

WILL PRAY FOR PEACE

Dutch Churches Will Do So on Saturday.

Boers Would Like Britain to Give Them Zululand.

Kruger Says That Wolsley Will Treat Direct With the Alleged Boer Government.

London, March 26.—The Observer, London, the semi-official organ of the Vatican, publishes an article, said to have been written by the Pope. This article calls upon Christians throughout the whole world to pray to God for the conclusion of peace between the noble British nation and the gallant Boers.

It was announced in the Dutch Church in Pretoria that in accordance with the request of the Boer delegates, March 29 will be observed as a day of prayer for peace.

KRUGER KNEW ALL ABOUT IT. Friends of Mr. Kruger deny that former president of the Transvaal was surprised at the news that Mr. Schalk Burger and other Free Staters were on their way to see the Boer delegates at Utrecht.

One of the Boer delegates at Utrecht, Holland, informed the correspondent of the Vienna Neue Freie Presse that on March 17, on the invitation of Dr. Kruger, the Dutch minister who attempted to initiate peace negotiations between the British and Boers some time ago, Mr. Fischer had a conference first with him (Kruger), and then with Mr. Kruger and Dr. Leyds, the Boer European agent, in regard to a settlement of the war. The correspondent quotes this delegate as saying that the deliberations which are about to begin in South Africa between Mr. Schalk Burger and the others of his committee and Generals Dewet and Louis Botha and Mr. Steyn, will be on the basis of independence and the exchange of the Rand for Zululand.

DETAINED SOLDIERS SAIL. St. John, N. E., March 26.—The steamship Parthenia sailed at midnight for South Africa with the British army and also a general cargo.

Ten members of the Second C. M. R., who were detained by sickness in Halifax, and so missed the sailing of the regular transport, took passage on the Parthenia. They were: Corporal Bradley, of Medicine Hat; Lance-Corporal Wade, of London; Trooper Storey, of Ottawa; Hinkson and McBryde, of the Northwest; Brown and McVay, of McLeod, N. W. T.; Morrison, of Winnipeg; Carter, of Medicine Hat, and Perry, formerly on the Mounted Police at Regina.

METHUEN'S GUNS RECAPTURED. London, March 27.—A week ago it was reported that General Kitchener had had certain colonial officers sent for killing, unarmed Boer prisoners. The story was refuted yesterday, but no details were given. The correspondent of the Mail and Empire now learns that the facts are as follows: Four officers of the Bushveldt Carbineers were tried by court-martial on the charge of shooting a number of Boers who had surrendered as prisoners of war. The accused were convicted, and two of them shot and one sentenced to 25 years' penal servitude. The fourth officer acted as King's evidence, and was sentenced to deportation. Official dispatches on the subject are expected to be published shortly.

ARMISTICE ONLY PARTIAL. The Chronicle says it learns that the war office's suspension of operations in South Africa applies only to the Orange River Colony, and only during the conference of the Boer leaders.

DUTCH MINISTERS' ADVICE. London, March 27.—Reports from Brussels and The Hague continue to reveal the anxiety of the Boer delegates to have it understood that peace cannot be made without their knowledge and consent. The dispatches are contradictory, but, however, as are the declarations attributed to Dr. Leyds. It may be safely assumed that Mr. Kruger has known about Mr. Schalk Burger's intentions for several months, and that he has sanctioned the direct appeal to ex-President Steyn and Dewet. The Dutch ministers at The Hague unmistakably are hopeful that peace will be made. They are reported to have warned Mr. Kruger and Dr. Leyds that better terms could be made before than after the coronation, but there is no method of confirming this rumor.

SMOTHER A COUGH. You can smother a cough with your hand but you can't cure it that way. Some medicines only smother coughs.

Scott's Emulsion cures them. Old coughs and deep-rooted coughs can't be cured until the inflammation which causes them has been replaced by healthy tissue.

That is exactly the kind of thorough work Scott's Emulsion does. It changes the entire nature of the throat and lungs so that there is nothing to cough about.

ELECTION IN BEAUHARNOIS

Mr. George M. Loy (Liberal) Has 158 Majority.

A French-Canadian Constituency Returns an English-Speaking Protestant.

