

the cost of the same will not be more than $1,300; and as one-half of the amount required is already in hand for this purpose, the Managers look forward with hope to the early completion of the much wanted additional accommodation.

8. The Lady Managers desire to convey their grateful thanks to the Rev. C. P. Emery, for the marked attention he has paid to the orphan children of the "Home,"—also to the several young ladies who have so kindly given instruction to the children—also to Mr. Martin for gratuitous lessons in vocal music, and also to Mr. McGann for gratuitous lessons in writing. They also return their best thanks to the many kind friends who have generally assisted the "Home" by various contributions towards the comfort of the children. And they particularly desire to record their strong sense of the indefatigable zeal with which the Rev. Dr. Lett has, at all times, and on all occasions, advocated and urged forward the interests of the "Home" and the welfare of its inmates.

9. And, in conclusion, the Lady Managers avail themselves of the occasion, when resigning the trust placed in their hands, to return sincere thanks to Almighty God for the mercies vouchsafed to the "Home" during their year of office; while, at the same time, they devoutly implore the Divine blessing upon the future welfare and progress of the "Home" of the orphan and fatherless.
