

I have read with interest and approval the article appearing in this issue of the "McGill News" from the pen of the President of the Graduates' Society of McGill University - Mr. Homer Jaquays, M.Sc., M.A. '99. I wish all graduates of our University were as keenly interested in her welfare as Mr. Jaquays. I have often sought his advice and found it sane, helpful and cheerfully given.

Because we are a national institution our constituency ranges far and wide and for that reason it is all the more difficult to get the full force of McGill opinion effectively behind any project.

In the lives of all of us there are a few mountain tops, a few things that stand out more prominently than all the other experiences, a few things we reverently cherish. I am sure that in the hearts of the graduates of McGill, their Alma Mater is one of the mountain tops. Their continued interest in her welfare is one of her chief sources of strength.
