

CANADIAN CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC, OTTAWA

"Your instruments at the Canadian Conservatory of Music have been in constant use from six to eight hours daily for nearly twelve years. They still retain the remarkable qualities of touch and tone which impressed us so favorably when they were new.

I need say no more. No greater test could be given a piano."

(Sgd.) HARRY PUDDICOMBE,

Director.

THE Martin-Orme is an instrument of the very highest grade, and commands prices in accordance. In many notable cases it has been the choice of Musical Directors for exclusive use in Conservatories, Colleges, Convents, etc. The above is only one of a great number of such testimonials received.
