The sad new of the death of Mr. R. A. OMeara, 40, at London on Friday. February 18th, was received with deep regret and sorrow by the students and professors. Mr. O Meara, whose if was ever such as Is such to elevate and celly, made the last three years of his classical course at Ottawa. In versity, and, during that time, carned the respect and exteem of the skind to body and those of the faculty with whom he came in contact. For two years he was a professor of English and Mathematics in the Commercial Course, but on account of fulling health he gave up the position as profess r, and, during his last year, devoted nimited and Mathematics, and those of the with sorved with him feel deeply his early demise. In athieldes 'R. A., 'as we know him familiarly, took an active interest, being one of the most expert association footballers of Ontarlo. During '98-99 he served as Prosident of the University Atheitel Association, flilling the position most acceptably. Just before the final examinations last June, he was affected with the dread disease, but recovered sufficiently to take his Degree. Consumption, however, had taken a last hold, and shough he never really railied, he bore up with national suffering till the last. To the sorrowing relatives of dear "R.A." we extend our most sheere sympathy and pray that God may content them and grant eternal rest to the departed.—University of Ottawa Resolution.