Montreal, March 26.—The re-election of Mr. George M. Loy in Beauharnois by a majority of 158 is a remarkable tribute to the liberality and generosity of French Canadians. Although they are in a great majority in the riding, they have returned to parliament for the second time an English Protestant. It is true the majority was reduced by about 50 since the general election, but this is in a great measure due to a large reduction for non-political reasons in the voters' list of the town of Valleyfield. His opponent, Mr. J. G. H. Bergeron, the "Beauharnois boy," had represented the division for over 20 years, had been deputy speaker and was a powerful stump. The chief argument of both himself and his leading supporters was that a Frenchman should represent a French division. Against this racial cry Hon. J. Israël Tarte took a firm stand. He appeared only twice in the country, but on each occasion asked his fellow-countrymen not to be led away by such an appeal to racial sentiments.

The majorities were as follows: For Mr. Loy—Valleyfield 237, St. Cecile 46, St. Stanislas 54, St. Louis 118. For Mr. Bergeron—St. Timothee 21, St. Clement 95, Beauharnois 149, St. Etienne 81.

WINDSOR MAY HAVE A PUBLIC PARK

Proposition Received From the Grand Trunk That Is Likely to Be Accepted.

Windsor, March 27.—There is a possibility that Windsor will have a public park in the near future. For the past five years different citizens have been trying to secure a lease of the Grand Trunk railway property on the river front, between Church street and Janette avenue. F. H. Macpherson, secretary of the Windsor board of trade, has received a proposition from the Grand Trunk, which he considers a fair one and he will submit it to the council of the board of trade this afternoon.

The company offers to rent the property in question for ten years if the city will assume the taxes. A yearly lease will be given, and the city can purchase the property at any time during ten years at its assessed value. O. E. Fleming, who first took the matter up, estimates the cost of improvement to put the property in good shape for a park at $20,000.

CAUGHT 12,000 SEALS.

St. John's, Nfld., March 27.—The steamer Leopard has arrived here from the seal fishery loaded with 12,000 seals. She brings a much better report from the sealing fleet than the steamer Newfoundland brought on Monday. The reports of the Leopard account for about 120,000 seals so far. The sealing steamer Southern Cross put into the harbor of St. John's on Monday evening with only seventy seals on board. She did not sight ice, the seal herds or any other sealing steamer during her entire voyage. She put into the harbor because of severe weather. Hers is the second total failure among the sealing fleet this season.

THE PATRICK MURDER TRIAL

Ended in Prisoner Being Found Guilty.

Sentence Deferred and Motion Will Be Made for a New Trial—Convicted Man Showed No Emotion.

New York, March 27.—Albert T. Patrick, lawyer, was convicted yesterday afternoon of the murder of the elderly millionaire reclusive, William Marsh Rice, on Sept. 23, 1900. The penalty, under the statute, is death in the electric chair. A scant three hours of deliberation at the close of a trial prolonged for nine weeks, and replete with sensational interest, sufficed to enable the jury to reach their verdict. The issue of the trial established the charge that Patrick conspired with Rice's valet, Chas. F. Jones, to obtain possession of the Texan's estate, estimated at $7,000,000, and that Jones killed his employer by the administration of chloroform at the direct instigation of Patrick.

JURY OUT THREE HOURS. At the close of Recorder Goff's charge, which consumed the morning session of the court, the jury retired. This was at 1:50 p.m. At 5:55 they returned to the court room, and were ready to return to court, rather more than an hour of the intervening time having been devoted to luncheon.

In anticipation of a painful trial, excitement in the event of a verdict of guilty, the unusual step was taken of ordering all women to leave the court room. Among the women, the prisoner's two sisters and Mrs. Francis, with whom he boarded. With grave faces the jury filed into their places. Some minutes of tense tension elapsed while messengers were scurrying about in quest of the counsel, who had departed, looking for no verdict for many hours.

PATRICK NEVER FLINCHED. Calm and suave as ever, and with confidence apparently quite unshaken, the prisoner was escorted into the court room. He walked in rapidly, and took his stand facing the jury, with head erect and hands loosely clasped behind his back.

At the word "guilty," pronounced by Foreman MacNeil, in a tone low, but distinct enough to be heard throughout the court, not the slightest change of expression came over Patrick's face, and he remained standing in an almost listless attitude while the customary roll of the jury was being called. His aged father, who sat beside him, sitting almost at his side, and straining to catch the word of the foreman, for an instant trembled, as its import reached him, and then recovered himself bravely and sat calmly awaiting the further proceedings.

