Knox church, Perth, which has been undergoing extensive repairs, will be reopened October 6th.

PALMERSTON church, which has been undergoing repairs, was re-opened last Sabbath by Rev. J. B. Muller, of Fergus.

CITY readers should bear in mind the designation services in Charles street church, city, to-morrow (Friday) evening.

REV. JAS. CUMBERLAND, of Selkirk, who has been spending his holidays in the North-West, passed through this city this week on his way home.

REV. W. H. SPENCER, pastor of Kildonan church, Man., preached his farewell sermon Sept. 8th, prior to his departure for Grand Forks, Dak.

By the will of the late William Wilson, of Brownsville, a legacy of $1,000 has been left to Coluden church, of which he was for many years an active member.

Says the Welland Telegraph: Rev. F. M. Cusick received a letter from Rev. Alex. Kennedy last week, informing him that he was in excellent health. He had been helping his nephew in the harvest field and preaching every Sunday evening. This is great work for a man of his years, as he is now in the 56th year of his age. He is staying in Puslinch township, near Morristown. He will return to Welland in October, to spend the winter with Mr. Cowper.

THE Sabbath school of the Meaford Presbyterian church held "Children's Day" on Sabbath Sept. 8th. The church was neatly decorated with flowers and plants, by the parents of the children. The pastor, J. A. Ross, B.A., preached a sermon to the children in the morning, the largest number being present for some years. The programme of the Assembly's Committee was followed in the afternoon. The total contributions of this school go to Missions.

A "WELCOME HOME" to Rev. W. Patterson, and a farewell concert to Rev. Mr. White (who occupied the pulpit during Mr. Patterson's absence) was held at Cooke's Presbyterian church, city, on the evening of the 12th inst. Mr. T. A. Lytle presided. Addresses were made by Messrs. Close, Riddle, Allison and Caswell. An address was presented to Mr. White as a token of esteem by the congregation of Cooke's church, and was read by Mr. Jas. Allison.

THE annual meeting of the Cheltenham and Mount Pleasant Auxiliary W.F.M.S., was held on Wednesday, 4th September. The report indicated a prosperous state of affairs. Over $100 was contributed by the Auxiliary last year. Mrs. Powelle, Erin, President of the Presbyterian Society, was present and addressed the meeting. In the evening a well attended public meeting was held when addresses were delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. L. Campbell, B.A., and by Rev. J. Mackay, Agincourt. The choir furnished choice music.

MR. JOHN R. MCKAY, son of Rev. W. A. McKay, B.A., Woodstock, has assumed the editorship of the Leamington Post. John was one of the modest and good boys in Baltimore Public School while the editor of the Statesman was the Principal, and he thinks John possesses the proper qualities of head and heart to make a model editor. John is "the son of his father," and, therefore, may be safely trusted to mould and direct public opinion. His many friends in these united counties wish him much success. -Downsville Statesman

At the fourth annual meeting of Knox church, Morrisburg, Young People's Association, held recently, the following officers were elected: Rev. Hugh Cameron, Honorary President; John H. Meikle, Jr., President; P. R. Chalmers, Vice-President; Wm. Kilgour, Honorary Secretary; Miss L. K. Parlinper, Secretary; Edward Dillibough, Assistant Secretary; John H. Meikle, Sr., Treasurer. Amongst other good works of the Association this year has been the erection of a fine spire upon which a debt of only $70 remains. It is confidently expected that this will soon be wiped out.

REV. THOS. C. WHITE, of Bellefleur, Ireland, who is on a visit to this country, last week delivered an address in Hamilton on the subject of "Romish Aggression." Rev. S. Lyle occupied the chair, and in a few preparatory remarks, bearing on the topic of the evening, in which he placed himself on record in favour of the non-exemption from taxation of all church property, and of a broad, non-sectarian system of national education, introduced the reverend lecturer, who was received with applause. The reverend gentleman, according to The Spectator, spoke ably and eloquently for two hours and was listened to with much interest. A hearty vote of thanks was moved by Dr. Fletcher, seconded by Sheriff McKellar, and tendered the speaker by the chairman.

