LINEMEN JOIN THE STRIKERS. The linemen of the company held a meeting last night and decided to join the strikers. The linemen are 30 in number. They do the repairing of trol-ley wires, and are an important factor operating a street railway. During the last strike no attempt was made to get them to strike, and they were kept busy in repairing the lines. Just what the company will do is not known. Linemen are scarce. All the linemen who are out are members of the Cleveland Electrical Workers' Union. An effort, it is said, will be made to bring out the power house employes.

PLOSION. An attempt was made to blow up the elevated railroad structure at Fifth avenue and Thirty-fifth street, Brook-lyn, early this morning. The police say that it was the work of the strikers or their sympathizers. One of the pillars of the structure was shattered by the explosion of dynamite at 1:10 a.m. The entire base of the pillar was blown to pieces and the side of the pillar several feet up were torn away. Several pieces of steel were thrown through neighboring houses. Several policemen who were on duty in the vicinity hurried to the scene of the explosion, but no arrests were made. The explosion caused a delay in the running of trains over the Fifth avenue line for a time.

Fortunately no one was injured. ARRESTS MADE. Twenty-two strikers were placed under arrest about four o'clock this morning, suspected of complicity in the South Brooklyn dynamite explosion on the elevated railroad. Acting under orders from Chief of Police Devery nine detectives proceeded to the strikers' headquarters, and placed all the strike leaders they found under arrest. The men are still under arrest, but it is expected they will be given a hearing this morning.

The situation of the Brooklyn strike today had not changed from that of yesterday sufficient to warrant either side in claiming gains over the other, although both are boasting of victories. From a general observation at 8 o'clock this morning there were fewer cars running past the city hall at the same hour on Tuesday. Very little travel was indulged in by patrons of the road during the forepart of the night, the cars being occupied principally by policemen.

REFUSE TO

Sergt. Jenkins' Resignation.

The Sergeant Says He Will Make His Charges Public.

If the Opportunity Is Not Otherwise Afforded-Two Resolutions Passed by the Board.

The board of police commissioners met in secret session yesterday afternoon in Police Magistrate Parke's office. The commissioners met to consider the resignation of Sergt. Jenkins, which contained implied charges against the chief and P. C. Egelton. Chief Williams was present at the meeting, but Sergt. Jenkins was not notified to be present. Sergt. Jenkins' resignation was accepted, Judge Elliot and Police Magistrate Parke voting for, and Mayor Wilson voting against searching investigation before the county judge of the affairs of the police force, with special reference to the resignation of Sergt. Jenkins, and the causes thereof. The commissioners' position is set forth in the following resolution: ACCEPTED.

out any previous communication upon his part to the commissioners, and the commissioners have accepted his resignation, the commissioners are not called upon to make any particular examination as to the cause of his resignation.'

DECLINED.

"That the request of the city council to have an investigation before the county judges into the affairs of the police force is too vague to be acted upon. It is not stated in what particular this is asked for, and it is de

Mayor Wilson voted against these resolutions.

SERGT. JENKINS' POSITION. Sergt. Jenkins, when seen this morning by an Advertiser representative "Under the circumstances I shall not be sorry to go. The conditions here have become simply intolerable. I desired an investigation in the hope that when the actual state of affairs became known to the commissioners they would at once see the necessity of a change. But without notifying me or making any inquiry, they met in secret session and accepted my resignation in a cowardly manner.

"The statement in the morning paper that I asked, previous to the meeting, to be allowed to withdraw my resignation is only partly true. Chief Williams asked me on Monday to withdraw my resignation, and to send a note to the commissioners retracting the charges hinted at in the resignation. I refused. A number of prom-inent citizens came to me and urged me to withdraw the resignation for a time at least, on account of the present disturbed state of the city. this ground alone I consented to withdraw it, but I refused to retract the implied charges. I do not care to say anything more at present regarding those charges, but if I cannot get them before the commissioners, I shall place them before the public."

The unanimous feeling among the members of the police force, with the exception of Chief Williams and P. C. Egelton, is that Sergeant Jenkins' with-drawal is a great loss to the force, and general dissatisfaction is expressed as openly as the men dare speak. Sergeant Jenkins was the drill instructor, and it is said there is not a man on the force can fill his place.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE GRAND

London's Opera House to Receive New Scenery and Carpets, and To Be Handsomely Decorated-Some of the Attractions for the Coming Season.

The Grand Opera House is at present undergoing an improvement which will be gratifying to theater-goers next season. For two or three seasons past the scenery has not been ornamental, as well as pleasing, to those who have attended, and this year when the season opens the entire theater proper will have received a renovating that will make it probably the best and prettiest theater in Ontario. Mr. Louis Fett, an American scenic artist of excellent reputation, is at present in the city, and has already commenced work upon the scenery. Mr. Fett's work has already been shown upon many scenic can-vasses in several of the theaters in Canada. When he is finished he will place in the Grand some of the finest scenes that the artist's brush is cap- son opens.

able of turning out. To begin with. . new drop-curtain will be painted; at present the design has not been settled on, but it will be a handsome affair, without any doubt. The many sets of scenery, which became somewhat worn, will be entirely thrown out, and a complete and modern set of scenery will be painted. The proscenium arch will be decorated, and the wails of the The Police Commissioners Accept theater, which were painted a dark red two years ago, will be brightened up with a lighter red. The walls on the sides will be frescoed, in harmony with the red background. All the painting will be done in a color that harmonizes with the rest of the embellishments. The lobby will also be painted and decorated from the entrance up. The side walls and ceilings on the stairway up, will also be decorated and freshly painted. The balcony will also receive the same attention. After all this work has been completed the entire theater will be newly carpeted. Sits, the Grand was built the mechanical devices for moving and shifting scenery have improved wonderfully, and the more modern way of shifting scenes will be used. The grooves will also be taken out, and instead the scenes will be held by lashed lines and braces.

Last season's business here was the most prosperous ever experienced by Mr. C. J. Whitney, and to the energetic management of Mr. A. E. Roote ne doubt was due the success, besides the better class of attractions that London received.

Already the majority of the attractions have been booked. The attractions for the fair are: Gorman Bros., "Who is Who?" and "Darkest Russia." for, and Mayor Wilson voting against the acceptance.

The mayor presented a letter and a resolution passed at the last meeting of the city council, demanding a son, "The Christian," Primrose & Dockstader's Minstrels, Colonial Girl Opera Company, Otis Skinner, Modjeska, "Cherry Pickers," "Under the Red Robe," Ward & Vokes, Field's Minstrels, Gilmore's Band.

Electricians are now at work wiring the house, and before the season opens the entire theater and stage will be supplied with incandescent lights.
