One of the company speaking of the outing today said:
 "In the stress and worry attending our business duties, we are so apt to lose sight of the other fellow, even though he is a worker in the same unit. The daily grind, it must be admitted, has a tendency to make us callous and self-contained. In the discharge of our respective duties we are inclined to forget that anyone else counts."
 "How different the atmosphere and the spirit when meeting together under conditions less restrained and arduous. As we break through our stiff outer shell, we recognize that John has some fine qualities which he did not evidence at his desk; Gertrude Phillips was charged with wandering about and not being able to give a satisfactory account of himself, Hiawatha W. Shearwakenka, a native of the United States, was remanded to jail. Policeman Gorman gave evidence.
 Gertrude Phillips was charged with using threatening language, but the case did not come before the court as it was amicably settled by the parties involved. E. S. Ritchie appeared for the accused.
 Two men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were remanded to jail."

GENERAL SIR HENRY BURSTALL IN CITY TODAY

St. John an Excellent Military Centre, Says Inspector-General.

Leut.-General Sir Henry Burstall, K. C. B., K. C. M. G., A. D. C. to the King, Inspector general of the Canadian forces, arrived in the city this morning from Halifax and was at local military headquarters. He was accompanied by Major W. Neilson, D. S. O., of the R. C. R. The annual inspection of the militia forces in this district will be made this week and this evening the inspection of the St. John Fusiliers and the headquarters and No. 1 machine gun brigade will take place at the armory.

General Burstall has many friends in the city and throughout the province, and during his stay here will renew acquaintances made during the war among the St. John Fusiliers, which unit was in the brigade he commanded in France, and the record and memory of which is preserved in the Fusiliers, under re-organization.

In addition to the general inspection General Burstall is here to assist in the solution of military problems and also to receive suggestions from this district which may be of value to the militia generally.

In conversation with a Times reporter this morning the general said that St. John was a splendid military centre in view of the fact that there was an excellent harbor here, the worth of which was proved during the war, when so many troops and so much war material were transported to the field of battle from this port. The general continued by saying that the militia was not only of importance in case of war, but in time of peace was of civic importance not only to the city but to the entire province, for in it men were trained morally and physically.

REV. G. W. TITUS DECLINES CALL

Former St. John Clergyman to Remain With South Bend Church.

A South Bend, Indiana, paper prints the following article in its issue of Feb. 6 in khaki of Rev. Geo. W. Titus, formerly of St. John, where he visited his old home at Christmas—
 "G. W. Titus, pastor of the First Christian church, has informed the official board of that body that he has declined the call extended to him by the First Christian church of Kendallville, this state, which has been wanting him for the last three months. A unanimous call was sent him a few weeks ago carrying with it a substantial increase in salary and they romie of one of the largest fields in the northern part of the state from a church standpoint."

"In making his statement to the board on Sunday, Mr. Titus thanked the members for their loyalty and co-operation, and suggested that with the execution of the call by the church, the church having taken up the work in the early part of January, 1917, coming here from Indianapolis. Under his pastorate the church has grown steadily until it has now the second largest congregation in the city, and is one of the strongest Christian churches in this section. Its membership is almost 600 while the Sunday congregations are invariably large, the evening services usually so. Wonderful growth has also been noticed in missionary work undertaken by the church, the congregation now supporting a missionary in the Congo district South Africa.
 "The church building, recently damaged by fire, will be finished in three weeks and it is said the auditorium will be one of the most attractive in the city. Plans are now under way to make the opening an impressive one and of spiritual uplift to the congregation."

A Word to those who Contemplate Buying Furniture

—A hat or a suit that will last you one season you would not think of buying unless you had shopped around in a few of your favorite stores.
 —Should not this same rule apply when purchasing furniture—a thing that will last you at least ten years, and in most instances double that time?
 —Furniture is something that you come in contact with every day in your life, and when purchasing it, careful thought and consideration is essential.
 Those who contemplate the purchase of home furnishings in the reasonable future may therefore be safely assured that now is the opportune time to buy.

The fact that Everett puts so much care and thought into all its selections, and presents such unusual and superior home furnishings has perhaps been construed by you as an indication of high prices.
 It is not necessary, however, for you to make a personal comparison of values to convince yourself that you can actually save money by buying at Everett's. The fact is that this store marks all its merchandise in the first place at the lowest price for which it can consistently be sold, and with no anticipation of future reductions.
