THIRTY SIX YEARS IN UNIFORM

Court Sergeant Aaron Hastings Observes Anniversary Today

Court Sergeant Aaron Hastings is today thirty-six years a member of the local police force. Sergeant Hastings joined the force in 1880 and did duty as a patrolman for about three years. His qualities as a competent and trustworthy custodian of the law were readily recognized and he was advanced in rank and given charge of the North End division.

Sergeant Hastings is today the only member of the force who can look back over thirty-six years of service as a policeman. He has served under three chiefs, the late Chief John Marshall, ex-chief Clark and the present Chief Simpson. He has one of the finest and cleanest records of any member of the police force and during his long career has never been before his superior officer for neglect of duty or upon a complaint, a record to be proud of. Today Sergeant Hastings is acting in the capacity of court sergeant. He is still active and his many friends will join in wishing him many more years yet of activity and success.

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning Frank Kennedy, colored, was fined $20 or two months in jail for assaulting his wife. The court told Kennedy if he wanted to strike anyone to strike a man as big as himself. Kennedy pleaded that his wife did not look with favor upon his going away to work, and took this way to prevent him.

A returned soldier, who got back from France only a few days ago, was before the court on drunkenness charge. He said he was subject to fits and suffering from shell shock. Through the kindness of a lady friend, he was permitted to go and asked "to cut out the stuff". Another individual was given nine months in jail for drunkenness, while still another was fined $8 or two months in jail.

PLEASES REPUBLICANS

Governor Whitman Wins Progressive Nomination in N. Y. State Primaries

New York, Sept. 20.—Republican leaders today attached great significance to the success of Governor Whitman in winning the Progressive nomination for governor in yesterday's New York state primary election over Samuel Seabury, who was unopposed for the Democratic nomination for that office. The 4,995 districts thus far counted give Whitman 4,880 to Seabury's 6,989. The governor ran ahead, according to these returns, both in and out of New York city.

Governor Whitman was opposed for re-nomination in the Republican primaries by State Senator William M. Bennett. Returns from 4,881 districts out of 4,719 give Whitman 188,648, Bennett 82,472.

William F. McCombs, formerly chairman of the Democratic National committee, won the Democratic nomination for United States senator by a majority of about two to one over his opponent, Thomas F. Conway of Plattsburg, formerly lieutenant-governor.

THEY SPEEDED UP

A meat dealer in the local market this morning waged $20 that Louis Corey, contractor who is putting down the pavement on South Market street, could not mix and lay four batches of concrete in an hour with his crew of men. The wager was accepted and the men were set to work. The city market men like a bet and keen interest was evident, especially when it was seen what a spurt the contractor's men put on when the word was passed around that their "boss" had put up $20 upon the speed of their work. The contractor won the wager with some minutes to spare.

The Man In The Street

The interest of the citizens in the report of the assessment commission seems to be in direct ratio to the amount of taxes they pay.

It will have the hearty support of every citizen who sees a prospect of a lower tax bill under the proposed scheme.

When we speak enthusiastically of the fine weather we are getting, why does some pessimist always chime in with a remark that there was a heavy frost last night and that winter is getting nearer?

If cold shivers were the only qualification, Hon. B. Frank Smith would make a fine model for another "September Morn."

After the action of the common council yesterday the North End folk will await Thanksgiving Day with the assurance that they have something for which to give thanks. They have been waiting for the new pavements for a long time.

Why get so excited over an odd shark or two in the fish weirs? We have some of the two legged variety around town that could beat these specimens at their own game.

King Constantine seems to have developed into as keen a watchful-waiter as the president of the neighboring republic.

How His Could Tell

A patient went to a local physician the other day complaining of various ailments. The doctor listened patiently and then asked the visitor to open his mouth. A glance revealed a "coated" tongue and doctor readily recognized the trouble.

"Nothing very serious," he remarked. "Your stomach is a bit out of order. I know I opened my mouth pretty good, but I've darned you could see down to my stomach."

True Humor

Webster defines humor as "that quality of the imagination which gives to ideas an incongruous or mystical turn and tends to excite laughter or mirth by ludicrous images or representations; a playful fancy, facetiousness."

It takes a clever humorist to comply with all these qualifications in a single sentence, but his editor of the morning government organ has achieved this result. With his permission—which we know, from the staid and glib tone which marks all his writings, will be readily given—we reproduce the following in full.

The government party will do as it has always done—run a clean election.

Her Egg Tester

She was a keen buyer and when she bought eggs she was determined to get her money's worth. Entering a local grocery store she bargained with the clerk until she made a bargain with the price. The latter started to place the dozen in a package, but that was not her way.

"Wait a minute. How can I tell those are good?" she said. "I guess I'll just pick them out for myself."

