimes greatly added to the enjoyment of the evening, which ended with the usual regrets that the hour of dispersion had arrived, and in the joyous hope that they might all be spared to witness another reunion, characterized by so much genuine gratification and pleasure.

Wellington, Grey & Bruce Railway. COMPLETION OF THE LINE TO SOUTHAMPTON 102 MILES. From an official telegram we have seen we learn that the locomotive "Colonel McGivern" ran into Southampton on Tuesday, amid the cheers of the villagers and a large concourse of people from the adjacent country. Southampton is the terminus of the main line, and is 102 miles distant from Guelph. For some time regular passenger and freight trains have been running to Paisley, eighty-five miles from Guelph. The station buildings are all erected to the terminus of the road, the bridges fully completed, and there only remains a mile or so of ballasting unfinished, which can be done in the course of a week. We would feel ourselves remiss in our duty if we did not bear our testimony to the wonderful energy, clear-sightedness and ability of President McGivern and the Directors of the Company, and to Mr. Wm. Hendrie, the contractor, for the complete and satisfactory manner in which the line has been brought to a completion. Its effects have been for some time noticed even in our city, distant as we are from the line, and its benefits to the people of the counties through which it runs are almost incalculable.—Hamilton Times.

Lambton Election. HON. MR. PARDEE ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION.—The election of a member for Lambton in the Local Legislature, vacant by the acceptance of office of Mr. Pardee, took place on Wednesday.—Mr. Pardee was nominated by David Nesbit, Esq., Warden, seconded by Stephen Cornell, Esq. of Bosanquet. No other nominations were offered.

Mr. Pardee addressed the electors present for about thirty minutes, referring to the causes which led to the present election; namely, the re-constitution of the Ontario Cabinet, and his acceptance of the office of Provincial Secretary. He briefly referred to the Reform Administration in the past, and intimated that there would be no change in future, in view of the working men in this young country, which requires all the energy at their command to overtake the large amount of work that lay before them in all directions. He felt especially grateful to the Messrs. The Vicar's Daughter, by George Macdonald, author of Alice Forbes, Robert Falconer, &c. Toronto, Hunter, Rose & Co.

This is the issue in book form of George Macdonald's attractive autobiographical story "The Vicar's Daughter" which was lately published in serial form in the Sunday Magazine. It is a sort of sequel to his "Annals of a Quiet Neighborhood," which made such a deep impression on all readers at the time of its publication. The present work is no less attractive for its faithful and subtle delineations of character, its pure sentiment, its high morality, and that indefinable delicacy of feeling and expression which pervade all this gifted author's writings. In all respects the printing, binding and general "get up" of the book is in every respect equal to that of "At His Gates," and will form an excellent companion volume to that work. Copies for sale at the bookstores in town. We trust that Messrs. Hunter, Rose & Co. will meet with every encouragement in the publication of these, and works of a similar high character.

According to a Geneva paper, Dr. Merle d'Anigne has left two volumes on the Reformation, almost complete, bringing the history down to the death of Luther.
