Chicago, Aug. 12.—Wheat—The wheat market was a large scalping affair today.
There was considerable pressure on the September during the morning, and a number of long lines were disposed of.
Later on the rally there was good buying of the deferred futures, which are relatively much stronger than the September. The strength in the Northwest reports, towards the close of a good export business worked from the Atlantic light freights seaboard, and the continued strength in corn, gave this market a firmer tone. Southwestern acceptances were light, as was also the total wheat movement. It looks to us as if the present bull news had lost its force, and that there will be a scalping market until a change takes place in the volume of the receipts, the export demand or in the threshing returns. Liverpool cables were indifferent. Local receipts were 110 cars, with 15 cars estimated for tomorrow.
