Doughne was the favorite with the crowned, which numbered seven thousand and ware very culmonisative. Joshuson, the content of the content of his eyes were well open. His arm was his chief and the control of the control of

At length both were down, heavily, Heenan under Scilher seemed in a hurry to leave his second's knee, but Tom was slowed in answer-ing the call. Heenan at once went to him, go the left well on the probosels and his right on the law, and down again fell the Champion in the law, and down again fell the Champion in a health of the control of the contr list right, but the blow passed over Tome nob. Counter his followed on the nose, in which Toms delivery was most effective, but Tom "Is a support of the property of the prope