LET US PATRONIZE OURSELVES

One of our Sackville contemporaries, The Tribune, in noting that there is a great deal being written to-day regarding the rights of the Maritime Provinces—and rightly so—asks if we always stop to think how much of the prosperity of the Maritimes depends upon individual action. In regard to increasing the trade of the Maritimes, do we buy Maritime-made goods as often as we might do? There are many things manufactured in the home provinces which are just as good value for the money (if not better) as can be obtained elsewhere; yet people will persist in sending money to other parts of the continent, rather than trade in their own community. Remember that it is good business to trade at home, whenever the goods can be obtained to the same advantage. Money sent abroad is lost to the community whereas, money spent at home goes to build up the home town.

This is a very pertinent argument. Provinces should patronize those industries within their borders whenever possible. If we can buy our goods next door at prices only nearly as good as goods we should patronize our neighbor. We do not have sufficient confidence in ourselves. We send to the Upper Province, for our life insurance; we go there for the feeds for our farmers; we do not raise enough grain here to supply ourselves; and although this should be a meat-raising country we too often are not content with anything except western beef. Many of us buy our lacrosse from Chicago firms, others from cold storage corporations, in Toronto. As The Tribune hints, we are not loyal to ourselves. We complain about doing being lack of business and yet every public body that wants to see the Maritimes stand upon their own feet and go ahead without flinching. The Tribune in conclusion asks our people to remember that in sending abroad for goods that can be bought just as well at home, we are depriving a fellow countryman of the wages which would be expended in producing goods. Lack of loyalty is in this fact, is responsible to a great extent for the recent exodus to another country. Build up the home industries, the home community, and people will be glad to remain in the old home town.

In the matter of printing, we may say that there is no office in this province that is better fitted for turning out all kinds of commercial printing, nor more experts mechanics than THE GRAPHIC office and therefore our merchants should patronize us and not go abroad for any of their work, as we have evidence from the imprints on their orders sent away from the town. Give us a chance to figure on your orders before going elsewhere.

OUR MILK SUPPLY
 In connection with the campaign of the Montreal Star against tuberculosis much valuable information on the matter of milk supply is being presented to the public. In a recent issue of that paper there appears an article by Principal Harrison of the MacDonald College, and people will be glad to remain in the old home town.

to reflect on the Board of Health here. Splendid work is undoubtedly being done. But certain facts of which we are aware lead us to believe that the milk supply of the town is not just what it ought to be. To point to specific cases of disease having impure milk as their source is more than we can do. We make no charge against those who bring milk into town nor against restaurants or stores that sell it but we do know, from actual experience with pure milk several times within the past few weeks, that in a number of instances there has been gross negligence somewhere. When the family milk pail is found to contain foreign matter of a decidedly obnoxious nature it is time some investigation has begun. It is altogether likely that if the certain avenues of Campbellton's milk supply were given a little attention the possibility of the spread of disease through impure milk would be greatly lessened. No doubt milk dealers would heartily co-operate with the health officers. They must realize that the consumer is paying enough to secure not only an edible commodity but one free from disease-spreading bacteria.

SOME PERTINENT VIEWS

ON A TIMELY SUBJECT
 Canadian business men are coming out strongly for the policy of manufacturing the raw materials of the Dominion within the country, according to the Financial Post, which quotes C. Howard Smith, President of the Manufacturers' Association, Sir Lomer Gouin and Hon. James Lyons, Minister of Lands and Forests in the Ontario Government. Mr. Smith says that no country can get rich while exporting its raw material to be manufactured elsewhere. He points out that Canada's exports to the United States consist largely of raw material and the imports from the country of finished products.

Canada controls the world's asbestos supply, and last year the United States paid $7,000,000 for raw asbestos that was developed by manufacturers on the other side of the line to almost $80,000,000 in finished articles. Sir Lomer Gouin, in a recent review of the growth of the pulp and paper industry in Canada since the passing of legislation in certain provinces forbidding exportation of pulpwood, disclosed that the production of pulp and paper in Canada had grown from 700,000 tons up to 3,500,000 tons. In 1923 Canada exported pulpwood valued at $13,500,000. Manufactured in Canadian mills $67,000,000 would have been realized if the raw material of Canadians would have shared in the labor provided, while other thousands would have benefited directly or indirectly. Mr. Lyons adopts the same attitude and comes out strongly for the manufacture within the country. The Post, concluding a striking article, declares that we are playing the roll of gullible fools in selling our exclusive raw materials to nations that allow these raw materials to be sent to the United States, where they are put up with tariff barriers against the import of the same raw materials when made up into finished products in Canadian factories and by Canadian workmen.

The Post is not any too forceful in its statements. They are not only striking but true. The manufacture of our raw material in Canada would mean the investment of many millions in industrial development, providing thousands of jobs for thousands of people and inspiring the building of thousands of permanent homes.

Thus a wide market for agricultural products would be supplied adding to the revenues of our railroads, our governments, our manufacturers and our merchants.

