The city solicitor reported on the relations existing between the city and gas company. The question as to whether there is a binding contract is an open one, but there are some authorities which go to show that under the circumstances the most the company could recover from the city in case of the city putting an end to the contract would be the value of the gas supplied and work done up to the, time of the city refusing to carry out the agreement of 1884. The committee passed a resolution that it did not consider the city bound by the terms of this agreement.

Ald. Shaw had a petition from the firemen Aid. Shaw had a petition from the firemen asking for an increase of pay. They are paid at the rate of $550 per annum. He moved $600. Carried. Ald. Adamson moved that the second assistant chiefs be paid $700, an increase of $75; and the foreman $675, a raise of $50. Seeing that the committee was in a liberal mood, Electrician Gibson, Chief Ashfield and Chief Ardach rose in turn and anguested that trician Gibson, Chief Ashfield and Chief Ardagh rose in turn and suggested that the liberality should be extended to them. It was explained, however, that these officials are on the salary bill, which can only be dealt with by the executive committee. The committee had therefore no power in the matter. The salaries of the department amount to about $42,000. Other items passed were: Cluthing, $27,85; rubber. passed were: Clothing, $2785; rubber coats and boots, $616; supplies and repairs, $5385; hire of horses and drivers, $9000; men, apparatus, etc., for Rose avenue hall, $2075; men, apparatus, for St. Matthew's hall, $4823; aleighs for winter service, $1380; fire alarm telegraph, $1910; apparatus for St. Mark's hall, $1400. In those who have had the management of basebail matters in this city in the past cannot sink their petty jealousies and carry on the affairs of the club in an honest business like way, they had better say so and step down and out and lovers of the game will then know what to do. The Ontario league season opens May 15, and there is no reason why Toronto should not be represented in it, even although last year's encouragers are quarreling among themselves. Let a meeting of all lovers of the game be called by public announcement and proceed to organize a club on the joint stock principle, place at the head of it a few well-known citizens whose names would be a guarantee for honesty and honest play, and there can be no doubt as to the result. As a financial speculation it would certainly be a success. The old Tecumseh club of London, which was a credit to Canada, saw its best days under the management of a joint stock company.

THE FIGHT AT FISH CREEK

Interesting Letter from a Member

NOW HE POPPED OFF THE INDIANS.

WINNIPEG, May 7.—Another account of the fight at Battleford reports that on Saturday morning nineteen head of cattle were seen on the hill at Cut Knife creek when the troops started in pursuit of them. The scouts led, followed by the remainder of the contingent, when suddenly they came upon the tepees. The Indians at once opened five, having laid a trap for our men whom the Indians and halfbreeds surrounded. The enemy made a charge and attempted to capture the guns. They came within capture the guns. They came within twenty yards, but were repulsed in gallant atyle by the mounted police under Col. Herchmer. B battery and the Gatling opened fire, mowing the enemy down, and kept it up. For half an hour the battle raged fiercely, and then wavered as the Indians drew off, only to return to the attack again in stronger force. The troops behaved admirably and routed the enemy on every side.

Otter intended following up his success by attacking the Tepees, but the men were exhausted from fatigue of the march; want of sleep and the fight, besides the breaking down of the gun carriage, and he therefore concluded to retire again upon Battleford, which he did, taking his wagons and killed and wounded with him, except one, Private Osgoode of the guards, reported missing. They reached home at ten.

The dead were buried on Monday.

It is believed from the number of warriors in the fight that Big Bear and other Indian chiefs have effected a junction with Poundmaker.

The Indians expended nearly all their ammunition in the fight of Saturday. A Price on Riel's Head.
CALGARY, May 7.—It is stated that Capt. Stewart, who is in command of 200 Mountain Rangers in the Cypress Hills district, near the American frontier, has offered a reward of one thousand dollars for the capture of Riel, if the latter should sttempt to escape across the boundary. Edmonton announces that the hostiles to the north and east are in numerous bands. All the Indians west of Battleford are in Settlers have all fled. Scots from the Northwest say Col. Otter will have a fearful time of it. There is a perfect panic in the Eleanor districts. Scores of homesteads have been burned.

The Northcote at Fish Creek. FISH CREEK, via Humboldt, May 6 .-The steamer Northcote and barges arrived this morning with large quantities of supplies and a portion of the Midland battalion and a Gatling gun in charge of Capt. Howard, U.S.A. The vulnerable parts of the Northcote will be barricaded with timber when going down the river. She will move simultaneously with a small force of troops by land either to-morrow or next day.

The news of the death of Col. Kennedy, commander of the 90th, in London, England, was received to day. The officers assembled and passed resolutions of regret and condolence with the family. Col. Kennedy's two sons leave for Winnipeg to-day. The File Bill Indians. FORT QU'APPELLE, May 7.—Lieut.-Col. O'Brien, after several hours' search, returned unable to capture the File Hill Indians who stole horses and plundered settlers' houses. Subsequently the Indians sent for Col. O'Brien, A. McDonald, Hud-son's Bay company's factor, and Allan Macdonald, Indian agent, to meet them at a halfbreed's named Fisher. These gentlemen proceeded to the place named, where they found the Indians in waiting. Indian Agent Macdonald read Governor Dewdney's Agent Macdonald read Governor Dewdney's proclamation, when they agreed to return to their reserves and to give up the stolen horses and to restore all articles appropriated from the settlers. Little faith is, however, placed upon the promises, as the sentries were fired upon last night.

WINNIPEG, May 7 .- Advices from Humboldt state that the Body Guards are makare constructing a fort which they think they will easily be able to hold against any enemy like y to attack. A diligent scouting of the Batoche trail and the district has failed to discover any enemy. Prairie fires are to be seen burning in all directions and occasionally alarm the sentries, who call out the garrison. The only danger is that the disaffected Indians may stampede