Recorder Goff fixed on a week from Monday as the day on which to pronounce sentence.

AFTER THE VERDICT. The verdict was known almost immediately in the corridor, where the women relatives and friends of the prisoner were waiting, and a scene of distressing excitement ensued.

Screaming hysterically, the prisoner's eldest sister ran about the corridor, begging piteously to be allowed to see her brother.

Mrs. Francis fainted, and on recovering broke from the restraints and rushed into the court room, from which Patrick had just been removed. Here she again fell in a swoon. Both women were removed to a room, and were sent home in a carriage.

Capt. Patrick bore the shock of the verdict bravely, and after taking leave of his son as was his duty, he returned to his home. "It is hard; we'll have to try again."

None of the jurors could be induced to reveal how the verdict was reached, an agreement having been made to tell nothing.

A motion for a new trial will be made when the prisoner is arraigned for sentence.

MOONEY "TALKS."

New York, March 27.—Plans for a large hotel at Fifth avenue and Fifty-second street, New York, which have caused much annoyance among the real-estate owners of that district, have been checked. ## THE FUNERAL OF JAS. QUIRK.

Large Crowd at Obsequies of the Murdered Man.

No New Developments Regarding the Crime—Speculation as to How the Dead Was Done.

Brantford, March 26.—The funeral of the late James Quirk, who was murdered last Sunday night, took place yesterday afternoon. It was timed for four o'clock, but long before that time crowds began to gather until the streets in the immediate vicinity of the hotel were so densely packed with people that policemen had to clear the way. The body was completely surrounded by magnificent floral tributes from many friends.

The funeral, which was conducted under the auspices of the Sons of England Society, was the largest Brantford has had for some time. Rev. H. McKenna conducted the services at the house and at the cemetery. The floral tributes were most beautiful and so numerous that it required a large carriage to carry them.

TRACING QUIRK'S MOVEMENTS.

There are no new developments in the murder case, but a government detective is hard at work endeavoring to trace the doings of the murdered man during the half hour from the time he was last seen by him in the left of the hotel to the moment he was found on the barn floor. It transpires that the barn door, opening on the barnyard, was found open, a fact that had been overlooked before. This seems to indicate that Quirk went from the bar to the barn, and the inference is that he did not expect to be away for any great length of time; for if he did he would have never left the bar unguarded.

WAS HE DECEIVED TO THE BARN?

Those who knew Quirk are very strongly of the opinion that he would not have gone to the barn alone at that hour of the night, but would have had no hesitation in accompanying some one there to show him the birds, for he was an enthusiastic fancier of game cocks. The theory generally accepted is that Quirk was deceived to the barn in this way, and that a third person going with him was in the left. This third person struck Quirk as he was ascending the ladder.

A CLEAR CASE OF MURDER.

The result of the autopsy is not known yet, but the doctors have discovered beyond all doubt that death could not have been caused by an accident. A fall might have caused one of the wounds, but certainly not all of them. This afternoon a thorough search of the hay loft will be made by Inspector Murray in the hope of finding the instrument with which Quirk's head was wounded.

PROBABLY A FAKE LETTER.

The following letter was received from Woodstock by the Brantford Courier, but no stock is taken in it: "Quirks will come home to roost is an old saying. Well, I have only returned the blow. Quirk and his pal, Boyd, done me years ago, and I never got over it. I have waited a long time for my chance, and I have got it, and will get the other crook if it would take ten years longer. They will neither of them have a chance to say, 'God forgive me,' if I can help it. Hunsdred will say, 'Well done over this job.' (Signed) Revenge."

SUBSCRIBER.—A rents from B a farm, mortgaged for all or more than it is worth. Can B's stuff be seized to pay for the mortgage if it should be foreclosed? Ans.—Foreclosure would not affect the chattel property on the farm, but only the ownership of the farm itself. The mortgage, no doubt, however, gives a right of distress for non-payment of interest under which chattels on the farm might be seized. B's chattels would be liable to such distress, and the property of the tenant, A, might also be liable under certain circumstances. Consult a lawyer.
