ENTHUSIASM WANES IN PATRIOTIC WORK?

Some People Not Applying Themselves as Assiduously as Formerly.

GENERAL QUIETNESS

Is No Time for Slackening and Boys Must Be Helped to Win War.

Enthusiasm waning or is it because we have become so accustomed to things that make for patriotic endeavor that we imagine people generally are not applying themselves as assiduously as they did a few months ago?

At the opening of war activities having hospital supplies and soldiers' comforts as their objective, women everywhere seemed in a very fervor of excitement to get material and apply themselves so that articles for the amelioration of the wounded and the lessening of the discomforts of the men in the trenches might be accomplished. Now, there are still halos turned out by the carload and articles packed by the score and the hundreds, still there is a quietness in the doing of things which can only mean one of two things, either that apathy has set in or that women are now working with the experience of professionals whose efficiency is so pronounced that nothing can disturb it.

It may be that both these elements combine to make present conditions. In this case the apathetic element must be discarded, for at the front war is still on, the casualty lists are still printed regularly, and the boys who fall wounded today, or who are enduring the fatigue and discomforts of the trenches are exactly of the same value to their homes and their country as were the heroes of the days of a year ago. There is no time for slackening up until the war is at an end, and this much to be desired consumption is not yet in sight.

THEY HAD.

Down in Georgia a negro organization used the commodities of a popular white lodge, which went into court for relief. Its lawyer waxed warm in his plea.

He said: "Why, your honor, these negroes have got our passwords, our halling signs, our secret work, our badges and our emblems."

Breathless, he stopped as the judge leaned forward with a smile and remarked: "It would also appear that they have got your goat."

MONKEY ACTORS AT LOEW'S.

At least two big headlines will be shown on the bill at Loew's Yonge St. Theatre this week, one being Consul, the great monkey actor, and his adopted son, Betty, the other being Lambert, greatest of all quick change artists and impersonator of great musical comedians.

The funniest animal novelty shown in vaudeville.

Eddie Foyer, the Cleveland entertainer, will return with a new line of comedy and new readings. A clever sketch, "The Fighter and the Boss," a political playlet, showing how a politician had such a hold on a political boss that he made him give up his candidacy for governorship, will also be an interesting feature.

Others will include George and Lillie Garden, greatest xylophonists in vaudeville; Al War, Betty, the other being a picture of an inventor to perfect a flying torpedo that can be controlled from terra firma, and which will be particularly effective in repelling attacks of submarines, warships and land forces.

AT SHEA'S THIS WEEK.

D. W. Griffiths, who produced the most notable of all film successes, "The Birth of a Nation," is said to have outdone all previous efforts in his picturization of the great "prepared" naval film, "The Flying Torpedo," in which is billed for all this week at Shea's Victoria Street Theatre.

The picture is constructed about the efforts of an inventor to perfect a flying torpedo that can be controlled from terra firma, and which will be particularly effective in repelling attacks of submarines, warships and land forces.

ROBIN HOOD" AT THE GRAND

Reginald DeKoven's "Robin Hood," which will be given an elaborate production at the Grand Opera House this week with a cast of grand and light opera singers will no doubt prove a treat for music lovers. In the cast, which will be heard at the Grand next week, are: Mrs. M. J. Mariani, soprano, in the role of Maid Marian; James Stevens, baritone, as "Little John"; Cora Tracy, contralto, as "Alain-a-Dale"; Herbert Waterous, basso profundo, as "Will Scarlett"; Carolyn Andrews as "Anabel"; Fred Walker as "Friar Tuck"; Tillie Selinger as "Dame Burdon"; Ralph Brainerd as "Robin Hood"; Phil Branson as "Sheriff of Nottingham"; Sol Robinson as "Clayton"; and George Levene as "King's Herald." During the week at the Grand the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

BEAUTIFYING THE HOME

Much has been said and written on this subject, yet it is painful to one who admires beauty to observe how little thought and time is given to it by the majority of country people. Whenever the subject is mentioned to these people they all seem to have a great fund of excuses, such as scarcity of help, little time, too expensive, no money in it, and many others of a similar nature.

To my mind there are few things more important than that of making our homes beautiful. It has been my experience, too, that it does not take much labor, but it does take time, and the time can be given and not in any way hinder the other work, if we have the right end in view.

The expense in connection with beautifying the home surroundings is very trivial, as most of the articles now being grown in a natural form near us, or can be had for a very small sum from the local seed merchant. As for the money value, there are for improvements that will give better returns. The place is worth more in dollars, and the enjoyment by all the family cannot be estimated on the basis of "The Chores Boy."

SHE HATES FALSEHOODS.

"Now, Willie," said mother, "you told me a falsehood when you said that little boy who told falsehoods."

"Well," returned Willie tremblingly, "black man with only one eye in the centre of his forehead comes along and flies with him up to the moon and makes him pick sticks for the remainder of his life. Now, you will never tell a falsehood again, will you?" It is terribly wicked.

BUSINESS WAS DULL ON WHOLESALE SATURDAY

Attendance on Market Was Poor and Prices Slightly Changed.

STRAWBERRIES COPIOUS

But Some Were Tasteless and Watery—Asparagus Declined.

Wholesale Fruits and Vegetables. Business was very dull on the whole, Saturday, with only slight changes in prices.

Asparagus was quite plentiful, and while at the opening an odd basket of particularly choice quality brought $1.75, the bulk of the market was at $1.50, while that which was unsold in the afternoon closed very weak at $1.10 per basket, the small ones bringing $1.40 per basket, and the large ones $1.20 per basket.

Strawberries came in freely, and while some were of choice quality, others were quite tasteless and very watery, the latter fact due to the heavy rains they have been having in the Southern States. The best brought 17c and 18c per box, while the poorer ones brought 16c and 15c per box.

White & Co. had two cars of strawberries, the Aronas, from Virginia, which they were having in the Southern States. The best brought 17c and 18c per box, while the poorer ones brought 16c and 15c per box.
