No Other Way

BY GORDON HOLMES.

Author of "A Mysterious Disappearance," "The House of Silence," Etc.

She laughed again, little imagining how she was searching his brain for some plausible pretext to dispose of her for the night until he could plan and contrive a way out of the maze in which he was entangled.

"You forget that although we may still remain husband and wife, even in his dream he knew that she was hushing him and when he stole a look at her eyes they were shining like twin stars, 'we have been parted by the law. No, I don't mean that to hurt, for a tremor shook him; he was like a nervous horse that flinches under the gentlest touch, but I don't mean that I am at the house until some later day—soon. Mr. and Mrs. Norton have kindly provided for me. In half an hour, or less, I shall bid you good-night. Perhaps you and Bob will escort me through the wood. I can't now, and to avoid notice, but it is darker now, and if a rabbit popped up under my feet I might scream."

A menacing growl from the dog interfered with her rather breathless explanation. Another growl, louder and fiercer, caused them to turn and seek its cause. Then a man sprang upright near the corner of the boathouse, and they heard his startled cry.

"Call off your dog, Mr. Waverton! Call him off quick! I'll—"

Then Doris did scream, in no mock terror, and Waverton ran back hurriedly, leaving her standing alone on the path, with a whispering rustle of leaves not to move. "Heel, Bob!" he said sternly. "Heel, I say! Now, you rascal, come out and tell me why you are barking there!"

Joe Brett, by no means abashed, since he felt in his hand the handle of the revolver he had discovered, approached her. "What do you want, Mr. Waverton?" he asked, "I'm hearing Mrs. W. and you talking confidentially, I thought, it best to be close, an' not interfere."

"You lying bound, you followed Mrs. Waverton in the first instance! What was your object? Did you mean to rob her? But you shall explain to the sheriff. Walk straight to the house in front of me."

"Sheriff! Walk to the house! No! I couldn't help listening! What else have I done, I'd like to know! Unless you come quietly I shall tie you to a post, and send my servants to drag you by the scruff of the neck!"

Brett edged nearer confidentially, and leered at Waverton.

"Now, look here, boss," he said, "you just listen to reason! At the worst I'm on'y trespassing, and that doesn't cut any ice here. But you go down about me tellin' every word Mrs. Waverton—"

In a cooler moment Waverton would have acted differently; but he was after a while with a turbulent emotion that neither his wife nor this lurking ruffian had any inkling of. So, without further ado, he struck Joe Brett hard and true between the eyes, a straight right-arm blow that stretched the eavesdropper like a log on the path. Instantly he regretted his action, and turned to reassure the frightened woman.

"There is only one way to argue with growing creatures of this type," he began. Then he leaped forward to catch Doris before she fell, but he was too late, for she swayed and collapsed in a dead faint.

Humiliated Woman

Would Not Attend Social Functions Because of Her Hair.

There are many women in this world, handsome in features, perfect in form, graceful of movement and brilliant of mind, who keep in the background just because they have thin, colorless and lustreless hair.

In Paris they understand things about the hair that we do not know in this country. It was a Parisian, Dr. Sangerbon, who discovered that thin hair and itching scalp are caused by a microbe.

It is Parisian Sage that proves Dr. Sangerbon's theory to be correct, for it is rigidly guaranteed to kill the dandruff germ and cure dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

Parisian Sage is a delightfully pleasant hair dressing and invigorator; it is not sticky or greasy. It should be used freely in spring and summer as it keeps the scalp clean and cool and free from dandruff.

Parisian Sage comes in large, 50-cent bottles, and is for sale by all druggists everywhere on the money-back plan. "The Girl with the Auburn Hair" is on every package. Made in Canada by The R. T. Booth Company, Limited, Fort Erie, Ont.

Directions are simple and easy to follow. You get a spotlessly white, perfectly sanitary wash. No rubbing. OMO does the sun's work, for white things.

Safe and sure but must not be used for colored articles, woollens or flannels.

Mrs. J. Henry, of Hamilton, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. I. Banks.

Mr. Jos. Wilkins has returned after attending Toronto Exeter G. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Veale spent a few days recently at the Toronto Exhibition.

The Presbyterian Sunday school picnic, which was held at the club grounds on Friday afternoon, was very largely attended and a very enjoyable time was spent by all. Numerous races were keenly contested by the people. Mr. J. C. McNeven's motorboat added much to the pleasure of all. Considerable damage was done in this vicinity by the severe storm of Thursday night. Trees were uprooted all over the district and the lightning struck in several places. At Mr. Colbourne Smith's place south of the village considerable damage was done by the wind to some outbuildings, which were unroofed. Many telephones were put out of working order. The sectionmen on the eastern section were called out in the night to remove a tree which had been blown across the track.

The teachers and members of the Presbyterian Sunday school desire to extend to Mr. J. C. McNeven their appreciation and thanks for his kindness in giving them the pleasant ride in his motorboat at the picnic.

The Gurney-Oxford

Why it is the Best Range Procurable

It stands to reason that the foundry of national reputation for its equipment of the most notable hotel, restaurant, and institutional kitchens throughout the Dominion, also makes the best range on the market for the home kitchen.

This Gurney-Oxford range is the result of over seventy years' experience and experimental study of improvements to benefit the woman who toils in the kitchen.

Even Baking

By means of a Divided Flue Strip, the heat is divided evenly over the top and down the back and sides of the oven. A pan of biscuits in the front and back of the oven will brown with perfect evenness without having to change their places many times during the baking. The two back lids of the range also receive an equal cooking heat that will boil two kettles at the same time.