A REVIEW OF 1923.
 (The Cincinnati Enquirer)
 There was no improvement in jazz. The craziest song in history made a fortune for its writer. Automobiles killed the most people. Bootleg whiskey came next in deadliness. Ordinary diseases came a poor third. The saxophone continued to grow in unpopularity. No new class words for owners of second-hand flippers or for golf players were invented. Long skirts learned the truth of "they never come back."

An unconfirmed rumor says one pair of cotton stockings were sold during the year. One million mortgages were put on homes to enable owners to buy cars. The craziest song in history made a fortune for its writer. Automobiles killed the most people. Bootleg whiskey came next in deadliness. Ordinary diseases came a poor third. The saxophone continued to grow in unpopularity. No new class words for owners of second-hand flippers or for golf players were invented. Long skirts learned the truth of "they never come back."

Mr. Allan was held in great esteem and is assured of a hearty welcome by his family, his neighbors and his many friends if he will but return.

Scholarly Repose
 "Don't talk to me about colleges," said the self-made man. "Look at me! Do you suppose I should have been any more successful than I am if I'd had a college education?" "No," admitted the professor, "but you might have been less inclined to brag about it."—Boston Transcript.

BUSINESS MEN IN PUBLICITY

CAMPAIGN FOR HOME TOWN

First of a Series of Advertisements and Special Articles Appear in This Issue—Will Continue for Full Year.

The progressive merchants and manufacturers of Campbellton are conducting a "Buy at Home" or a community advertising campaign, and for twelve months, once each month, there will appear in the Graphic a page advertisement giving some of the reasons why our people should be loyal to their home town. This series of advertisements are a little different from anything of this kind heretofore published and were designed by an expert in this line. A series of editorial and news articles will supplement these display pages, and we would ask our subscribers to read them all carefully, and live up to the principles set forth as fully as possible.

In looking over the names of the merchants and manufacturers you cannot but be struck by the fact that these are the individuals and firms which are always to the fore when there is anything to be undertaken in the best interests of the town. They are always ready to put their shoulders to the wheel and help along a good cause. Whether it is the Board of Trade or any other organization, you will see their names names inscribed on its roll.

This being a fact about not our citizens give the firms represented on their trade. They show their treat and are asking you to trade one with another for the welfare of Campbellton. Again we ask you to impress these names upon your memory and give them your business.

OUTCOME OF CARNIVAL ANNOUNCED TOMORROW NIGHT

 questioned to attend the dance in the same costume and wearing their masks thus helping to add to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Tonight
 After the game with Bathurst to-night a moccasin dance will be held in the rink. The ladies of the hospitals will also serve refreshments. It is hoped that a great number will attend and that all will patronize the ladies and thus help to compensate them for their energetic work.

Just what measure of success will attend Campbellton's first venture at a winter sport event of the nature still remains to be seen, but there are a few facts which can be made known at this time. The project has been deplorably confused and the original idea practically forsaken. Whatever success is attained will be due entirely to Mr. J. B. Connolly of Moncton and the ladies representing our two local hospitals. Mr. Connolly originally organized the undertaking and supplied all the better ideas which have been carried out on the programme. Had the procedure which he outlined been followed out as at first intended there is no doubt that the carnival would have been a remarkable success. The ladies of both hospitals have in this instance, as in all others, been energetic workers and with which each item on the programme was carried out contrived to give the occasion that buoyant atmosphere which is so much to be desired at an opening ceremony of any kind.

"Miss Moncton" accompanied by her chaperone Mrs. G. J. Thompson, arrived on the Desha Limited for the opening of the Carnival. At the depot the celebrated young lady was met by a reception committee accompanied by the Citizens' band which played suitable airs with its usual fine rhythm and finish. McKay, presiding, formally welcomed the Queen of the Hub City, Mr. J. B. Connolly of Moncton who organized the Winter Carnival here and who was instrumental in having Moncton's popular game present for the opening, responded to His Worship's address, with very appropriate remarks. Other addresses of welcome followed and after this a musical programme was carried out. A feature of this was a vocal selection by Mr. Connolly whose ability as a singer obviously appreciated by the many highly paid professionals. Following the reception the evening was given over to dancing. Delicious refreshments served by a number of local ladies added to the unalloyed enjoyment of the evening.

Friday and Saturday

Two other very enjoyable events on the Winter Carnival programme were the afternoon of outdoor sport engaged in on the hills to the rear of the town on Friday and Saturday. Both events were well attended and the games were of a high standard. The afternoon of outdoor sport was a real old-fashioned bean supper and dance took place at the Princess Tea Rooms at which Miss Moncton and the chaperones were present.

Miss Moncton's stay in town was longer than expected, her visit being prolonged at the special invitation of her hostess, Mrs. O. J. Klein. While here this celebrated young lady made many friends and impressed all whom she met as being a vivacious young woman of refinement and most pleasing personality. On her departure Sunday morning she left behind her many acquaintances who will look forward to the occasion of her next visit to Campbellton.

Monday's Event

An exhibition hockey match between the locals and the fast Chatham team was Monday's event on the carnival programme. The game was well advertised and drew a large crowd of spectators. The contest was a lively one although the local players exhibited a fine brand of hockey, the visiting team walked off with the honors by a score of 2 to 1.