A LARGELY attended and very interesting meeting was held in the Central Presbyterian church in this city on Monday evening, Sept. 9th, to say farewell to Miss Margaret McIntosh, a member of the congregation, who is going in a few days to China as a missionary and trained nurse. The pastor, Rev. Dr. McTavish, presided, and several pointed addresses were delivered by Rev. John Neil, B.A., of Charles street church, Mr. J. A. Macdonald, of Knox College Monthly, and Mr. Scott, of St. John's Church. Mr. J.

K. Macdon 13, President of the Missionary Association, read an address and presented Miss McIntosh with a cheque from her friends and well-wishers in the congregation, and with a beautiful Teacher's Bible from himself. At the close, those present said "Good-by," with many kind wishes, to Miss McIntosh and also to Miss Graham, of Charles street church, who was present and who is going on the same mission.

Absolutely Pure.

PURE GOLD GOODS.

In purity and excellence of flavour, no goods entering into daily consumption have attained so high a reputation as those sold by the Pure Gold Co. Chief among these are baking powder, spices, soap, blacking, etc., all of which are prepared with the special ends in view of purity, strength and adaptability. They carry on a large bakery on the grounds and in every way possible seek to give the very fairest opportunity of testing their goods. The name "Pure Gold" has, in fact, come to be of household familiarity in Canada. What is true of their baking powder is true of their spices, coffee, soap, blacking and other articles. Only a fair trial is necessary to ensure the approbation of those for whom they have been prepared.

ABOUT CHURCH SEATING.

In keeping with the architectural advancement in church building in Canada, there has sprung up a demand for comfortable and elegant seating. The day has gone by when the old-fashioned pew is either in place or satisfactory to those who must occupy them. It is something, therefore, for which Canadians may be pardoned, if they take pride in the fact that there is in this country a large manufacturing establishment capable of fully meeting all tastes in this regard. Reference is made to the Canadian Office and School Furniture Company of Toronto. They make a very fine display of church seating in the annex, at the Industrial Exhibition, which interested persons who can do so should see, while those outsiders who cannot visit the Exhibition would do well to communicate with the company here, at 24 Front St. West, Toronto.

READ THIS; IT IS SPICY.

SINCE the time when gloomy-visaged Columbus discovered America and called it the land of the West-Indians, a bearable state of affairs has been the lot of the natives of all nations resort. It is so seldom, however, that a man, prosperous, well-liked, and with troops of friends, resolves to cross the ocean and make his home in an unknown land, that one must needs take some special interest in his history. Mr. Thomas Myers is a middle-aged, ruddy-complexioned, full-bearded, hearty-voiced Englishman, who over a quarter of a century ago began the manufacture of Cattle Spice, a condiment for mixing with cattle food. Spices have been used with human food for centuries, and it is to be wondered at that no one ever attempted to apply the idea of food-savouring to the lower animals.

The cattle spice was built after modern designs. The material used was altogether vegetable and botanical, with nothing of a mineral nature about it. Her Majesty the Queen bought the Royal Spice for her model farm at Windsor, and the Kings of Holland and Belgium, the Prince of Wales, and a mighty host of dignitaries of the Empire, including the Governor-General, Lord Stanley, fattened their prize cattle with food judiciously sprinkled with the Royal Spice. Mr. Myers arrived in Toronto about a week ago, and may be seen at his stand in the Main Building, where his assistants will be glad to give proof of the excellence of the exhibit. Mr. Myers intends to build up in America a business similar to and greater than-for there it was more room for it-the one he left in the Old World. We have no Kings here to patronize his efforts, but Mr. Myers is content to leave the Royal Spice in the safe keeping of the Sovereign people.
