Dear Miss Grey,-We have taken The Advertiser most of the time since we started out in married life, which is nearly three and a half years, and I have enjoyed your letters so much. We moved into our new home on May 1, and I have been trying to spunk up courage ever since to ask for some of those cinnamon vine bulbs, but possibly it is too late by this time. My porch is seven feet wide, and I thought I would like to put a row across the south end. If too late for them perhaps someone who offered another kind some time ago and said it was something that everyone admired, would send hers. I hope by next year I can have some sweet peas and nas-turtiums, as those are the two kinds of flowers I have longed to have for a garden of my own. Will sign my old pen name, with best wishes for the S. C. H., and our shinplaster, and thanking you in advance. As ever,

> WANTS RECITATIONS. Dear Miss Grey and Boxites,-

This is my first letter to your wonderful Mail-Box, which I've been reading closely for some time. I think this way of corresponding is a great help to everyone. I have seen how so many have given so generously to the needy. Now, Miss Grey, may I ask a favor of you? And maybe next time I'll be able to help you. Our Sunday school class is getting up a concert this summer, and I would like very much if you would send me a few comic recitations for a girl between 15 and 16.

We only organized our class last summer. We had a social and were very successful with it, so we were encouraged and thought we would try again.

WILL WRITE TO MAY. Dear Miss Grey,-Just a short letter this time as I see in Saturday's issue where a young girl very lonely and without friends, and wants a woman for a friend. Now I cannot take the place of a mother to her, as I am only a young married woman myself, but I could be a good friend to her, as both my husband and I are constantly on the lookout for some one who needs a friend, some one whom everyone else seems to forget, and if she cares write me, or if I can have her address, I feel sure, if she is in the city, we could help her over some lonely hours, and I am sure she would enjoy a visit to our home. We are busy these evenings with our flowers. I have guite a garden, thanks partly to the Mail-Box, and will share up seeds next year. I hope May does not really feel that nobody loves her, for I feel a very warm spot in my heart for her already. I hope we can help her.
