MILLIDGEVILLE RACES GOOD

Rowing Championships on Kennebecas Produced Spirited Competition.

The maritime rowing championships on the Kennebecas river yesterday under the auspices of the Millidgeville Summer Club, were a success from many standpoints. A large number of enthusiasts motored to the scene and were given an aquatic treat. The events were all keenly contested and the time was good in nearly all of the races. One of the feature events was the single scull championship in which Hilton Belyea, former single scull champion, was pitted against Harry Giggie, one of the most promising young scullers in these parts. Hilton won quite handsily, but his youthful opponent put up a plucky fight and made a remarkably good showing, especially when it is taken into consideration that he had to save himself for another hard race later in the afternoon. Hilton's time was 10 minutes and 48 seconds, which is considered fast for a mile and a half race, and he also rowing against a strong wind and in choppy water. The junior championship was won by Grenville Ring of Millidgeville, with Willie Logan second and Grenville McCarver third. As a result of the race, Logan and McCarver in the intermediate class, in which there is little competition, these two youngsters did not extend themselves to win.

In the boys' event, 16 years and under, Willie Logan rowed a fine race, R. Brayley finishing second and Bayard Herrington third. Ronald Ingraham fell out of his boat and was picked up by a motor boat. The girls' race, which was one of the features on the programme, went to Miss Helen Giggie who demonstrated that a girl can develop into a good sculler. This event evoked considerable applause.

The Millidgeville Summer Club entrants made a very successful sweep of the events card, excepting the senior singles. The officials handling the meet were: referee, R. T. Macleith, of Halifax; starter, Peter Clinch, of John E. Burns, of Fraser; timekeepers, A. A. Gregory, of Fraser, and J. C. Chesley, of Fraser; and William Case, judge at turn, Burton Seely.

The time was 1 hr. 28 min. over a course eight long which was sailed from Millidgeville to Sand Point on the Kennebecas and back. A very handsome cup was awarded the winner. There were six entries in the dingy race and the race was close throughout. It was sailed over a triangular course of three miles. DRIVER UNAWARE OF VICTORY UNTIL THREE DAYS AFTER RACE
Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 29.—Wet Millow, a Cleveland reins man, drove Peter Oliver to victory in one heat during the present Grand Circuit meeting at North Randall, but he remembers nothing about it. Backers of his mount probably will never forget it though, as a $2 mutual ticket on the Michigan owned horse paid $129.95. Had Millow not been fined $50 by Starter Steve Phillips for scoring in front of Frisco Junior, Millow would still be in ignorance of his feat. The story was told when the first heat of the 210 pace Wednesday.

GETS DECISION.
Boston, Aug. 29.—Frankie Genaro, American flyweight champion, received the decision over Bobby Wolgast, of Philadelphia, in a 10-round bout here last night.

AMUSEMENT TAX AT EXHIBITION
Some misunderstanding has arisen apparently in regard to the amusement tax ticket required at the St. John Exhibition. Last year serious congestion was caused at the main entrance through the necessity of having exhibition tickets and also amusement tax tickets, which had to be purchased from different ticket sellers. This year the Exhibition Association general admission tickets will be all that will be required at the main gates, as the association will settle with the Government the question of tax on the main gates. Inside the grounds on the standstand and at the midway attractions, amusement tax tickets will be required in addition to the entrance tickets, and it will be well for patrons to have a supply of these on hand. They can be purchased up town as well as on the grounds.

THE LITTLE-KNOWN "HILLGRAMITE"
(Leviston Journal).
Ever see a Hillgramite? It is a bug. It is good bait for bass. It is carnivorous and is commonly found under stones in streams. When fully grown it leaves the water and becomes a pupa, and after a month changes into an adult insect. The larval stage lasts nearly three years. The adult insect is known as the Dobson fly. One of these insects was found the other day by Herbert Butler of Waterville and only one man could be found in that city who knew the breed. The insect caught by Mr. Butler was about three inches long from the tip of his abdomen to the tip of his wings. He measured about two and one-half inches. The body was about two inches long and was supported by six legs, three on a side. The head was flat and wide and the jaws resembled those of a lobster, opening from side to side instead of up and down. At the time he was captured the fly had a spider in his mouth. The insect isn't often seen in Maine.

THE STORY OF A GOLD PIECE.
(Boston Herald).
In 1840 an attractive 10-year-old girl, brought to Boston to visit a rich uncle who had just returned from European adventures, received from him at parting a $10 gold piece. She kept it as an heirloom. When she died fifty years later she gave it to a favorite niece, who continued to keep it as a memento. It has recently by death passed into the hands of another young woman whose father—of a practical turn of mind—said: "That gold piece has been lying long enough. We will put it to work." And so he deposited it in the bank, but before doing he computed that at 4 per cent interest, a sum which would have been possible on measurably good investments for most of the period, the original gift would have amounted at this date to over $1,200.

Action on the details will be worked out some time next month by Presidents Heydler and Johnson in conference with Commissioner Landis.
