THE CHEESE TRADE GENERALLY It is very certain that the recent drop in the cable was not for August goods, as cable limits for such have been increased, the demand being chiefly for this class, which are quot-ed on this market at 8 5-8c to 8 3-4c for finest western. Although the situation is a little mixed at the moment, from what we can gather the tendency is towards firmness, and it is doubtful if finest western, third week of August cheese, could be secured under 8 3-4c. despite the expressed belief of shippers that they could get all they wanted at 8 1-2c. The country markets have gone 1-8c to 1-4c higher this week; but even at the advance factory-men do not appear to be anxious selllittle doubt that up to the present it has been lighter than that of a year ago, notwithstanding the shipments show an increase for the season of 34. 950 boxes. It should not be lost sight of, however, that the stocks in store here are very much smaller than at this time last year, and that the combined exports from Montreal and New York show a decrease of 81,240 boxes. It is claimed that the September make will be large; but we question this, especially if the make of butter continues as liberal as at present, and prices keep about the same. Another factor in the situation is the undoubtedly short make in England from

The sheep market closed at an average decline for the week of 15c to 30c in sheep and 75c to $1 25 in lambs; but for a good export demand the drop would have been greater; sheep sold today at $2 25 to $3 25, and lambs at $3 to $4 25 for common to che port sheep sold at $3 15, and feeding sheep averaging 91 lbs went at $2 85. Awful Catastrophe at Benton

Reduction in the Number of Publications of Banns Discussed.

The General Synod of the Church of England began its session in Win-pointed, the Synod of Huron's representatives on it being Dean Innes and The delegates from the American the platform, followed by on Primate, and were received with applause. Fraternal greetings were extended to the visitors, and were gracefully acknowledged. Notices of motion were received on various subjects. Among them was one by Prof. Johnson, of McGill University, who was against the principle of the General Synod being held triennially, formulating a scheme for holding the synod every six years, and at the same time and place as one of the provincial synods, thus lessening the loss of time and ex-pense for delegates. This was referred to committee. The Rev. J. C. Farthing, re a standing committee on temperance — Whereas, it is desirable that greater unanimity of thought and uniformity of doctrine, ritual and practice, should prevail throughout the church in Canada; resolved, that his Grace the Primate, with the concurrence of both Houses, be requested to name a meeting of the General Synod as to what steps should, in their opinion. Mr. Worrell, seconded by Archdea-tion of the following canon: It shall be sufficient that matrimony may be solemnized according to the rights of the church if the banns of those to be married shall have been published so often only as may be required by the laws of the civil province within which the marriage is to be solemnized, the Rubric to the contrary notwithstanding.

Mr. Worrell pointed out that it was the custom now to celebrate marriages without publishing banns at all, and it would be better to reduce the number of times of publication to one, so that church law could be followed, rather than ignored altogether as at present. One publication was now sufficient by the Ontario act, and the church ought to put herself as close in touch with the law of the land as possible.

Archdeacon Bedford-Jones supported this view, but said he seconded the motion only to give a chance for discussion. Rural Dean Bogert thought that to reduce the number of publications to one would be dangerous, because parties wanting to be clandestinely married might ask to be married five minutes after the banns were pub-Mr. N. W. Hoyles, on the whole, the relaxing of the rule, until the civil law was considerably amended. He gave instances that had come under his notice where persons wishing to be married clandestinely had had their banns published once in a church in the furthest corner of the municipality from which they lived, and before the news reached their relatives, the ceremony had taken place. Archdeacon Bedford-Jones pointed out that as rules were broken by every clergyman who married on a license then he could well use his discretion in performing a marriage on one publication, where they knew there was clandestine intent. He opposed any change in the canon. The same view was taken by several others, including Canon Richardson, and the motion was lost without a division.

Fifteen Firemen and Others Lose Their Lives.

Crushed by the Falling Walls of Burned Theater.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 6.—A special to the Free Press from Benton Harbor, says: The most horrible holocaust, with great loss of life, that ever occurred in this part of the State occurred last night at midnight, when Yore's Opera House took fire and in the fight to save the building and other blocks adjoining, eleven firemen, one a volunteer, met their fate at one fell five of them, six living only a few hours in awful agony, while several others met with severe bruises or burns. During the evening the play, "A Factory Girl," had been given by local talent, and the theater had been closed but a half-hour when the fire was discovered. St. Joseph was called on for assistance at the outset. A fire com-pany from that place approached the building through an alley, unloading their ladders at the rear, and while hoisting them the upper walls fell over without a second's warning, covering the men. The catastrophe was witnessed by hundreds of spectators. Follow-

The cause of the fire is a mystery, several theories, from a cigar stub to a lamp explosion, being given.

THE BURNED THEATER. The building was comparatively new, having been erected seven years ago at a cost of $40,000, by Patrick Yore, a wealthy farmer. A two-story brick block, owned by Jos. LI IN WASHINGTON.

Delighted With a Visit to Uncle Sam's

Money Vaults. Washington, Sept. 6.-The Viceroy's visit to the Treasury yesterday, which occupied fully an hour and a half, ap-peared to especially interest the whole party. After a brief and cordial welcome by Secretary Carlisle, the Vice-roy expressed a desire to inspect the money vaults, and in company with the Secretary, Treasurer Morgan and Mr. Foster, the ex-Secretary of State, the lower depths were visited. The massive steel doors of the gold, silver and bond vaults were thrown open and he contents of each explained. The Viceroy's curiosity and interest were aroused, and his questions and their answers covered a wide range. From the vaults the party ascended to the upper floors and visited the issue and redemption divisions, where bakery, I. > TWO HEAVY FAILURES. Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 6.—The Salt Springs National Bank and the State Bank of Syracuse last night took possession of the carriage works of Harvey A. Moyer, of this city, and will run them until Mr. Moyer's indebtedness is secured, which amounts to $230,000. New York, Sept. 5.-The shipping and commission and West Indies fruit importing firm of H. Dumois & Co., composed of Hippolyte and F. Simon Dumois, of this city, made an assign-ment today without preference. Dumois & Co. are among the largest importers of West India fruit in this country. Their last statement to Bradstreet's in November, 1895, showed assets of $660,000 and $258,000 liabilities. Mr. Dumois said that the direct cause of their assignment was the edict of Gen. Weyler, which prohibited the exportation of products.

THE QUEEN REBUKED. An amusing story of ingenuous childhood is told by a former maid-ofhonor in the service of Queen Victoria. A little niece of hers visited her one day at the court. The Queen caught sight of the child, and, pleased with her innocent prattle, asked the ladyin-waiting to have the little visitor come to luncheon some day at the palace. The child was taken on an appointed day to the royal table. While quite unconscious of the honor conferred upon her, she was quiet and well-behaved, and not inclined to talk unnecessarily. During the luncheon chicken was served. The child ate her portion with keen relish, and was careful in the use of knife and fork. Suddenly she stared at the Queen with eyes like round towers. Then point. ing her small finger in the direction of her Majesty, she exclaimed with a tone of reproof:

"O, piggie! piggie!" The Queen had taken one of the chicken bones quite delicately in her fingers, but the carefully trained child, who had been warned in the nursery that this was a breach of propriety young people, could not refrain from repeating an expression that she had aften heard her governess use. Every one at the table was startled, but the Queen at once led in the laughter, enjoying quite keenly the joke at her own expense.

Bitter and untruthful words, stead of injuring the one at whom they are aimed, are very likely to rise up, perhaps after many years, in condemnation of him who gives them voice.