She proceeded to pick them out and, evidently she was sure that every small egg was a bad one, for she took only the largest. Then picking one up she shook it vigorously, to judge the size of the air space, one test of an egg's age.

This did not quite satisfy her so she held it up to the ear of her husband who was with her and again shook it. "Do you hear anything?" she asked. "Hubby looked as if he would like to say something else but all he murmured was: 'No, I don't'."

Speaking of September weddings, they're telling one about a city groom who made the interesting promise to his bride: "With all my earthly goods I thee endow, and I plight to thee my 'trough'."

MONCTON WEDDING.

B., Sept. 20.—Frederick Percival Forbes and Miss Estella Mae Fowler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fowler, of Stradman street, were married at twelve o'clock today at the bride's residence, by Rev. ### DO ANYTHING TO WIN THE WAR, SAYS GERMAN

Leader of National Liberals Wants Most Ruthless Methods Used Especially Against "Arch-enemy, England"

Berlin, Sept. 20.—Major Ernest Basermann, leader of the National Liberal party, in a keynote speech delivered Monday before his constituents in the Saarbrücken district, declared that the submarine campaign had been "conducted and not abandoned. He advocated the widest possible use of both submarines and Zepplins and the most ruthless methods of warfare."

The National Liberal leader asserted that his views were shared by Admiral Von Tirpitz, Admiral Von Koester, Prince Von Baulow and Count Zepelin. He maintained that in a struggle wherein the existence of Germany is at stake, the most ruthless use of all possible weapons is called for.

This sentiment was heartily applauded by his audience. Submarines and Zepplins, continued Major Basermann, were the most effective weapons against "our arch-enemy, England."

The destruction by German submarines from Sept. 8 to Sept. 11 of twenty-six merchant vessels of hostile belligerents, with tonnage aggregating 26,222 in the English Channel and on the Atlantic is mentioned in an Overseas News Agency statement.

In addition, according to the announcement, seven neutral vessels with a total tonnage of 10,669 were sunk "according to prize law because they carried contraband to England or France."

The statement lists the names of several of the British and Italian steamers sunk, these including the British steamers Gorridge of 5,098 tons, and Radice, of 3,841 tons.

"During August," said an official admiralty statement issued today, "129 hostile merchant ships, totaling 1,070,705 tons gross were destroyed by submarines of the Central Powers or by mines, and thirty-five neutral merchant ships totaling 88,868 tons, carrying contraband of war to enemies."

FIVE KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Huntingdon, Pa., Sept. 20.—Five men were instantly killed and another sustained fatal injuries when the six-story house of the Mount Union plant of the Aetna Explosives Company was wrecked near here early today. All the dead were employed in the building, which was blown to pieces.

The force of the explosion was heard as far as the maritime provinces. The explosion was probably never before.

SEPTEMBER BRIDES

The Cathedral was the scene of an interesting event this morning when, with a nuptial mass, Rev. Wm. M. Duke united in marriage Miss Mary Isabella, eldest daughter of D. H. Ryan, assistant controller of the C. P. R., and John W. Hogan, of Blackville, N. B., but now of New Brunswick. The bride, who was given away by her father, was neatly attired in a suit of African brown velvet with hat to match and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was unattended.

After the ceremony the wedding party drove to the home of the bride's parents in Princess street, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Hogan and party left for Fredericton by special car this morning and later an extended honeymoon trip will be spent in the maritime provinces. The bride was made the recipient of many beautiful presents, expressive of esteem and popularity. Mr. and Mrs. Hogan will make their home at Brownville Junction, where the groom is located. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Guest of Brownville.

Nordby-Lee

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in German street Baptist church at 8 o'clock this morning by the pastor, Rev. Sheldon S. Poole, who united in marriage Miss Victoria F. Lee and Peter J. Nordby of this city. The bride, who was given away by S. H. Davis, looked beautiful in a traveling suit of blue with hat to match and carrying a bridal bouquet of roses and a spray of blue hydrangeas. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Nordby left on the American boat for a honeymoon trip to Boston, New York and other cities in the United States.

FIRE ON SCHOONER WITH GASOLINE ON BOARD

A fire broke out on board a schooner M. E. Hanks, at South Wharf, about ten o'clock this morning, but was extinguished before damage resulted. A slight explosion from a gasoline engine ignited some waste and spread to the deck of the schooner. An alarm was sent in, but before the fire department arrived the blaze was under control. There were eleven barrels of gasoline on the deck of the schooner.

A little before seven o'clock this morning a fire broke out in some lime casks on a scow in Market slip, owned by H. Usher Miller. The barrels which were on fire were quickly separated from the others on the scow and only a few were destroyed.
